

"The Second Coming" by W.B. Yeats Multiple Choice

Directions: These questions are based on the poem "The Second Coming" by W.B. Yeats and refer to the poem's content, form, and style.

Questions 1-12. Read the poem carefully before selecting your answers.

Turning and turning in the widening gyre
The falcon cannot hear the falconer;
Things fall apart; the centre cannot hold;
More anarchy is loosed upon the world,
„The blood-dimmed tide is loosed, and everywhere
The ceremony of innocence is drowned;
The best lack all conviction, while the worst
Are full of passionate intensity.

Surely some revelation is at hand;
„Surely the Second Coming is at hand.
The Second Coming! Hardly are those words out
When a vast image out of Spiritus Mundi
Troubles my sight: somewhere in sands of the desert
A shape with lion body and the head of a man,
„A gaze blank and pitiless as the sun,
Is moving its slow thighs, while all about it
Roast shadows of the indignant desert birds.
The darkness drops again; but now I know
That twenty centuries of stony sleep
„Were vexed to nightmare by a rocking cradle,
And what rough beast, its hour come round at last,
Slouches towards Bethlehem to be born?

1. The difference between the first and second stanzas is best described as:

- (A) the first has a definite rhyme scheme, and the second does not
- (B) the first contains imagery predicting the Second Coming, which the second confirms
- (C) the first asks a question about time, which is clearly answered in the second
- (D) the first develops a metaphor about life, while the second contains that comparison
- (E) the first lacks specific details, and the second provides concrete descriptions

2. The use of caesuras in lines 2-5 ("The falcon... everywhere")

- (A) conveys unending and limitless destruction
- (B) illustrates the unpredictable nature of chaos
- (C) presents a contrast to anarchy
- (D) highlights the falcon's plight as dark and empty
- (E) breaks blood-shed into manageable parts

3. The question to end the poem (lines 21-22)

- (A) provides readers some comfort regarding the end of the world
- (B) restates a previously posed inquiry about evil
- (C) delivers an unexpected climax regarding the darkness about to descend
- (D) answers an idea posed about death in the first stanza
- (E) showcases uncertainty about coming events

4. The juxtaposition in lines 7-8 ("The best ... intensity")

- (A) contrasts good and evil
- (B) explores the reasons behind the Second Coming
- (C) compares a fertile beast to new life
- (D) presents a cause for the lack of conviction
- (E) shows the spending of order

5. According to the poem, the Second Coming is most likely

- (A) to bring terror
- (B) to inspire change
- (C) to develop hope
- (D) to rid the world of evil
- (E) to destroy earth

Entrance Examination Manish Arora, Building a Validity Argument for a Listening Test of Academic Proficiency Vahid Aryadoust, 2013-07-26 Over the years various approaches to validation have emerged in psychological and educational assessment research which can be classified into traditional approaches and modern approaches Traditional approaches view validity as a multicomponential concept including for example content construct and predictive validity while modern approaches conceptualize it as a unitary concept evaluated through argumentation Drawing on the modern approach this book builds a validity argument for an International English Language Testing System IELTS listening test sample The book provides some insights into the listening sub skills that the test engages the psychometric dimensionality of the test variables that predict item difficulty parameters bias across age nationality test experience and gender as well as predictive referenced evidence of validity A variety of techniques including the Rasch model and structural equation modelling are used to answer the research questions and to build a validity argument framework this argument organizes the thematically related findings into a coherent treatment of the validity of the listening test The book presents the first treatment of validity argument and related analytical tools in one volume and maps the psychometric statistical analysis tools onto the validity argument framework It also provides an extensive literature review of listening comprehension validation and psychometric modeling and proposes both methods for developing and validating self assessment instruments and novel approaches to improving the quality of language assessments Assessment, Testing and Evaluation in English-Medium Education from a Global Perspective Jack Pun, Samantha Curle, Pramod K. Sah, 2025-06-26 This book examines assessment testing and evaluation within English medium education contexts globally It explores how assessments can effectively measure learning outcomes integrating both content mastery and language proficiency in multilingual and multicultural classrooms It features contributions from diverse experts worldwide and offers a comprehensive analysis of assessment practices emerging trends and their implications for teaching and learning The authors emphasise inclusivity equity and effectiveness in English medium instruction EMI assessment The chapters address a range of topics within assessment including designing assessments for both content and language goals addressing challenges in EMI assessment and incorporating emerging practices such as formative assessments and translanguaging The book also discusses policy influences on EMI assessment teacher assessment literacy and the role of innovative technologies like AI in EMI assessments It provides practical examples and strategies aiming to enhance EMI assessment practices and bridge the gap between theory and classroom implementation Literature, Pedagogy, and Curriculum in Secondary Education M. Martin Guiney, 2017-05-31 This book argues for the importance of literature studies using the historical debate between the disinterested disciplines art for art s sake and utilitarian or productive disciplines Forgoing the traditional argument that literature is a unique spiritual resource as well as the utilitarian thought that literary pedagogy promotes skills that are relevant to a post industrial economy Guiney suggests that literary pedagogy must enable mutual access between the classroom and the outside world It must recognize the need for every human being to become a conscious producer of culture rather than a consumer through an active process of literary reading and writing Using the history of French curricular reforms as a case study for his analysis Guiney provides a contextualized redefinition of literature s social value Handbook of College and University Teaching James E. ### Multiple Representations in Physics Education

David F. Treagust, Reinders Duit, Hans E. Fischer, 2017-07-24 This volume is important because despite various external representations such as analogies metaphors and visualizations being commonly used by physics teachers educators and researchers the notion of using the pedagogical functions of multiple representations to support teaching and learning is still a gap in physics education The research presented in the three sections of the book is introduced by descriptions of various psychological theories that are applied in different ways for designing physics teaching and learning in classroom settings The following chapters of the book illustrate teaching and learning with respect to applying specific physics multiple representations in different levels of the education system and in different physics topics using analogies and models different modes and in reasoning and representational competence When multiple representations are used in physics for teaching the expectation is that they should be successful To ensure this is the case the implementation of representations should consider design principles for using multiple representations Investigations regarding their effect on classroom communication as well as on the learning results in all levels of schooling and for different topics of physics are reported The book is intended for physics educators and their students at universities and for physics teachers in schools to apply multiple representations in physics in a productive way
