system one that fellow reformers journalists and policymakers have long overlooked and of which the general public including many parents remains unaware But The Knowledge Gap isn't just a story of what schools have gotten so wrong it also follows innovative educators who are in the process of shedding their deeply ingrained habits and describes the rewards that have come along students who are not only excited to learn but are also acquiring the knowledge and vocabulary that will enable them to succeed If we truly want to fix our education system and unlock the potential of our neediest children we have no choice but to pay attention

The Making of Knowledge in Composition Stephen M. North, 1987 In a style that combines scholarly care with remarkable readability North examines the development of the field of composition in a way it has not been examined before Rather than focusing on what people claim to know about teaching writing he concerns himself primarily with how they claim to know it Eight groups of knowledge makers are treated in separate chapters Practitioners Historians Philosophers Critics Experimentalists Clinicians Formalists and Ethnographers Each of these chapters orients the reader by tracing the mode's first uses in the field and listing its best known and most important adherents then goes on to explain how the mode of inquiry works illustrating key points with painstaking analysis of well known studies In his final three chapters North turns from these individual modes to consider the field as a whole How have these different ways of making knowledge come together What is Composition now and what is it likely to become
