Colonial Lahore Ian Talbot, Tahir Kamran, 2022-02-15 A number of studies of colonial Lahore in recent years have explored such themes as the city's modernity its cosmopolitanism and the rise of communalism which culminated in the bloodletting of 1947 This first synoptic history moves away from the prism of the Great Divide of 1947 to examine the cultural and social connections which linked colonial Lahore with North India and beyond In contrast to portrayals of Lahore as inward looking and a world unto itself the authors argue that imperial globalisation intensified long established exchanges of goods people and ideas Ian Talbot and Tahir Kamran's book is reflective of concerns arising from the global history of Empire and the new urban history of South Asia These are addressed thematically rather than through a conventional chronological narrative as the book uncovers previously neglected areas of Lahore's history including the links between Lahore's and Bombay's early film industries and the impact on the tourist gaze of the consumption of both text and visual representation of India in newsreels northeastern Pakistan came to an end in the middle of the nineteenth century when the British annexed the Sikh kingdom and eventually exiled its child maharaja Duleep Singh to England In the 1880s Singh embarked on an abortive attempt to restore the lost Sikh kingdom Judge explores not only Singh s efforts but also the Sikh people s responses the dreams fantasies and hopes that became attached to the Khalsa Raj He shows how a community engaged military political and psychological loss through theological debate literary production bodily discipline and ethical practice in order to contest colonial politics This book argues that Sikhs in the final decades of the nineteenth century were not simply looking to recuperate the past but to remake it and to dwell within loss instead of transcending it and in so doing opened new possibilities Bringing together Sikh tradition psychoanalysis and postcolonial thought Prophetic Maharaja provides bracing insights into concepts of sovereignty and the writing of history Kinship Across the Black Atlantic Gigi Adair,2019-11-19 This book combines insights from postcolonial queer and diaspora studies to consider the meanings of kinship in contemporary black Atlantic fiction Diasporic displacement generates new understandings and new narratives of kinship An analysis of kinship is thus essential to understanding diasporic modernity at the turn of the twenty first century The Postcolonial Low Countries Elleke Boehmer,Sarah De Mul,2012-06-01 The Postcolonial Low Countries is the first book to bring together critical and comparative approaches to the emergent field of neerlandophone postcolonial studies The collection of essays ranges across the cultures and literatures of the Netherlands and Belgium and establishes an encounter between postcolonial theoretical discourses from both within and without the region Each one of the contributions puts under pressure the definitive concepts of postcolonial studies in its more conventional anglophone or francophone formation as well as perceptions of the Low Countries Belgium and the Netherlands as lying outside or to the side of the postcolonial domain In the Low Countries local and regional issues concerning multiculturalism and colonial belatedness have raised important questions about the possible grounds on which postcolonial critical concepts might be not only translated but also generated afresh to suit these paradoxically new contexts As The Postcolonial Low Countries incisively demonstrates the Low Countries demand a careful rearticulation of such postcolonial readymades as hybridity accommodation and creolization Gathering together contributions from both internationally renowned scholars and newly established researchers in the field The Postcolonial Low Countries maps previously underexplored national and transnational literary critical trajectories The book challenges in boundary shifting ways current readings of the so described multicultural and postcolonial Netherlands and Belgium Negras in Brazil Kia Caldwell,2007-01-05 For most of the twentieth century Brazil was widely regarded as a racial democracy a country untainted by the scourge of racism and prejudice In recent decades however this image has been severely critiqued with a growing number of studies highlighting persistent and deep seated patterns of racial discrimination and inequality Yet recent work on race and racism has rarely considered gender as part of its analysis In Negras in Brazil Kia Lilly Caldwell examines the life experiences of Afro Brazilian women whose stories have until now been largely untold This pathbreaking study analyzes the links between race and gender and broader processes of social economic and political exclusion Drawing on ethnographic research with social movement organizations and thirty five life history interviews Caldwell explores the everyday struggles Afro Brazilian women face in their efforts to achieve equal rights and full citizenship She also shows how the black women s movement which has emerged in recent decades has sought to challenge racial and gender discrimination in Brazil While proposing a broader view of citizenship that includes domains such as popular culture and the body Negras in Brazil highlights the continuing relevance of identity politics for members of racially marginalized communities Providing new insights into black women s social activism and a gendered perspective on Brazilian racial dynamics this book will be of interest to students and scholars of Latin American Studies African diaspora studies women s studies politics and cultural anthropology

Decolonizing Education Norah Barongo-Muweke, 2016-04-25 Norah Barongo Muweke aims to reconstruct a theory of citizenship education for the postcolonial South She works towards fostering scientific construction and mainstreaming of postcoloniality as analytical category dimension of gender policy sustainable learning and societal transformation A consistent conceptual framework for theorising together gender and postcoloniality is absent so far In her analyses citizenship awareness and its bedrock institutions are eroded

The Archaeology of Colonialism Barbara L. Voss, Eleanor Conlin Casella, 2011-10-31 This volume examines human sexuality as an intrinsic element in the interpretation of complex colonial societies While archaeological studies of the historic past have explored the dynamics of European colonialism such work has largely ignored broader issues of sexuality embodiment commemoration reproduction and sensuality Recently however scholars have begun to recognize these issues as essential components of colonization and imperialism This book explores a variety of case studies revealing the multifaceted intersections of colonialism and sexuality Incorporating work that ranges from Phoenician diasporic communities of the eighth century to Britain s nineteenth century Australian penal colonies to the contemporary Maroon community of Brazil this volume changes the way we understand the relationship between sexuality and colonial history
