

George snapped back, "No, I came on your bus because I had a flat tire."

"You can choose to look at it that way, George, or you can see the big picture here. Everything happens for a reason. Don't forget that. Every person we meet. Every event in our life. Every flat tire happens for a reason. You can choose to ignore it or ask what that reason is and try to learn from it. Every problem has a gift for you in its hands as my man Richard Bach says. You can choose to see the curse or the gift. And this one choice will determine if your life is a success story or one big soap opera. And while I love soap operas, George, I don't like seeing real life people like you living them. And George, I got to tell you that from the look of you, you're not making the right choice. So choose wisely, George, choose wisely."

At that the bus stopped and George got off as fast like he had been hit by a bus

Fuels and Energy United States. Congress. Senate. Interior and Insular Affairs, 1970 Think of an Elephant: Combining Science and Spirituality for a Better Life Paul Bailey Author, 2011-12-19 Too often it seems that science and spirituality are irreconcilable but Paul Bailey shows that hard fact and direct spiritual experience can come together harmoniously and only when they do will the true nature of the universe be revealed to us What he has to say will inspire mind shifts and alter our perception of the universe Bailey's revolutionary approach emerged from a whimsically phrased but ultimately serious question that scientists tried to answer If an elephant were sucked into a black hole where would its matter go Astonishingly they realized that the elephant's fate altered depending on each person's particular viewing position And that's what Bailey allows us to do see reality and our lives from a different perspective By linking the apparently unrelated fields of quantum physics holistic health cosmology theology neuroscience evolutionary theory and consciousness studies Bailey proves that each is a facet of a greater unified reality and that science and spirituality are two sides of the same coin With this knowledge we will finally understand our place in the universe and gain new insights into some of the most challenging questions facing the world today Seven Steps to Inner Power Dr. Tae Yun Kim, 2011-07-10 Congressional Record United States.
