Prognostication in the Medieval World Matthias Heiduk, Klaus Herbers, Hans-Christian Lehner, 2020-11-09 Two opposing views of the future in the Middle Ages dominate recent historical scholarship According to one opinion medieval societies were expecting the near end of the world and therefore had no concept of the future According to the other opinion the expectation of the near end created a drive to change the world for the better and thus for innovation Close inspection of the history of prognostication reveals the continuous attempts and multifold methods to recognize and interpret God's will the prodigies of nature and the patterns of time That proves on the one hand the constant human uncertainty facing the contingencies of the future On the other hand it demonstrates the firm belief during the Middle Ages in a future which could be shaped and even manipulated The handbook provides the first overview of current historical research on medieval prognostication It considers the entangled influences and transmissions between Christian Jewish Islamic and non monotheistic societies during the period from a wide range of perspectives An international team of 63 renowned authors from about a dozen different academic disciplines contributed to this comprehensive overview

Evolution and Popular Narrative, 2019-06-07 The contributors to this volume share the assumption that popular narrative when viewed with an evolutionary lens offers an incisive index into human nature In theory narrative art could take a near infinity of possible forms In actual practice however particular motifs plot patterns stereotypical figures and artistic devices persistently resurface indicating specific predilections frequently at odds with our actual living conditions Our studies explore various media and genres to gauge the impact of our evolutionary inheritance in interdependence with the respective cultural environments on our aesthetic appreciation As they suggest research into mass culture is not only indispensable for evolutionary criticism but may also contribute to our understanding of prehistoric selection pressures that still influence modern preferences in popular narrative Contributions by David Andrews James Carney Mathias Clasen Brett Cooke Tamás Dvid Barrett Tom Dolack Kathryn Duncan Isabel Behncke Izquierdo Joe Keener Alex C Parrish Todd K Platts

Anna Rotkirch Judith P Saunders Michelle Scalise Sugiyama Dirk Vanderbeke and Sophia Wege      Transdisciplinary Perspectives on Transitions to Sustainability Edmond Byrne, Gerard Mullally, Colin Sage, 2016-06-17 Demonstrating how a university can in a very practical and pragmatic way be re envisioned through a transdisciplinary informed frame this book shows how through an open and collegiate spirit of inquiry the most pressing and multifaceted issue of contemporary societal sustainability can be addressed and understood in a way that transcends narrow disciplinary work It also provides a practical exemplar of how far more meaningful deliberation understandings and options for action in relation to contemporary sustainability related crises can emerge than could otherwise be achieved Indeed it helps demonstrate how only through a transdisciplinary ethos and approach can real progress be achieved The fact that this can be done in parallel to or perhaps underneath the day to day business of the university serves to highlight how even micro seed initiatives can further the process of breaking down silos and reuniting C P Snow's two cultures after some four centuries of the relentless project of modernity While much has been written and talked about with respect to both sustainability and transdisciplinarity this book offers a pragmatic example which hopefully will signpost the ways others can will and indeed must follow in our common quest for real progress      The Power of the Story Vincent Joos, Martin Munro, John Ribó, 2023-04-14 A cross disciplinary volume that combines and puts into dialogue perspectives on disasters this book includes contributions from anthropology history cultural studies sociology and literary studies Offering a rich and diverse set of arguments and analyses on the ever relevant theme of catastrophe in the circum Caribbean it will encourage debate and collaboration between scholars working on disasters from a range of disciplinary perspectives      Curating and Politics Beyond the Curator Andrea Phillips, Reesa Greenberg, T. J. Demos, Ekaterina Degot', Cecilia Sjöholm, 2015 Ever since the nineteen nineties curatorial discourse has revolved around the figure of the professional curator Consequently curatorial politics is usually considered the direct result of a curator's deliberate acts and intentions Now however new institutional models and modes of exhibition practice together with key shifts in funding and collecting strategies have revealed aspects of curatorial politics over which the exhibition maker has little or no control The present volume presents a series of essays by noted art theorists and cultural scientists that go beyond the perspective of the individual curator to reveal these previously unexplored levels of curatorial politics from publisher's website      Post-Politics in Context Ali Riza Taskale, 2016-04-28 As disciplines Politics and International Relations remain dominated by ideas drawn from traditions of liberal internationalism and political realism in which political imagination is preoccupied with command and order rather than with disruption and emancipation Yet they have failed to offer adequate answers to why political action is foreclosed in contemporary times Proposed through a historically informed engagement with seminal thinkers including Walter Benjamin Friedrich Nietzsche Gilles Deleuze and Michel Foucault and examples from films and contemporary events Ali R za Ta kale presents an original and much needed new perspective to interpret politics in our contemporary societies He argues that post politics is a counterrevolutionary logic which aims to create a society without conflict struggle and radical systemic change Post Politics in Context serves as seminal intervention upon the debate over the depoliticised conditions of contemporary neoliberal society as well as functioning as an introduction to the core theoretical frameworks of alternative tradition of social and political thought in a manner that is lacking in current debates about Politics and International Relations
