Krivovichev,2019-04-23 The Arctic zone of the Earth is a major source of mineral and other natural resources for the future development of science and technology It contains a large supply of strategic mineral deposits including rare earths copper phosphorus niobium platinum group elements and other critical metals The continued melting of the sea ice due to climate change makes these resources more accessible than ever before However the mineral exploration in the Arctic has always been a challenge due to the climatic restrictions remote location and vulnerability of Arctic ecosystems This book covers a broad range of topics related to the problem of Arctic mineral resources including geological geochemical and mineralogical aspects of their occurrence and formation chemical technologies and environmental and economic problems related to mineral exploration The contributions can be tentatively classified into four major types geodynamics and metallogeny mineralogy and petrology mineralogy and crystallography and mining and chemical technologies associated with the exploration of mineral deposits and the use of raw materials for manufacturing new products The book can be of interest for all those interested in Arctic issues and especially in Arctic mineral resources and associated problems of mineralogy geology geochemistry and technology Mathematical Models of Large Watershed Hydrology Vijay P. Kallio,Frans Emil Wielgolaski,H. Kauri,E. Ostbye,T. Rosswall,2012-12-06 Animals are important components of any ecosystem and it is impossible to describe structure and functioning of the Fennoscandian tundra ecosystems without including this part of the system However the strong diversity between functionally highly different fauna groups makes it impossible to study all groups in great detail with the funds and expertise available in Fennoscandia Relatively few productivity studies were carried out on animals in Fennoscandian tundra regions before the IBP projects started in 1969 1970 Within IBP more fauna groups have been investigated in the Norwegian tundra project than in the other countries due to better financial support Even in Norway however only a limited number of invertebrate and vertebrate taxons is studied General lack of information on the same animals in various parts of the Fennoscandian tundra makes it more difficult to present structural and functional comparisons of fauna for the whole region than in plants and microorganisms see Part 1 of Fennoscandian Tundra Ecosystems Brief surveys on faunal problems within the area are given in the introduction to the animal section and general

 Specht and Rayson 1957 and were summarized in 1973 Specht 1973 Specht followed this detailed work which pointed to the
