A Postcard History of the Passenger Liner Christopher Deakes, 2023-10-01 From around 1880 for almost a hundred years shipowners commissioned a wealth of paintings that depicted their magnificent liners as well as the routes they travelled their exotic destinations and life onboard These paintings rich in imagination and atmosphere appeared on postcards and posters of the day and were used to advertise the companies and their ships and so was born a whole genre that produced tens of thousands of paintings which formed a wonderful record of the great era of the passenger liner In 1900 there were over thirty shipping companies operating passenger liners across the North Atlantic Other oceans were similarly served But now with just a few exceptions the companies and their liners have disappeared along with the art they once inspired Little remains to recall this aspect of our maritime past except the postcards and they tell an evocative story of the vanished world of elegant ships and leisurely travel of social and political times much changed by the history of the past century Here brought vividly to life in more than 500 colourful postcards are the ships on which so many of our predecessors sailed as emigrants soldiers administrators or simply as tourists in days long past These cards which are now highly collectable show how steamships developed over the years but they are also a fine tribute to the artists who painted them This volume also includes a glossary of some 170 illustrators which forms an important reference section and advice on collecting

Deleted Ludvík Středa, Pavilion Books, Marie Tichá, 1997 Jacksonville in Vintage Postcards Jacksonville Historical Society, 2001 The Great Fire of May 3 1901 marked at once the end and the beginning of the City of Jacksonville A thriving port and a center for business and tourism until that point Jacksonville was devastated by the conflagration and yet even before the ashes had cooled a building boom began Prominent and aspiring architects flocked to the area and the opportunities it afforded them to create a twentieth century city Jacksonville's ensuing era of reconstruction and growth which would continue until the United States entered World War I in 1917 helped to define the city's present personality and appearance

Bygone Shanghai A Postcard History from 1890 to 1945 Felicitas Titus, 2017-03-22 A beautiful comprehensive collection of antique China and Shanghai specific postcards which takes you through the colonial era of China 1890 1945 The text is written by Felicitas Titus M A in German and French Languages from U C Berkeley who was born and raised in China during the years of 1925 1950 and who is an expert on Chinese history Her commentary provides just enough explanation of the events and people of that period to make the postcards come alive The entire book is filled with historically significant and lovely images capturing Chinese life at that time
