Asian Biotech Aihwa Ong, Nancy N. Chen, 2010-11-05 Ethnographic analyses of emerging bioscientific enterprises in Asia including genetically modified foods in China clinical trials in India and stem cell research in Singapore South Korea and Taiwan

Bioethics Beyond Altruism Rhonda M Shaw, 2017-08-31 This book departs from conventional bioethics approaches to consider the different moral and political economies involved in the donation and transformation of human organs gametes stem cells and breastmilk Collectively the authors draw attention to the different values associated with research and therapy on body part and tissue exchange through an examination of altruism gift and commodity relations They expertly discuss issues such as the bioethical conundrums around the circulation and use of human biological materials and services as well as their legal and regulatory limits the economic benefits and health values attributed to various body parts and products and the matter of immaterial labour and affective relations between donors recipients and others involved in tissue provision Based on new empirical research this interdisciplinary collection of original and timely essays will be of interest to students and researchers in gender and cultural studies sociology anthropology science and technology studies as well as medical professionals with an interest in health and reproduction

Stem Cell Research in Asia Margaret Sleeboom-Faulkner, 2016-03-22 The great hurry to realise promised cures in stem cell research requires regulation to guarantee bioethical research practices Yet increasingly similar national guidelines for stem cell research yields a range of diverging research practices This book shows how the different rationale of regulation affects stem cell research practices in Asia In low and medium income countries such as India and China the advancement of science has a different weight on the national agenda and the evaluation of scientific research is measured with a different yardstick depending on the political and national research environment For developing countries the question of research funding into stem cell research healthcare and the donation of embryos foetuses and oocytes entail different considerations compared to in affluent welfare societies Moreover research institutions have different cultural and political histories so that the meaning of formal guidelines legislation and social rules may differ according to their various institutional settings This volume discusses the informal cultures social conventions and traditions that are crucial to the way in which stem cell research takes place in Asia This book was originally published as a special issue of New Genetics and Society

Realities and Aspirations for Asian Youth Suzanne Naafs, Tracey Skelton, 2020-06-09 This comprehensive volume explores the remarkable expansion of higher education systems and institutions in Asia in recent decades alongside changing forms of consumerism mobility and global economic conditions It demonstrates how recent changes in training education and employment have sparked new aspirations for possible and desirable livelihoods among the younger generation while also generating fresh problems and tensions The authors in this volume critically interrogate the links between education and employment normative understandings about youth and adulthood as well as personal national and regional level aspirations for economic success

Comparative chapters on Cambodia China Hong Kong India Indonesia Japan Laos Nepal Singapore and Taiwan illustrate how young people are having to forge innovative pathways into the future while being confronted with ever increasing insecurities Offering important insights into the kinds of education and employment landscapes that Asian youth are navigating reworking or trying to avoid this collection is an essential reference for students and scholars of Asian Studies Cultural Anthropology Development Studies Human Geography and Youth Studies This book was originally published as a special issue of the journal Children's Geographies South Asian Tissue Economies Jacob Copeman, 2015-09-07 Questions of the social implications of biotechnology and biological exchange the extraction of human tissues such as blood skin and organs for testing storage and or distribution for therapeutic or research purposes have recently been brought strongly to the analytical fore across the social sciences This book focuses on the variegated biopolitical milieus of this kind of exchange specifically in South Asia It ranges widely theoretically thematically and regionally in examining South Asian variants of and engagements with diverse modes of biological exchange caste gender and blood donation in Pakistan DNA testing amongst a former Untouchable community in south India and amongst diasporic Indians in Houston Texas body cadaveric donation in India the use of fake blood in Bangladeshi cinema the mobilisation of blood hearts and ketones to protest the Indian government's failure to provide redress or care to victims of the 1984 Bhopal industrial disaster and blood based political portraits and petitions in south India In considering this complex of issues this book extends the parameters of classic accounts of the role of substance transactions in the production of South Asian personhood into investigations of the biopolitics and economies of substance that shape people and communities in diverse parts of the subcontinent describing findings that illuminate how local responses to the implementation of various kinds of tissue economy both reflect and also transform socio cultural values in South Asia This book was published as a special issue of Contemporary South Asia

Worlding Cities Ananya Roy, Aihwa Ong, 2011-08-15 Worlding Cities is the first serious examination of Asian urbanism to highlight the connections between different Asian models and practices of urbanization It includes important contributions from a respected group of scholars across a range of generations disciplines and sites of study Describes the new theoretical framework of worlding Substantially expands and updates the themes of capital and culture Includes a unique collection of authors across generations disciplines and sites of study Demonstrates how references to Asian power success and hegemony make possible urban development and limit urban politics Biolegality Sonja van Wichelen, Marc de Leeuw, 2024-06-26 This book provides a comprehensive analysis of the empirical and theoretical problems posed by the encounter between law and biology in the twenty first century How does biotechnology and new bioscientific knowledge affect our legal institutions our sense of justice and our ways of relating to one another To answer these questions authors Marc de Leeuw and Sonja van Wichelen examine the complex and often contested ways in which biotechnology and biological knowledge are reworked by with and against legal knowledge As this book shows recent developments in the life sciences including molecular biology immunology and the neurosciences and their applications in forensics medicine and agriculture test longstanding legal forms such as property personhood parenthood and collective identity ultimately constituting the current field of biolegality The authors argue that these biolegal contestations represent philosophical and anthropological challenges to existing understandings of exchange self kinship and community By addressing how biology and law inform new ways of relating and knowing the book proposes a programmatic intervention asserting the pivotal role the study of biolegality plays in advancing social and political theory

The Transplant Imaginary Lesley A. Sharp, 2014 In The Transplant Imaginary author Lesley Sharp explores the extraordinarily surgically successful realm of organ transplantation which is plagued worldwide by the scarcity of donated human parts a quandary that generates ongoing debates over the marketing of organs as patients die waiting for replacements These widespread anxieties within and beyond medicine over organ scarcity inspire seemingly futuristic trajectories in other fields Especially prominent longstanding and promising domains include xenotransplantation or efforts to cull fleshy organs from animals for human use and bioengineering a field peopled with tinkerers intent on designing implantable mechanical devices where the heart is of special interest Scarcity suffering and sacrifice are pervasive and seemingly inescapable themes that frame the transplant imaginary Xenotransplant experts and bioengineers at work in labs in five Anglophone countries share a marked determination to eliminate scarcity and human suffering certain that their efforts might one day altogether eliminate any need for parts of human origin A premise that drives Sharp's compelling ethnographic project is that high stakes experimentation inspires moral thinking informing scientists determination to redirect the surgical trajectory of transplantation and ultimately alter the integrity of the human form

The Market in Mind Mark Dennis Robinson, 2019-07-23 A critical examination of translational medicine when private risk is transferred to the public sector and university research teams become tech startups for global investors A global shift has secretly transformed science and medicine Starting in 2003 biomedical research in the West has been reshaped by the emergence of translational science and medicine the idea that the aim of research is to translate findings as quickly as possible into medical products In The Market in Mind Mark Dennis Robinson charts this shift arguing that the new research paradigm has turned university research teams into small biotechnology startups and their industry partners into early stage investment firms There is also a larger surprising consequence from this shift according to Robinson translational science and medicine enable biopharmaceutical firms as part of a broader financial strategy to outsource the riskiest parts of research to nonprofit universities Robinson examines the implications of this new configuration What happens for example when universities absorb unknown levels of risk Robinson argues that in the years since the global financial crisis translational science and medicine has brought about the financialization of health Robinson explores such topics as shareholder anxiety and industry retreat from Alzheimer's and depression research how laboratory research is understood as health innovation even when there is no product the emergence of investor networking events as crucial for viewing science in a market context and the place of patients in research decisions Although translational medicine justifies itself by the goal of relieving patients suffering Robinson finds patients voices largely marginalized in translational neuroscience      At the Limits of Cure Bharat Jayram Venkat,2021-08-23 Drawing on historical and ethnographic research on tuberculosis in India Bharat Jayram Venkat explores what it means to be cured and what it means for a cure to be partial temporary or selectively effective      Fungible Life Aihwa Ong,2016-10-13 In Fungible Life Aihwa Ong explores the dynamic world of cutting edge bioscience research offering critical insights into the complex ways Asian bioscientific worlds and cosmopolitan sciences are entangled in a tropical environment brimming with the threat of emergent diseases At biomedical centers in Singapore and China scientists map genetic variants disease risks and biomarkers mobilizing ethnicized Asian bodies and health data for genomic research Their differentiation between Chinese Indian and Malay DNA makes fungible Singapore's ethnic stratified databases that come to represent majority populations in Asia By deploying genomic science as a public good researchers reconfigure the relationships between objects peoples and spaces thus rendering Asia itself as a shifting entity In Ong's analysis Asia emerges as a richly layered mode of entanglements where the population's genetic pasts anxieties and hopes shared genetic weaknesses and embattled genetic futures intersect Furthermore her illustration of the contrasting methods and goals of the Biopolis biomedical center in Singapore and BGI Genomics in China raises questions about the future direction of cosmopolitan science in Asia and beyond      Identity, Inequity and Inequality in India and China Ayo Wahlberg,2017-07-05 This volume explores how difference is constructed manifested mobilised and obscured in socially uneven societies particularly those fuelled by neoliberal economic growth in the recent years The book approaches difference as a double edged concept that allows one to make sense of the tensions that are played out between cosmopolitan convergence and multicultural diversity between expanding middle classes and increasingly disenfranchised poor groups between the global and the local The chapters in this volume present a series of empirical explorations of how difference is articulated desired levelled governed and even subverted in the socio economically uneven landscapes of India and China They examine how difference emerges out of daily practice categorisation processes dividing practices nation building efforts and identity projects Through these empirical studies we see how difference is articulated along a number of axes differentiations of groups or persons according to hierarchies of superiority inferiority the demarcation of difference as something that is potentially disruptive and therefore in need of containment the celebration of difference as diversity and finally the ways in which difference comes to be internalised in the shaping of individual identities Another common theme that binds a number of contributions is the exploration of the role of the state in constructing and controlling these differences and the ways in which these interventions rearrange the social political landscapes This book was published as a special issue of Third World Quarterly      Avian Reservoirs Frédéric Keck,2020-01-17 After experiencing the SARS outbreak in 2003 Hong Kong Singapore and Taiwan all invested in various techniques to mitigate future pandemics involving myriad cross species interactions between humans and birds In some locations microbiologists allied with veterinarians and birdwatchers to follow the mutations of flu viruses in birds and humans and create preparedness strategies while in others public health officials worked toward preventing pandemics by killing thousands of birds In Avian Reservoirs Frédéric Keck offers a comparative analysis of these responses tracing how the anticipation of bird flu pandemics has changed relations between birds and humans in China Drawing on anthropological theory and ethnographic fieldwork Keck demonstrates that varied strategies dealing with the threat of pandemics stockpiling vaccines and samples in Taiwan simulating pandemics in Singapore and monitoring viruses and disease vectors in Hong Kong reflect local geopolitical relations to mainland China In outlining how interactions among pathogens birds and humans shape the way people imagine future pandemics Keck illuminates how interspecies relations are crucial for protecting against such threats 圖書館 圖書館,2023-12-20 L on de Rosen 1957 1968 2003 SARS 2019 Covid 19

Neuroliberalism Mark Whitehead,Rhys Jones,Rachel Lilley,Jessica Pykett,Rachel Howell,2017-09-11 Many governments in the developed world can now best be described as neuroliberal having a combination of neoliberal principles with policy initiatives derived from insights in the behavioural sciences Neuroliberalism presents the results of the first critical global study of the impacts of the behavioural sciences on public policy and government actions including behavioural economics behavioural psychology and neuroeconomics Drawing on interviews with leading behaviour change experts organizations and policy makers and discussed in alignment with a series of international case studies this volume provides a critical analysis of the ethical economic political and constitutional implications of behaviourally oriented government It explores the impacts of the behavioural sciences on everyday life through a series of themes including understandings of the human subject interpretations of freedom the changing form and function of the state the changing role of the corporation in society and the design of everyday environments and technologies The research presented in this volume reveals a diverse set of neuroliberal approaches to government that offer policy makers and behaviour change professionals a real choice in relation to the systems of behavioural government they can implement This book also argues that the behavioural sciences have the potential to support much more effective systems of government but also generate new ethical concerns that policy makers should be aware of
