Beyond The Metropolis The Changing Image Of Urban Britain 1780 1880:

Beyond the Metropolis Katy Jones,2016 Draws on previously unexplored visual and ephemeral sources to re evaluate the British city its changing form representation and impact Beyond the metropolis Katy Layton-Jones,2016-02-19 Draws on previously unexplored visual and ephemeral sources to re evaluate the British city its changing form representation and impact Storied Ground Paul Readman,2018-02-22 The relationship between landscape and identity is explored to reveal how Englishness encompasses the urban and rural and the north and south Dogopolis Chris Pearson,2024-05-31 Dogopolis presents a surprising source for urban innovation in the history of three major cities human canine relationships Stroll through any American or European city today and you probably won t get far before seeing a dog being taken for a walk It s expected that these domesticated animals can easily navigate sidewalks streets and other foundational elements of our built environment But what if our cities were actually shaped in response to dogs more than we ever realized Chris Pearson s Dogopolis boldly and convincingly asserts that human canine relations were a crucial factor in the formation of modern urban living Focusing on New York London and Paris from the early nineteenth century into the 1930s Pearson shows that human reactions to dogs significantly remolded them and other contemporary western cities It s an unalterable fact that dogs often filthy bellicose and sometimes off putting run away spread rabies defecate and breed wherever they like so as dogs became a more and more common in nineteenth century middle class life cities had to respond to people s fear of them and revulsion at their least desirable traits The gradual integration of dogs into city life centered on disgust at dirt fear of crime and vagrancy and the promotion of humanitarian sentiments On the other hand dogs are some people s most beloved animal companions and human compassion and affection for pets and strays were equally powerful forces in shaping urban modernity Dogopolis details the complex interrelations among emotions sentiment and the ways we manifest our feelings toward what we love showing that together they can actually reshape society Middle-class Life in Victorian Belfast Alice Johnson,2020 Middle Class Life in Victorian Belfast vividly reconstructs the social world of upper middle class Belfast from c 1830 to 1890 Using extensive primary material the book draws a rich portrait of Belfast s middle class society covering themes of civic activism working lives philanthropy associational culture evangelicalism recreation marriage and family life A Modern History of European Cities Rosemary Wakeman,2020-01-23 Rosemary Wakeman s original survey text comprehensively explores modern European urban history from 1815 to the present day It provides a journey to cities and towns across the continent in search of the patterns of development that have shaped the urban landscape as indelibly European The focus is on the built environment the social and cultural transformations that mark the patterns of continuity and change and the transition to modern urban society Including over 60 images that serve to illuminate the analysis the book examines whether there is a European city and if so what are its characteristics Wakeman offers an interdisciplinary approach that incorporates concepts from cultural and postcolonial studies as well as urban geography and provides full coverage of urban society not only in western Europe but also in eastern and southern Europe using various cities and city types to inform the discussion The book provides detailed coverage of the often neglected urbanization post 1945 which allows us to more clearly understand the modernizing arc Europe has followed over the last two centuries The Rise of Mass Advertising Anat Rosenberg,2022 The Rise of Mass Advertising is the first cultural legal history of mass advertising in Britain c 1840 1914 and its legal shaping drawing together the history of capitalism the history of fields of knowledge and the history of modern disenchantment to present a new account of advertising s significance for modernity British Art and the Environment Charlotte Gould,Sophie Mesplède,2021-07-21 This book explores the nature of Britain based artists engagement with the transformations of their environment since the early days of the Industrial Revolution At a time of pressing ecological concerns the international group of contributors provide a series of case studies that reconsider the nature culture divide and aim at identifying the contours of a national narrative that stretches from enclosed lands to rising seas By adopting a longer historical view this book hopes to enrich current debates concerning art s engagement with recording and questioning the impact of human activity on the environment The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history contemporary art environmental humanities and British studies Faith in the Town Hannah Barker,Carys Brown,Kate Gibson,Jeremy Gregory,2025-02-28 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 International licence It is free to read on the Oxford Academic platform and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations Across eighteenth and early nineteenth century northern England religious faith continued to affect the lives of men women and children in profound ways Rather than abandoning their faith in the face of increasing urbanisation and industrialisation as is often assumed was the case town dwellers across the social and denominational spectrum commonly understood their relationships with their families households and the world within a framework of religious duty and virtue For urban middling and labouring individuals religious practice and the influence of faith was not limited to time spent in church or chapel but extended into all areas of activity and experience the workplace the streets and other public spaces and the home The importance of faith in the lived experience of town dwellers was not something that existed in spite of change faith was promoted by the new conditions of urban life Faith in the Town explores key decades of this transformational period encompassing almost a century of urban development between 1740 and 1830 By placing lay religious belief centre stage this book demonstrates that many of the developments associated with modernity specifically industrialisation urbanisation population growth and Enlightenment thinking were not inimical to faith Instead religious belief and lay piety was a crucial element in the formation of urban economy society and culture during the long eighteenth century meaning that northern towns were not only places where faith could both be nourished and flourish but that these urban centres were themselves shaped by faith Dogópolis Chris Pearson,2023-03-22 Si pasea por cualquier ciudad occidental hoy d a no tardar mucho en ver a un perro Se espera que estos animales domesticados puedan moverse f cilmente por aceras calles y otros elementos fundamentales de nuestro entorno urbano Pero y si nuestras ciudades se hubieran modelado en respuesta a nuestra convivencia con los perros más de lo que nos imaginamos Esta obra audaz ofrece una convincente demostración histórica de que las relaciones humano caninas fueron un factor crucial en la formación de la vida urbana moderna y que las reacciones humanas hacia los perros han conformado y remodelado significativamente las ciudades occidentales contemporáneas hasta puntos insospechados Dog polis descubre una sorprendente fuente de innovación urbana las relaciones entre los humanos y los perros La inmemorial relación entre los canidos y los humanos ha dado lugar a un modelo occidental de relaciones entre ambos en la que se define cómo los perros urbanos deben convivir con los humanos de una manera civilizada segura y saludable Así los perros y los humanos se mezclaron en estas urbes que habitaban y que se expandían y desarrollaban rápidamente Los perros acabaron integrándose en la vida de la ciudad de acuerdo con los valores emocionales de la clase media centrados en el rechazo a la suciedad el miedo al vagabundeo el temor a la criminalidad y el cultivo de sentimientos humanitarios Extraviados mordiendo sufriendo pensando defecando los perros de París Londres y Nueva York fueron actores centrales en la creación de la experiencia urbana moderna Dog polis es su historia compartida entre animales y humanos de clase media cuyas emociones ambivalentes cobran vida en este maravilloso libro Peter Sahlin Un libro bellamente presentado con una voz histórica evocadora con gran confianza y estilo También es muy divertido de leer Pearson ofrece un tesoro de detalles sobre las vidas compartidas de humanos y perros Nel Pemberton Ayuda a explicar por qué tratamos a los perros de la forma en que lo hacemos y cómo los habitantes de las ciudades en particular han llegado a definirse a sí mismos en relación con los no humanos Suplemento Literario de The Times Deslumbrante y elegantemente escrito demuestra de manera irrefutable que los perros son buenos para pensar Nos lleva en un viaje todo desde los mimos hasta los amordazamientos perros rabiosos dueños cariosos perreras y cementerios de mascotas Colin Jones

Spatial Cultures Sam Griffiths, Alexander von Lünen, 2016-06-10 What is the relationship between how cities work and what cities mean Spatial Cultures Towards a New Social Morphology of Cities Past and Present announces an innovative research agenda for urban studies in which themes and methods from urban history social theory and built environment research are brought into dialogue across disciplinary and chronological boundaries The collection confronts the recurrent epistemological impasse that arises between research focussing on the description of material built environments and that which is concerned primarily with the people who inhabit govern and write about cities past and present A reluctance to engage substantively with this issue has been detrimental to scholarly efforts to understand the urban built environment as a meaningful agent of human social experience Drawing on a wide range of historical and contemporary urban case studies as well as a selection of theoretical and methodological reflections the contributions to this volume seek to historically geographically and architecturally contextualize diverse spatial practices including movement encounter play procession and neighbourhood The aim is to challenge their tacit treatment as universal categories in much writing on cities and to propose alternative research possibilities with implications as much for urban design thinking as for history and the social sciences

Die Stadt lesen Cristina Sasse, 2021-06-08 Sogenannte directories gedruckte Aufstellungen der Gewerbetreibenden einer Stadt die oft kombiniert waren mit Reiseführerähnlichen Inhalten avancierten in England ab dem 18. Jahrhundert zu populären Medien. In einer Phase rasanter Urbanisierung erfüllten sie vielfältige Funktionen für die Orientierung in städtischen Räumen, die Strukturierung von Kommunikation und die Organisation von Wissen. Dennoch hat diese Mediengattung in der historischen Forschung bisher nur wenig Beachtung erfahren. Das Buch schließt diese Forschungslücke, indem es untersucht, welchen Beitrag die directories dazu leisteten, Stadträume entzifferbar und navigierbar zu machen, sie zu deuten und mitzugestalten. Es eröffnet einen facettenreichen Blick auf das komplexe Verhältnis zwischen Medien und städtischem Erleben sowie auf die Wahrnehmung und Aneignung von Räumen. Zugleich leistet es einen Beitrag zur Historisierung alltäglicher und oft als selbstverständlicher betrachteter Techniken und Medien der räumlichen Orientierung.

The Civilising Offensive Christoph De Spiegeleer, 2018-12-03 This volume offers a multifaceted selection of studies on 19th century Belgian reformers and initiatives they instigated to solve the social question by civilising and moralising the lower classes. Around 1850 Belgium was continental Europe's most heavily industrialised state. From the mid-century until the Belle époque many international social reform associations were based in Belgium as well as their main international actors. This book aims to place the history of social, moral and educational reform in Belgium during the long 19th century within a broader European perspective. This collection of contributions by both young and established scholars from various disciplinary backgrounds not only fills some gaps in Belgian historiography but also offers a better understanding of broad epochal processes such as the bourgeois civilising offensive, the expansion of educational action and the historical growth of welfare states.

Selling British Columbia Michael Dawson, 2007-10-01 Selling British Columbia is an entertaining examination of the development of the tourist industry in British Columbia between 1890 and 1970. Michael Dawson argues that in order to understand the roots of the fully fledged consumer culture that emerged in Canada after the Second World War, it is necessary to understand the connections between the 1930s, 1940s and the postwar era. Cultural producers such as tourism promoters and the state infrastructure played important roles in fostering consumer demand, particularly during the Depression, the Second World War and throughout the postwar era. Dawson draws upon promotional pamphlets, newspapers, advertisements and films as well as archival sources regarding government, civic and international tourism organizations. Central to his book is an examination of the representation of popular imagery and of how aboriginal and British cultures were commodified and marketed to potential tourists. He also looks at the gendered aspect of these promotional campaigns, particularly during the 1940s, and challenges earlier interpretations regarding the relationship between tourism and nature in Canada. Historians have tended to focus on either the first wave of consumerism from the 1880s to the 1920s or else on the era of economic expansion that followed World War Two. As Dawson shows, the 1930-45 period in particular was an important and dynamic one in the creation of Canadian and British Columbian consumer culture Michael Dawson's highly readable and engaging account of the development of the British Columbia tourist industry will be welcomed by British Columbian and Canadian historians as well as other scholars of tourism and consumerism
