Sina Laura Rautmann,2017-07-14 Seminar paper from the year 2016 in the subject Didactics for the subject English Literature Works grade 1 3 Leuphana Universit t L neburg language English abstract Again the Holocaust is the answer a lot of pupils ask when the topic is brought up in school This might derive from the way the holocaust is taught mainly fact based without personal encounter of survivors or personal stories A different approach could be to read novels and memoirs of holocaust survivors to bring more personal aspects into the classroom But my hypotheses is that in order to understand those novels the readers need historical basic knowledge about the holocaust I assume that memoir authors use symbols and images that refer to the happenings without further explanation By doing this they leave more space for personal and emotional stories that cannot be found in pure fact based books or encyclopedias about the holocaust To get a full picture of the holocaust and understand the novels completely the reader needs to know the meaning of certain symbols for example chimneys or death marches In order to analyze this theory I am going to use historical literature as a reference point to see what events are neutrally described and taught as facts Then I will compare these facts to the novels The Complete Maus by Art Spiegelman and Night by Elie Wiesel to see whether they took time to explain the events more detailed or whether they just refer to a symbol or happening that would be counted as common knowledge First I will give an introduction to the novels to summarize their story and highlight peculiarities and differences In this part I will also give an overview over the historical literature that will be the basis for this paper In the second part I will highlight the most important facts symbols and images that are connected with holocaust events and recognized as general knowledge I will explain them shortly and present passages from the books that refer to these events In the end I will test my hypotheses and explain whether it has been proven as a true statement or not I will present my conclusion on the importance of memoirs and historical resources for a general overview on the topic of the Holocaust and NS regimes Witness Between Languages Peter Davies, Peter J. Davies, 2018 A growing body of scholarship is making visible the contribution of translators to the creation preservation and transmission of knowledge about the Holocaust The discussion has tended to be theoretical or to concentrate on exposing the distorted translations of texts by important witnesses such as Anne Frank or Elie Wiesel There is therefore a need for a positive concrete and contextually aware approach to the translation of Holocaust testimonies that acknowledges the achievements of translators while being sensitive to the consequences of particular translation strategies Peter Davies's study proceeds from the assumption that translators are active co creators whose work does not simply mediate a pre existing text but creates a representation of that text for a new readership in a specific context Translators of Holocaust testimonies then provide a form of textual commentary that works through ideas about witnessing historical truth and the meaning of the Holocaust In this way they are important co creators of knowledge about the Holocaust and its legacy The study focuses on translations between English and German and from other languages principally French Russian and Polish into English and German It works through a number of case studies showing how making translation and its effects visible contributes to a clearer understanding of how knowledge about the Holocaust has been and continues to be created and mediated Peter Davies is Professor of German at the University of Edinburgh

Ethics and Suffering since the Holocaust Ingrid L Anderson,2016-05-26 For many the Holocaust made thinking about ethics in traditional ways impossible It called into question the predominance of speculative ontology in Western thought and left many arguing that Western political cultural and philosophical inattention to universal ethics were both a cause and an effect of European civilization s collapse in the twentieth century Emmanuel Levinas Elie Wiesel and Richard Rubenstein respond to this problem by insisting that ethics must be Western thought s first concern Unlike previous thinkers they locate humanity s source of universal ethical obligation in the temporal world of experience where human suffering rather than metaphysics provides the ground for ethical engagement All three thinkers contend that Judaism s key lesson is that our fellow human is our responsibility and use Judaism to develop a contemporary ethics that could operate with or without God Ethics and Suffering since the Holocaust explores selected works of Levinas Wiesel and Rubenstein for practical applications of their ethics analyzing the role of suffering and examining the use each thinker makes of Jewish sources and the advantages and disadvantages of this use Finally it suggests how the work of Jewish thinkers living in the wake of the Holocaust can be of unique value to those interested in the problem of ethics in the twentieth and twenty first centuries Presenting a thorough investigation of the work of Levinas Wiesel and Rubinstein this book is of key interest to students and scholars of Jewish studies as well as Jewish ethics and philosophy
