,1996 The Education of d/Deaf and Hard of Hearing Children Peter V. Paul,2020-02-12 A significant number of d/Deaf and hard of hearing d/Dhh children and adolescents experience challenges in acquiring a functional level of English language and literacy skills in the United States and elsewhere To provide an understanding of this issue this book explores the theoretical underpinnings and synthesizes major research findings It also covers critical controversial areas such as the use of assistive hearing devices language and literacy assessments and inclusion Although the targeted population is children and adolescents who are d/Dhh contributors found it necessary to apply our understanding of the development of English in other populations of struggling readers and writers such as children with language or literacy disabilities and those for whom English is not the home language Collectively this information should assist scholars in conducting further research and enable educators to develop general instructional guidelines and strategies to improve the language and literacy levels of d/Dhh students It is clear that there is not a one size fits all concept but rather research and instruction should be differentiated to meet the needs of d/Dhh students It is our hope that this book stimulates further theorizing and research and most importantly offers evidence and reason based practices for improving language and literacy abilities of d/Dhh students

Deaf Subjects Brenda Jo Brueggemann,2009-05 In this probing exploration of what it means to be deaf Brenda Brueggemann goes beyond any simple notion of identity politics to explore the very nature of identity itself Looking at a variety of cultural texts she brings her fascination with borders and between places to expose and enrich our understanding of how deafness embodies itself in the world in the visual and in language Taking on the creation of the modern deaf subject Brueggemann ranges from the intersections of gender and deafness in the work of photographers Mary and Frances Allen at the turn of the last century to the state of the field of Deaf Studies at the beginning of our new century She explores the power and potential of American Sign Language wedged as she sees it between letter bound language and visual ways of learning and argues for a rhetorical approach and digital future for ASL literature The narration of deaf lives through writing becomes a pivot around which to imagine how digital media and documentary can be used to convey deaf life stories Finally she expands our notion of diversity within the deaf identity itself takes on the complex relationship between deaf and hearing people and offers compelling illustrations of the intertwined and sometimes knotted nature of individual and collective identities within Deaf culture
