Lo Final Examination November Grade 11 2013:

Somebody Should Do Something Michael Brownstein, Alex Madva, Daniel Kelly, 2025-09-16 A novel and scientific approach to creating transformative social change and the surprising ways that each of us can help make a real difference Changing the world is difficult One reason is that the most important problems like climate change racism and poverty are structural They emerge from our collective practices laws economies history culture norms and built environments The dilemma is that there is no way to make structural change without individual people making different more structure facing decisions In Somebody Should Do Something Michael Brownstein Alex Madva and Daniel Kelly show us how we can connect our personal choices to structural change and why individual choices matter though not in the way people usually think The authors paint a new picture of how social change happens arguing that our most powerful personal choices are those that springboard us into working together with others warehouse worker Chris Smalls's unionization at Amazon is one powerful example Taking inspiration from the writer Bill McKibben they stress how one important thing an individual can do is be somewhat less of an individual Organized into three main parts the book first diagnoses the problem of either or thinking about social change which stems from the false choice of making better personal choices or changing the system Then it offers a different way to think about social change anchored in a new picture of human nature emerging across the social sciences Finally the authors explore ways of putting this picture into practice Neither a how to manual nor an activist's guide Somebody Should Do Something pairs stories with science plus some jokes to help readers recognize their own power turning resignation about climate change and racial injustice into actions that transform the world Justice Required Robert J. Durán, Oralia Loza, 2025-10-07 Police have remarkably broad discretion to use deadly force Evidence shows that more than 1 000 shooting deaths occur each year at the hands of the police in the United States disproportionately in minority communities and often under questionable circumstances Despite public outrage there continue to be obstacles to assessing the extent of bias and addressing the harms of police violence including a lack of transparency and limitations on access to data Justice Required is a groundbreaking quantitative and qualitative investigation of police violence Robert J Dur n and Oralia Loza provide a comprehensive data analysis of all police shootings in Denver Colorado over nearly forty years highlighting persistent patterns of racial and ethnic inequality They examine the institutional and political dynamics that thwart efforts to hold police officers accountable after controversial incidents Dur n and Loza contextualize the data with regional comparisons and enliven the analysis with vivid storytelling Justice Required argues that while police shootings are typically treated as a criminal justice issue they should be understood as a public health problem Rigorous and urgent this book provides evidence based data driven solutions to prevent further loss of life and promote accountability
