THE RED FOR THE NIGHT

Hala Mundhir Fattah, Frank Caso

At the Point of a Gun David Rieff,2005-03-09 From the acclaimed author of A Bed for the Night named one of the best nonfiction books of the year by the Los Angeles Times comes a provocative argument against armed humanitarian or human rights intervention US Defense Politics Harvey M. Sapolsky, Eugene Gholz, Caitlin Talmadge, 2008-08-06 This new textbook seeks to explain how US defense and national security policy is formulated and conducted The focus is on the role of the President Congress political partisans defense industries lobbies science the media and interest groups including the military itself in shaping policies It examines the following key themes US grand strategy who joins America's military how and why weapons are bought the management of defense public attitudes toward the military and casualties the roles of the President and the Congress in controlling the military the effects of 9 11 on security policy homeland security government reorganizations and intra and inter service relations The book shows how political and organizational interests determine US defense policy and warns against the introduction of centralising reforms In emphasizing the process of defense policy making rather than just the outcomes of that process this book signals a departure from the style of many existing textbooks

The Lost Peace Richard Sakwa, 2023-01-01 The end of the Cold War was an opportunity our inability to seize it has led to today s renewed era of great power competition. An eloquent and persuasive argument about how the world squandered the promise of the end of the Cold War Maria Lipman Foreign Affairs The year 1989 heralded a unique prospect for an enduring global peace as harsh ideological divisions and conflicts began to be resolved Now three decades on that peace has been lost With war in Ukraine and increasing tensions between China Russia and the West great power politics once again dominates the world stage But could it have been different Richard Sakwa shows how the years before the first mass invasion of Ukraine represented a hiatus in conflict rather than a lasting accord and how since then we have been in a Second Cold War Tracing the mistakes on both sides that led to the current crisis Sakwa considers the resurgence of China and Russia and the disruptions and ambitions of the liberal order that opened up catastrophic new lines of conflict This is a vital strongly argued account of how the world lost its chance at peace and instead saw the return of war in Europe global rivalries and nuclear brinksmanship A Brief History of Iraq Hala Mundhir Fattah, Frank Caso, 2009 Describes the history of Iraq from its beginnings as the Sumarian civilization in Mesopotamia through the present day Emotions and Mass Atrocity Thomas Brudholm, Johannes Lang, 2018-03-22 A nuanced range of interdisciplinary perspectives on the role of emotions in moral and International Handbook of War, Torture, and Terrorism Kathleen political reactions to mass violence Malley-Morrison, Sherri McCarthy, Denise Hines, 2012-12-15 Armed conflict on domestic or foreign soil impacts people s daily lives and shapes policy around the world Millions live with the threat of terrorism whether from random sources or known enemies And the acceptability of torture is debated by politicians and public alike The International Handbook of War Torture and Terrorism synthesizes historical backgrounds current trends and findings from the Personal and Institutional Rights to

Aggression and Peace Survey PAIRTAPS administered in forty countries over nine global regions Contributors examine the social cognitive and emotional roots of people's thinking on war and national security issues particularly concerning the role of governments in declaring war invading other countries or torturing prisoners By focusing on the cultural traditions and colonial histories of broad regions rather than of individual nations the book demonstrates how context shapes ordinary citizens views on what is justifiable during times of war as well as more nebulous concepts of patriotism and security The Handbook Introduces the PAIRTAPS and explains the methodology for analyzing responses Defines war related concepts from the unique perspectives of Western Europe U K U S Middle East Gulf States Russia Balkans Africa Latin America South Southeast Asia and East Asia Provides an integrative summary of definitions and points of view Situates results in terms of social engagement disengagement theory Considers implications for peace and reconciliation As a reflection of the changing global landscape the International Handbook of War Torture and Terrorism deserves to be read by a wide range of researchers in peace psychology political science sociology and anthropology In Praise of Forgetting David Rieff, 2016-05-10 The conventional wisdom about historical memory is summed up in George Santayana's celebrated phrase Those who cannot remember the past are condemned to repeat it Today the consensus that it is moral to remember immoral to forget is nearly absolute And yet is this right David Rieff an independent writer who has reported on bloody conflicts in Africa the Balkans and Central Asia insists that things are not so simple He poses hard questions about whether remembrance ever truly has or indeed ever could inoculate the present against repeating the crimes of the past He argues that rubbing raw historical wounds whether self inflicted or imposed by outside forces neither remedies injustice nor confers reconciliation If he is right then historical memory is not a moral imperative but rather a moral option sometimes called for sometimes not Collective remembrance can be toxic Sometimes Rieff concludes it may be more moral to forget Ranging widely across some of the defining conflicts of modern times the Irish Troubles and the Easter Uprising of 1916 the white settlement of Australia the American Civil War the Balkan wars the Holocaust and 9 11 Rieff presents a pellucid examination of the uses and abuses of historical memory. His contentious brilliant and elegant essay is an indispensable work of moral The Reproach of Hunger David Rieff, 2015-10-06 In 2000 the world's leaders and experts agreed that the philosophy eradication of hunger was the essential task for the new millennium Yet in the last decade the price of wheat soya and rice have spiraled seen by many as the cause of widening poverty gap and political unrest from the Arab Spring to Latin America This food crisis has condemned the bottom billion of the world's population who live on less than 1 a day to a state of constant hunger In The Reproach of Hunger leading expert on humanitarian aid and development David Rieff goes in search of the causes of this food security crisis as well as the failures to respond to the disaster In addition to the failures to address climate change poor governance and misguided optimism Rieff cautions against the increased privatization of aid with such organization as the Gates Foundation spending more that the WHO on food relief The invention of the celebrity campaigner from Bono to Jeffrey Sachs whose business led solutions have robbed development of its political urgency The hope that the crisis of food scarcity of food production can be solved by a technological innovation In response Rieff demands that we rethink the fundamental causes of the world's grotesque inequalities and see the issue as a political challenge we are all Human Rights and the Uses of History Samuel Moyn,2014-06-17 What are the origins of human rights This question rarely asked before the end of the Cold War has in recent years become a major focus of historical and ideological strife In this sequence of reflective and critical studies Samuel Moyn engages with some of the leading interpreters of human rights thinkers who have been creating a field from scratch without due reflection on the local and temporal contexts of the stories they are telling Having staked out his owns claims about the postwar origins of human rights discourse in his acclaimed Last Utopia Moyn in this volume takes issue with rival conceptions including especially those that underlie justifications of humanitarian intervention Swimming In A Sea Of Death David Rieff, 2013-09-12 In spring 2004 Susan Sontag was diagnosed with the incurable blood cancer She had a huge appetite for experience and a wild extravagant desire to live Rieff writes movingly about being by her side during that last year and at her death and about his own contradictory emotions his guilt both for not consoling her enough and for somehow colluding with her in her belief that she could beat the disease Drawing on Sontag's journals and letters which Rieff read after her death and on the writings about the deaths of other great thinkers Swimming in a Sea of Death provides a vivid portrait of Sontag in the last year of her life and a haunting meditation on mortality Humanitarian Business Thomas G. Weiss, 2013-04-24 With some 50 million people living under duress and threatened by wars and disasters in 2012 the demand for relief worldwide has reached unprecedented levels Humanitarianism is now a multi billion dollar enterprise and aid agencies are obliged to respond to a range of economic forces in order to stay in business In his customarily hard hitting analysis Thomas G Weiss offers penetrating insights into the complexities and challenges of the contemporary humanitarian marketplace In addition to changing political and military conditions that generate demand for aid private suppliers have changed too Today's political economy places aid agencies side by side with for profit businesses including private military and security companies in a marketplace that also is linked to global trade networks in illicit arms natural resources and drugs This witch s brew is simmering in the cauldron of wars that are often protracted and always costly to civilians who are the very targets of violence While belligerents put a price tag on access to victims aid agencies pursue branding in a competition for scarce resources relative to the staggering needs As marketization encroaches on traditional humanitarianism it seems everything may have a price from access and principles to moral authority and lives Surviving the Bosnian Genocide Selma Leydesdorff, 2011-10-03 In this valuable oral history women who survived the 1995 Srebrenica massacre speak of their lives before during and after the Bosnian war Publishers Weekly In July 1995 the Army of the Serbian Republic killed some eight thousand Bosnian men and boys in and around the town of Srebrenica the largest mass murder in Europe since World War II

Surviving the Bosnian Genocide recounts the experiences of sixty female survivors who offer their testimony in interviews conducted by Dutch historian Selma Leydesdorff The women many of whom still live in refugee camps talk about their lives before the Bosnian war the events of the massacre and the ways they have tried to cope with their fate Though fragmented by trauma the women tell of life and survival under extreme conditions while recalling a time before the war when Muslims Croats and Serbs lived together peaceably By giving them a voice this book looks beyond the atrocities of that dark time to show the agency of these women during and after the war and their fight to uncover the truth of what happened at Beyond Jihad Kim Ezra Shienbaum, Jamal Hasan, 2006 This collection of non Western scholarly voices is a long awaited remedy to the lack of critical commentary by Muslim intellectuals on the nature of modern Jihadi terrorism and the political debate within Islam over the direction of resistance to modernization and secularization of traditional societies The work is divided into three parts 1 Understanding the Islamist Mind 2 Understanding Islamism and Politics 3 Beyond Jihad Expanding the Circle of Sanity Major figures such as Dr Ali Sina Sayeed M Said and Syed Kamran Mirza contribute previously unpublished essays indeed the work has virtually new essays from all contributors With historical introductions by Dr Kim Sheinbaum and Jamal Hasan Introduction is by terrorism expert Dr Steven Emerson author of American Jihad and the PBS documentary Jihad in America A long needed discussion by superb scholars recommended for research libraries Professor P duQuenoy American University in Cairo Humanitarian Intervention Thomas G. Weiss, 2013-04-16 A singular development of the post Cold War era is the use of military force to protect human beings From Rwanda to Kosovo Sierra Leone to East Timor and more recently Libya to C te d Ivoire soldiers have rescued some civilians in some of the world's most notorious war zones Could more be saved Drawing on over two decades of research Thomas G Weiss answers yes and provides a persuasive introduction to the theory and practice of humanitarian intervention in the modern world He examines political ethical legal strategic economic and operational dimensions and uses a wide range of cases to highlight key debates and controversies The updated and expanded second edition of this succinct and highly accessible survey is neither celebratory nor complacent The author locates the normative evolution of what is increasingly known as the responsibility to protect in the context of the global war on terror UN debates and such international actions as Libya The result is an engaging exploration of the current dilemmas and future challenges for robust international The Oxford Handbook of United Nations Peacekeeping Operations humanitarian action in the twenty first century Joachim Alexander Koops, Norrie MacQueen, Thierry Tardy, Paul D. Williams, 2015 This volume presents an authoritative and accessible examination and critique of UN peacekeeping operations The Prevention and Intervention of Genocide Samuel Totten, 2008 Over the last twenty years the world has witnessed four major genocides. There was the genocide in Iraq 1988 in Rwanda 1994 in Srebrenica 1995 and in Darfur 2003 and continuing Most observers agree there is an urgent need to assess the international community s efforts to prevent genocide and to intervene once a genocide is under way in an effective and timely manner This volume the latest in a widely respected series on the subject of genocide provides an overview of a host of issues germane to this task The book begins with a cogent discussion of the issues of prevention and intervention during the Cold War years The second chapter discusses the abject failures and moderate though in some cases highly controversial successes at prevention and intervention carried out in the 1990s and early 2000s Further chapters examine latest efforts to develop an effective genocide early warning system and examine the complexity of and barriers to prevention The pros and cons of sanctions and the problems of enforcement and evaluation their effectiveness are then discussed Conflicts between state sovereignty and the protection of threatened populations are examined both in historical context and by incorporating the latest thinking Later chapters treat the issue of intervention why and how it has met with only limited success Concentrating on Rwanda and Srebrenica chapter 8 discusses various peace operations that were abject failures and those that were moderately successful The concept of an anti genocide regime is examined in terms of progress in developing such a regime as well as what the international community must do in order to implement it Chapters discuss key issues related to post genocidal periods those that need to be addressed in order to establish stability in a wounded land and populace as well as to prevent future genocides. The final chapter asks whether bringing perpetrators to justice has any impact in breaking impunity ensuring deterrence and bringing about reconciliation The contributors to the volume are all noted scholars some of whom specialize in the study of genocide and others who specialize in such areas as early warning peacekeeping and Morality's Muddy Waters George Cotkin, 2011-06-06 In the face of an uncertain and dangerous world sanctions Americans yearn for a firm moral compass a clear set of ethical guidelines But as history shows by reducing complex situations to simple cases of right or wrong we often go astray In Morality s Muddy Waters historian George Cotkin offers a clarion call on behalf of moral complexity Revisiting several defining moments in the twentieth century the American bombing of civilians during World War II the My Lai massacre racism in the South capital punishment the invasion of Iraq Cotkin chronicles how historical figures have grappled with the problem of evil and moral responsibility sometimes successfully oftentimes not In the process he offers a wide ranging tour of modern American history Taken together Cotkin maintains these episodes reveal that the central concepts of morality evil empathy and virtue are both necessary and troubling Without empathy for example we fail to inhabit the world of others with it we sometimes elevate individual suffering over political complexities For Cotkin close historical analysis may help reenergize these concepts for ethical thinking and acting Morality's Muddy Waters argues for a moral turn in the way we study and think about history maintaining that even when answers to ethical dilemmas prove elusive the act of grappling with them is invaluable The Liberal Defence of Murder Richard Seymour, 2014-04-15 A war that has killed more than a million Iraqis was a humanitarian intervention the US army is a force for liberation and the main threat to world peace is posed by Islam These are the arguments of a host of liberal commentators including such notable names as Christopher Hitchens Kanan Makiya Michael

Ignatieff Paul Berman and Bernard Henri Lvy In this critical intervention Richard Seymour unearths the history of liberal justifications for empire showing how savage policies of conquest including genocide and slavery have been retailed as charitable missions From the Cold War to the War on Terror Seymour argues that colonialist notions of civilization and progress still shape liberal pro war discourse concealing the same bloody realities In a new afterword Seymour revisits the debates on liberal imperialism in the era of Obama and in the light of the Afghan and Iragi debacles Military Science G. Kurt Piehler, 2013-07-24 The Encyclopedia of Military Science provides a comprehensive ready reference on the organization traditions training purpose and functions of today s military Entries in this four volume work include coverage of the duties responsibilities and authority of military personnel and an understanding of strategies and tactics of the modern military and how they interface with political social legal economic and technological factors A large component is devoted to issues of leadership group dynamics motivation problem solving and decision making in the military context Finally this work also covers recent American military history since the end of the Cold War with a special emphasis on peacekeeping and peacemaking operations the First Persian Gulf War the events surrounding 9 11 and the wars in Afghanistan and Iraq and how the military has been changing in relation to these events Click here to read an article on The Daily Beast by Encyclopedia editor G Kurt Piehler Why Don t We Build Statues For Our War Heroes Anymore Transformation of Violent Intercommunal Conflict Stephen Ryan, 2016-02-24 In recent years there has been a remarkable growth of interest in the concept of conflict transformation and the closely related strategy of grass roots peace building Yet there exists no general critical analysis of the concept of conflict transformation in the context of violent inter communal conflict and the different approaches that can be included in response to this category of dispute This study offers a comprehensive survey and critical overview of this emerging area Examining the reasons for the growing interest in the concept of conflict transformation in situations of ethnic conflict the book explores the different dimensions of transformation It draws on examples of strategies from a number of situations of ethnic conflict including Northern Ireland Israel Palestine Bosnia Kosovo Cyprus Spain Sri Lanka and the former Soviet Union to identify and assess key issues and problems that have emerged and ultimately to propose a stronger emphasis on the promotion of inter subjective understanding
