Lovedale Application Forms 2016:

The Times Do Not Permit Christine Lucia, 2024-10-01 This biography of Michael Mosoeu Moerane 1904 1980 surveys the unique life times and music of the first classically educated African composer in southern Africa Publishing from the South Sarah Nuttall, Isabel Hofmeyr, 2024-11 In 2022 Wits University Press marked its centenary making it the oldest most established university press in sub Saharan Africa While in part modelled on scholarly publishers from the global North it has had to contend with the constraints of working under global South conditions marginalisation within the university budgetary limitations small local markets unequal access to international sales channels and the privileging of English language publishing over indigenous languages This volume explores what the Press has achieved and what its modes of reinvention might look like In widening and deepening our understanding of the Press as an example of a global South scholarly publisher this volume asks how publishing can contribute to a broader understanding of Southern knowledge production Featuring contributions from scholars publishers and authors this multi voiced volume showcases the history of the Press s publishing activities over 100 years from documenting its evolution through book covers and giving credence to some of the leading black intellectuals and writers of the early 20th century and the success of those works in spite of their authors racial marginalisation to the role of women both in publishing and in the spaces afforded to women s writing on the Press s list The collection concludes with essays by contemporary authors who detail not only their experiences of working with Southern publishers but also the politics and influences governing their decisions to choose the Press over a Northern publisher Publishing from the South shows the strategies deployed by the Press to professionalise Southern knowledge making and in the process demonstrating how university presses in the global South support the scholarly missions of their universities for both local and global audiences The Education Gazette of the Province of the Cape of Good Hope, 1947 The Education Gazette Cape of Good Hope (South Africa). Education Department, 1947 Sol Plaatje's Mhudi Sabata-mpho Mokahe, Brian Willan, 2021 Sol Plaatje s Mhudi is the first full length novel in English to have been written by a black South African and is widely regarded as one of South Africa s most important literary works Set in the 1830s it tells the tale of Mhudi and Ra Thaga a romantic story set against a violent backdrop of war between Barolong and Matebele complicated by the intrusions of Boer trekkers with whom the Barolong form an alliance It is notable among other things for the way Plaatje uses the past to explore the roots of the oppression and injustice suffered by his people a century later when the book was written Page 4 of cover The Transformative Power of Language Russell H. Kaschula, H. Ekkehard Wolff, 2020-09-10 A new study of the importance of language for sociocultural change in Africa from postcolonial to globally competitive knowledge societies Down the Baakens Underworld Brian Walter, 2024-11-08 My first two collections Tracks and Baakens were written and published while I lived in Alice or eDikeni at the marsh 1 on the banks of the Thyume River and taught at the University of Fort Hare I was honoured to be asked by the Reverend Bongani Ntisana to submit a collection which became Tracks to be considered for publication in honour of the 175th anniversary of Lovedale Press Thus Lovedale led me into the world of publishing and I shall always be grateful to the Press and the staff there with some of whom I am still in contact In my mind I can't separate these texts from their Lovedale origins and it was with a sense of nostalgia that I asked the Press to release the books that had once appeared separately for republication in a different format The reprinting was occasioned by a few considerations starting with Baakens which I always felt was not yet done and which needed more editing This was only a niggle until the name of Port Elizabeth was changed to Gqeberha the old Khoi word for the Baakens The name Gqeberha is also the name of the Walmer Township the subject of much debate when I was young as the Nationalists wished to bulldoze it down as they had done to other nearby areas Thus the word was in the air However the word Gqeberha did not appear in the first edition it had fallen somewhat out of general use in relation to the valley That changed with the city's name change and the niggly editing I wanted to do became an imperative With Tracks I initially wished to do only a little editing But the journeys in the opening and closing sequences seemed to tie in with the catabasis of Baakens It seemed that they should be read together and the idea of one book started growing on me Working with Allan Kolski Horwitz moreover enabled a fresh look at the poems in each book and he has helped me shape them and made them easier on both eye and voice I am grateful for his interest The text reflects on the past and many of the troubles we face today were wrought in the past The text is indeed a quest for kindness in the face of our history one in which the very notion of forgiveness seems nebulous And so I am most grateful to Lovedale Press for graciously releasing Tracks and Baakens and allowing me to reimagine them for this phase of their development

Shaping Natural History and Settler Society Tanja Hammel, 2019-08-23 This book explores the life and work of Mary Elizabeth Barber a British born settler scientist who lived in the Cape during the nineteenth century It provides a lens into a range of subjects within the history of knowledge and science gender and social history postcolonial critical heritage and archival studies The book examines the international importance of the life and works of a marginalized scientist the instrumentalisation of science to settlers political concerns and reveals the pivotal but largely silenced contribution of indigenous African experts Including a variety of material visual and textual sources this study explores how these artefacts are archived and displayed in museums and critically analyses their content and silences The book traces Barber's legacy across three continents in collections and archives offering insights into the politics of memory and history making At the same time it forges a nuanced argument incorporating study of the North and South the history of science and social history and the past and the present

The Activist Collector Christa Clarke,2023-02-17 Published by the Newark Museum Distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press After twenty eight years of desire and determination I have visited Africa the land of my forefathers So wrote Lida Clanton Broner 1895 1982 an African American housekeeper and hairstylist from Newark New Jersey upon her return from an extraordinary nine month journey to South Africa in 1938 This epic trip was motivated not only by Broner s sense of ancestral heritage but also a grassroots resolve to connect the socio political concerns of African Americans with those of black South Africans under the segregationist policies of the time During her travels this woman of modest means circulated among South Africa s Black intellectual elite including many leaders of South Africa s freedom struggle Her lectures at Black schools on race consciousness and race pride had a decidedly political bent even as she was presented as an American beauty specialist How did Broner a working class mother come to be a globally connected activist What were her experiences as an African American woman in segregated South Africa and how did she further her work after her return Broner s remarkable story is the subject of this book which draws upon a deep visual and documentary record now held in the collection of the Newark Museum of Art This extraordinary archive includes more than one hundred and fifty objects ranging from beadwork and pottery to mission school crafts acquired by Broner in South Africa along with her diary correspondence scrapbooks and hundreds of photographs with handwritten notations Australian Wine Vintages Robert Geddes,2011 The 29th edition of Australian Wine Vintages or the Gold Book as it is affectionately known offers more than ever before to wine drinkers and collectors This new edition has over 4000 wine reviews and focuses on the highest quality producers and wines which represent excellent value Winnie and Nelson Jonny Steinberg,2025-06-10 A NATIONAL BOOK CRITICS CIRCLE AWARD WINNER THE SUNDAY TIMES LITERARY AWARD WINNER AN LA TIMES BOOK PRIZE FINALIST A WASHINGTON POST AND NEW YORKER 2023 BEST BOOK OF THE YEAR A deeply researched shattering new account of Nelson Mandela's relationship with Winnie Madikizela Mandela that does justice both to the couple's political heroism and to the betrayals and the secrets that hounded their union. The New Yorker Drawing on never before seen material Steinberg, one of South Africa's foremost nonfiction writers, reveals the fractures and stubborn bonds at the heart of a volatile and groundbreaking union, a very modern political marriage that played out on the world stage. Powerful intimate. The Washington Post One of the most celebrated political leaders of a century, Nelson Mandela has been written about by many. But in one crucial area, his life remains largely untold: his marriage to Winnie Madikizela Mandela. During his years in prison, Nelson grew ever more in love with an idealized version of his wife, courting her in his letters as if they were young lovers frozen in time. But Winnie, every bit his political equal, found herself increasingly estranged from her jailed husband's politics. Behind his back, she was trying to orchestrate an armed seizure of power, a path he feared would lead to endless civil war. Jonny Steinberg tells the tale of this unique marriage: its longings, its obsessions, its deceits, making South African history a page-turning political biography. Winnie and Nelson is a modern epic in which trauma doesn't affect just the couple at its center but an entire nation. It is also a Shakespearean drama in which bonds of love and commitment mingle with timeless questions of revolution, such as whether to seek retribution or a negotiated peace. Steinberg reveals with power and tender emotional insight how far these forever entwined leaders would go for each other and where they drew the line. For in the end, both knew theirs was not simply a marriage but a contest to decide how apartheid should be fought. Segregated Species Jules Skotnes-Brown, 2024-07-30 This work describes how pests have shaped the production of knowledge in addition to their relationship with nature in rural South Africa. Knowledge Beyond Colour Lines Monwabisi K.

Ralarala, Salochana Lorraine Hassan, Rajani Naidoo, 2021-05-25 Knowledge remains timely in education. The need for academics to contemplate its relevance, worth, use, and everything in between, deems a continuous intellectual project rather than a conundrum to be solved. This book takes the South African context by the horns as it challenges the often dormant and traditionalist ways in which higher education spaces see knowledge. Through original research and the voices of academics and students, this book argues for repurposing knowledge generation, knowledge sharing, and critical pedagogy so that more inclusive teaching and learning environments can be both imagined and sustained. The contentious tensionalities that this creates for LoLT and SoTL in particular are unlocked so as to trouble the South African higher education landscape with the intent to proffer alternative pathways for a knowledge beyond colour lines. Prof. Shan Simmonds, PhD, NWU. This edited volume bristles with fresh scholarly approaches and insights of an emergent generation of engaged scholars grappling with the issues and problems of higher education in South Africa. The issues dealt with here are varied and encompassing. They are treated with intellectual delicacy and probing sensitivity, articulacy, informed data, and bold conclusions. They serve well.
