Cognition and Interaction: From Computers to Smart Objects and Autonomous Agents Amon Rapp, Maurizio Tirassa, Tom Ziemke, 2019-10-10 Cognitive sciences have been involved under numerous accounts to explain how humans interact with technology as well as to design technological instruments tailored to human needs As technological advancements in fields like wearable and ubiquitous computing virtual reality robotics and artificial intelligence are presenting novel modalities for interacting with technology there are opportunities for deepening exploring and even rethinking the theoretical foundations of human technology use This volume entitled Cognition and Interaction From Computers to Smart Objects and Autonomous Agents is a collection of articles on the impacts that novel 3 September Frontiers in Psychology 2019 Cognition and Interaction interactive technologies are producing on individuals It puts together 17 works spanning from research on social cognition in human robot interaction to studies on neural changes triggered by Internet use that tackle relevant technological and theoretical issues in human computer interaction encouraging us to rethink how we conceptualize technology its use and development The volume addresses fundamental issues at different levels The first part revolves around the biological impacts that technologies are producing on our bodies and brains The second part focuses on the psychological level exploring how our psychological characteristics may affect the way we use understand and perceive technology as well as how technology is changing our cognition The third part addresses relevant theoretical problems presenting reflections that aim to reframe how we conceptualize ourselves technology and interaction itself Finally the last part of the volume pays attention to the factors involved in the design of technological artifacts providing suggestions on how we can develop novel technologies closer to human needs Overall it appears that human computer interaction will have to face a variety of challenges to account for the rapid changes we are witnessing in the current technology landscape

Palliative Care Nursing Marianne Matzo, Marianne L. Matzo, Deborah Witt Sherman, 2018-06-28 This 5th edition is an important achievement it is a symbol of commitment to the field of palliative nursing where we have been and where we are going Betty Rolling Ferrell PhD MA FAAN FPCN CHPN From the Foreword The aging population has only grown since the first edition of this comprehensive and seminal publication nearly 20 years ago Based on the need to humanize rather than medicalize the illness experience for patients this text delves into palliative care beyond the specific diseases affecting the patient Instead content focuses on the whole person and family Palliative patients struggle with chronic debilitating and painful conditions and grapple with the fact that life as they knew it has already passed away Families and friends reciprocally suffer not knowing how to help and therefore become the secondary victims of the disease This is not the challenge of a lone nurse or a single physician therapist or social worker Rather palliative and hospice care requires the expertise and unique roles of an interprofessional team to help the patient and family strengthen their resilience continue to find meaning and purpose in life and cure what can be cured Palliative Care Nursing Fifth Edition delivers advanced empirical aesthetic ethical and personal knowledge This new edition brings an increased focus on outcomes benchmarking progress and goals of care It expounds upon the importance of the cross disciplinary collaboration introduced in the previous edition Every chapter in Sections I II and III includes content written by a non nursing member of the interprofessional team Based on best evidence and clinical practice guidelines this text presents comprehensive targeted interventions responsive to the needs of palliative and hospice patients and family Each chapter contains compassionate timely appropriate and cost effective care for diverse populations across the illness trajectory Key Features The expanded new edition offers current comprehensive one stop source of highly relevant clinical information on palliative care Life span approach age appropriate nursing considerations e g geriatric pediatric and family Includes disease specific and symptom specific nursing management chapters Promotes a holistic and interdisciplinary approach to palliative care Offers important legal ethical and cultural considerations related to death and dying Case Studies with Case Study Conclusion in each clinical chapter New to The Fifth Edition An expanded chapter on Palliative Care incorporates most up to date scope and standards information on Basic and Advanced HPNA certification self reflection and self care for nurses A chapter on Interprofessional Collaboration Instructor Resources Power points and Test bank Social Justice in Teacher Education: Equity, Diversity, Inclusion Tara Ratnam, Elaine Chan, Darlene Ciuffetelli Parker, 2022-08-09 Exploring Human-Computer Interactions in Virtual Performance and Learning in the Context of Rehabilitation. Danielle Levac, Tal Krasovsky, Wendy A. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on the Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies, 2017 Machine Vision and Machine Learning for Plant Phenotyping and Precision Agriculture Huajian Liu, Zhanyou Xu, 2024-01-18 Plant phenotyping PP describes the physiological and biochemical properties of plants affected by both genotypes and environments It is an emerging research field that is assisting the breeding and cultivation of new crop varieties to be more productive and resilient to challenging environments Precision agriculture PA uses sensing technologies to observe crops and then manage them optimally to ensure that they grow in healthy conditions have maximum productivity and have minimal negative effects on the environment. Traditionally the observation of plant traits heavily relies on human experts which is labor intensive, time consuming, and subjective. Automatic crop traits measurement in PP and PA are two different fields but they share the same sensing and data processing technologies in many respects. Recently driven by computer and sensor technologies, machine vision (MV) and machine learning (ML) have contributed to accurate, high throughput, and nondestructive plant phenotyping and precision agriculture. However, these technologies are still in their infant stage and there are many challenges and questions related to them that still need to be addressed. The goal of this Research Topic is to provide a platform to share the latest research results on the application of MV and ML for PP and PA. It aims to highlight cutting edge technologies, bottlenecks, and future research directions for MV and ML in crop breeding, crop cultivation, disease management, weed control, and pest control. The Application of Artificial Intelligence in Brain-Computer Interface and Neural System Rehabilitation Fangzhou Xu, Dong Ming, Tzyy-Ping Jung, Peng Xu, Minpeng Xu, 2023-11-15 Advances in Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning Applications for the Imaging of Bone and Soft Tissue Tumors Brandon K. K. Fields, George R. Matcuk Jr., Bino A. Varghese, 2025-01-03. Increasing interest in the development and validation of quantitative imaging biomarkers for oncologic imaging has in recent years inspired a surge in the field of artificial intelligence and machine learning. Initial results showed promise in identifying potential markers of treatment response, malignant potential, and prognostic predictors among others; however, while many of these early algorithms showed the optimistic ability to separate pathologic states on in-house datasets, it was often the case that these classifiers generalized poorly on external validation sets and thus were of limited utility in the clinical setting. This issue was additionally compounded by the frequent use of data filtering and feature selection techniques in many studies to further bolster the machine learning results in limited case scenarios, thereby biasing the overall fit and further reducing generalizability.
