Between Muslim And Jew The The Problem Of Symbiosis Under Early Islam:

Between Muslim and Jew Steven M. Wasserstrom, 2014-07-14 Steven Wasserstrom undertakes a detailed analysis of the creative symbiosis that existed between Jewish and Muslim religious thought in the eighth through tenth centuries. Wasserstrom brings the disciplinary approaches of religious studies to bear on questions that have been examined previously by historians and by specialists in Judaism and Islam. His thematic approach provides an example of how difficult questions of influence might be opened up for broader examination. In Part I Trajectories the author explores early Jewish-Muslim interactions, studying such areas as messianism, professions, authority, and class structure, and showing how they were reshaped during the first centuries of Islam. Part II Constructions looks at influences of Judaism on the development of the emerging Shi'ite community. This is tied to the wider issue of how early Muslims conceptualized the Jew. In Part III Intimacies the author tackles the complex esoteric symbiosis between Muslim and Jewish theologies. An investigation of the milieu in which Jews and Muslims interacted sheds new light on their shared religious imaginings. Throughout, Wasserstrom expands on the work of social and political historians to include symbolic and conceptual aspects of interreligious symbiosis. This book will interest scholars of Judaism and Islam as well as those who are attracted by the larger issues exposed by its methodology. The Formation of Islam Jonathan P. Berkey, 2003 Jonathan Berkey's 2003 book surveys the religious history of the peoples of the Near East from roughly 600 to 1800 CE. The opening chapter examines the religious scene in the Near East in late antiquity and the religious traditions which preceded Islam. Subsequent chapters investigate Islam's first century and the beginnings of its own traditions, the classical period from the accession of the Abbasids to the rise of the Buyid amirs, and thereafter the emergence of new forms of Islam in the middle period. Throughout, close attention is paid to the experiences of Jews and Christians as well as Muslims. The book stresses that Islam did not appear all at once but emerged slowly as part of a prolonged process whereby it was differentiated from other religious traditions, and indeed that much that we take as characteristic of Islam is in fact the product of the medieval period.

A History of Muslims, Christians, and Jews in the Middle East Heather J. Sharkey, 2017-04-03 This book traces the history of conflict and contact between Muslims, Christians, and Jews in the Ottoman Middle East prior to 1914.

Narratives about Jews among Muslims in Norway Vibeke Moe Bjørnbekk, 2024-06-17 What is the nature of Muslim-Jewish relations in Europe today? Based on qualitative interview data, this book explores narratives about Jews among Muslims in Norway. Drawing on culturally embedded narratives as well as personal experiences, interviewees reflect on the relationship between

Jews and Muslims The interreligious exchange between Islam and Judaism is as old as Islam Today the Arab Israeli conflict has become an important frame of reference in the public discourse on Muslim Jewish relations The narratives presented in this book delineate shifting community boundaries and identifications that transcend dichotomised notions of Muslims versus Jews The analysis shows how Jewish history in Europe and the history of modern antisemitism serve as interpretative keys in the narratives used for explaining the situation of the Muslim minority today Furthermore the book demonstrates how interviewees perceptions of society s attitudes toward Muslim and Jewish experiences also strongly influence their perceptions of Muslim Jewish relations

The Arabic Historical Tradition & the Early Islamic Conquests Boaz Shoshan, 2015-09-07 The early Arab conquests pose a considerable challenge to modern day historians The earliest historical written tradition emerges only after the second half of the eighth century over one hundred years removed from the events it contends to describe and was undoubtedly influenced by the motives and interpretations of its authors Indeed when speaking or writing about the past fact was not the only nor even the prime concern of Muslims of old The Arabic Historic Tradition and the Early Islamic Conquests presents a thorough examination of Arabic narratives on the early Islamic conquests It uncovers the influence of contemporary ideology examining recurring fictive motifs and evaluating the reasons behind their use Folklore and tribal traditions are evident throughout the narratives which aimed to promote individual tribal and regional fame through describing military prowess in the battles for the spread of Islam Common tropes are encountered across the materials which all serve a central theme the moral superiority of the Muslims which destined them to victory in God's plan Offering a key to the state of mind and agenda of early Muslim writers this critical reading of Arabic texts would be of great interest to students and scholars of early Arabic History and Literature as well as a general resource for Middle Eastern History

Muslims and Others Jacques

Waardenburg,2008-08-22 Jacques Waardenburg writes about relations between Muslims and adherents of other religions After illuminating various aspects of Islam from an outside point of view in his volume Islam published in 2002 by de Gruyter his second volume changes the perspective The author shows how Muslims perceived non Muslims particularly Christianity and the West but also Judaism and Asian religions in many centuries of religious dialogue and tensions The main focus is on Muslim minorities in Western countries and on religious dialogues of which he provides first hand knowledge through his participation in several important dialogue meetings After 50 years of research and personal involvement Waardenburg aims at a mutual understanding and reconciliation of Islam and other religions particularly Christianity both on an international level as well as on a more local level where old and new Christian and Muslim Europeans live together     Early Modern Jewish Civilization David Graizbord,2024-09-18 This collection is an introductory historical survey and selective cultural analysis of the development coalescence and eventual waning of a diasporic civilization that of the Jews of the early modern period ca 1391 1789 in Europe the Ottoman Empire and key nodes of the Iberian Empires in the Americas Each chapter explores key factors that shaped both distinctive early modern Jewish communities and a remarkably coalescent and far broader community of communities The contributors engage and answer the following questions What do historians mean by early modernity and to what extent does the concept illuminate the history and culture s of Jews from the end of the Middle Ages to the Enlightenment What were the general demographic contours of the Jewish diaspora over this period and how did they change How did culture politics technology economics and gender shape diasporic Jewish communities across eastern and western Europe and the New World over the course of some 400 years Ultimately the work renders a portrait of coherence and diversity continuity and discontinuity in early modern Jewish life within and across temporal and geographic boundaries Early Modern Jewish Civilization is essential reading for all students of Jewish history and civilization and early modern history more broadly     Confronting Antisemitism from the Perspectives of Christianity, Islam, and Judaism Armin Lange,Kerstin Mayerhofer,Dina Porat,Lawrence H. Maimonides in His World Sarah Stroumsa, 2009-08-31 While the great medieval philosopher theologian and physician Maimonides is acknowledged as a leading Jewish thinker his intellectual contacts with his surrounding world are often described as related primarily to Islamic philosophy Maimonides in His World challenges this view by revealing him to have wholeheartedly lived breathed and espoused the rich Mediterranean culture of his time Sarah Stroumsa argues that Maimonides is most accurately viewed as a Mediterranean thinker who consistently interpreted his own Jewish tradition in contemporary multicultural terms Maimonides spent his entire life in the Mediterranean region and the religious and philosophical traditions that fed his thought were those of the wider world in which he lived Stroumsa demonstrates that he was deeply influenced not only by Islamic philosophy but by Islamic culture as a whole evidence of which she finds in his philosophy as well as his correspondence and legal and scientific writings She begins with a concise biography of Maimonides then carefully examines key aspects of his thought including his approach to religion and the complex world of theology and religious ideas he encountered among Jews Christians Muslims and even heretics his views about science the immense and unacknowledged impact of the Almohads on his thought and his vision of human perfection This insightful cultural biography restores Maimonides to his rightful place among medieval philosophers and affirms his central relevance to the study of medieval Islam

After Revelation Marc Herman, 2025-08-05 Reveals how medieval Jews developed religious law through contact with their Muslim neighbors After Revelation is the first study to integrate Jewish legal thought in the medieval Islamic world into its larger environment Here Marc D Herman demonstrates that Jews were fully conversant in their contemporaries ideas about revelation law and legal interpretation Bookended by the two luminaries of medieval Judaism Saadia Gaon and Moses Maimonides After Revelation is a comprehensive analysis of the legal theory that medieval Jews produced in Islamic lands mostly in Arabic and reveals previously unrecognized commonalities between Jewish and Islamic constructions of religious law Herman tackles one of the central doctrines of post biblical Judaism that God had supplemented the written Hebrew Bible with an Oral Torah a claim that remains central to Judaism to this day Following this idea from Baghdad to Kairouan to Cordoba and then to Cairo he shows that the Oral Torah took many new forms in the medieval Islamic world The variegated and fluid presentations of the Oral Torah Herman argues were inexorably embedded in society wide discourses that blithely crossed religious borders He proposes a highly regional perspective on Jewish history in place of the closed communities so often imagined in the histories of Jews and Muslims one that centers contacts with Muslims as much as continuities with earlier Jewish communities He emphasizes too that medieval Judaism is unimaginable without Jewish interactions with Muslims Ultimately After Revelation makes plain that medieval Judaism took the shapes that it did largely because of forces far outside of itself

The Making of a Forefather Shari Lowin, 2006-10-01 This comparative analysis examines the Islamic and Jewish exegetical narratives ad th qī a al anbiy and midrash aggadah on the early life of the forefather Abraham. It reveals how the traditions utilized one another's materials in creating and re-creating the patriarch in their own image. Each chapter examines a particular motif in Abraham's development from the prophecy surrounding his birth to his discovery of God and polemics with pagans to his salvation in the fiery furnace of Chaldea. Indexes of the more salient rabbinic or Islamic texts follow at the end of each chapter. The work is particularly valuable for scholars of rabbinics and Islamicists alike; it challenges earlier scholarship by revealing that the Islamic and Jewish exegetical traditions were not entirely distinct traditions but were intertextually related, mutually giving and receiving ideas.
