Singh, Ivan L. Beale, 2012-12-06 It is important to reaffirm the reality of the learning disabilities LD phenomenon as a condition that imposes genuine constraints on a student s ability to function and not as some chimerical entity defined by an ever changing political situation Perceptual memory attention linguistic social cognitive and neuropsychological factors are an integral part of LD By mapping out in great detail and with much new data the acquired knowledge on learning disabilities both empirical and theoretical this book unravels many mysteries This book is a landmark in learning disabilities studies and it lays down solid foundations for future research and practical intervention in the field      Assessment for Reading Instruction Katherine A. Dougherty Stahl, Kevin Flanigan, Michael C. McKenna, 2019-12-09 This book provides a comprehensive conceptual framework and hands on practical tools for reading assessment The authors present a clear roadmap for evaluating K 8 students strengths and weaknesses in each of the basic competencies that good readers need to master Teachers learn how to select administer and interpret a wide range of formal and informal assessments and how to use the results to improve instruction In a large size format for easy photocopying the book includes 30 reproducible assessment tools Provided by publisher      Measuring Writing: Recent Insights into Theory, Methodology and Practice Elke van Steendam, Marion Tillema, Gert Rijlaarsdam, Huub van den Bergh, 2012-11-20 This volume provides a state of the art overview of theory methodology and practices in the assessment of writing The focus throughout the book is on the construct of writing and its assessment what constitutes writing ability and how can it be defined in various contexts This question cannot be answered without looking into the methodological question of how to validate and measure the construct of writing ability Throughout the book therefore discussions integrate theoretical and methodological issues A number of chapters discusses whether varying definitions and varying operationalizations of writing ability are needed in various contexts such as formative assessments versus summative assessments large scale assessments versus individual assessments different tasks different genres and different languages but also different age groups A range of rating methods is investigated and discussed in this book The ongoing debate on holistic versus analytic ratings and the different underlying conceptions of writing proficiency is a pertinent matter on which a number of chapters in this volume shed new light The matter is discussed and analyzed from various angles such as generalizability of judgements and usability in formative contexts Another fundamental debate concerns computer scoring of written products A nuanced discussion of its validity is presented in this volume      Literacy for the New Millennium: Childhood literacy Barbara J. Guzzetti, 2007 Living in an age of communication literacy is an extremely integral part of our society We are impacted by literature during our infancy childhood adolescence and adulthood This work includes information from specialists in the field who discuss the influence of popular culture media and technology on literacy Together they offer a comprehensive outline of the study and practice of literacy in the United States The first volume Early Literacy covers infancy and early childhood Topics such as oral language development phonics beginning writing storytelling and drama and instruction for second language learners and special needs children are all addressed Volume two Childhood Literacy includes information on popular approaches to reading instruction children s literature spelling computer and instructional technology book clubs and after school programs Adolescent Literacy the third volume covers supplementary literacy programs for at risk adolescents literacy tutors young adult literature gender issues digital literacy and blogging
