Biography and Children Stuart Hannabuss, Rita Marcella, 1993 This title examines the perceived value of biographical information and the way in which it is used by librarians and educationalists. There is an historical view of literature together with a detailed investigation of contemporary material published for children. This book provides a critical and biographical guide to such materials, some of which are international but with emphasis on British and American publications.

Fathers in the Motherland Swapna M Banerjee, 2022-08-03 This monograph breaks new ground by weaving stories of fathers and children into the history of gender, family and nation in colonial India. Focusing on the reformist Bengali Hindu and Brahmo communities, the author contends that fatherhood assumed new meaning and significance in late nineteenth and early twentieth-century India. During this time of social and political change, fathers extended their roles beyond breadwinning to take an active part in rearing their children. Utilizing pedagogic literature, articles in scientific journals, autobiographies, correspondence and published essays, Fathers in a Motherland documents the different ways the authority and power of the father was invoked and constituted both metaphorically and in everyday experiences. Exploring specific moments when educated men as biological fathers, literary activists and educators assumed guardianship and became crucial agents of change, Banerjee interrogates the connections between fatherhood and masculinity. The last chapter of the book moves beyond Bengal and draws on the lives of Mohandas K Gandhi and Jawaharlal Nehru to provide a broader salience to its argument Reclaiming two missing links in Indian history fathers and children the book argues that biological and imaginary fathers assumed the moral guardianship of an incipient nation and rested their hopes and dreams on the future generation

Handbook of Autobiography / Autofiction Martina Wagner-Egelhaaf,2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time General questions of the literary as e g the relation between literature and reality truth and fiction the dependency of author narrator and figure or issues of individual and cultural styles etc can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs diaries self portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre this three volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition special emphasis is placed on the modes of self representation in non Western cultures and on inter and transcultural perspectives of the genre The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross references The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies students as well as non academic readers

Transnational Perspectives on Artists' Lives Marleen Rensen,Christopher Wiley,2020-10-06 This book demonstrates the significance of transnationality for studying and writing the lives of artists While painters musicians and writers have long been cast as symbols of their associated nations recent research is increasingly drawing attention to those aspects of their lives and works that resist or challenge the national framework The volume showcases different ways of treating transnationality in life writing by and about artists investigating how the transnational can offer intriguing new insights on artists who straddle different nations and cultures It further explores ways of adopting transnational perspectives in artists biographies in order to deal with experiences of cultural otherness or international influences and analyses cross cultural representations of artists in biography and biofiction Gathering together insights from biographers and scholars with expertise in literature music and the visual arts Transnational Perspectives on Artists Lives opens up rich avenues for researching transnationality in the cultural domain at large Self Impression Max Saunders, 2010-04-22 I am aware that once my pen intervenes I can make whatever I like out of what I was Paul Valéry. Modernism is often characterized as a movement of impersonality, a rejection of autobiography. But most of the major works of European modernism and postmodernism engage in very profound and central ways with questions about life writing. Max Saunders explores the ways in which modern writers from the 1870s to the 1930s experimented with forms of life writing: biography, autobiography, memoir, diary, journal, increasingly for the purposes of fiction. He identifies a wave of new hybrid forms from the late nineteenth century and uses the term autobiografiction, discovered in a surprisingly early essay of 1906, to provide a fresh perspective on the turn of the century literature and to propose a radically new literary history of Modernism. Saunders offers a taxonomy of the extraordinary variety of experiments with life writing, demonstrating how they arose in the nineteenth century as the pressures of secularization and psychological theory disturbed the categories of biography and autobiography in works by authors such as Pater, Ruskin, Proust, Mark Rutherford, George Gissing, and A. C. Benson. He goes on to look at writers experimenting further with autobiografiction as Impressionism turns into Modernism, juxtaposing detailed and vivacious readings of key Modernist texts by Joyce, Stein, Pound, and Woolf with explorations of the work of other authors including H. G. Wells, Henry James, Joseph Conrad, Ford Madox Ford, and Wyndham Lewis, whose experiments with life writing forms are no less striking. The book concludes with a consideration of the afterlife of these fascinating experiments in the postmodern literature of Nabokov, Lessing, and Byatt. Self Impression sheds light on a number of significant but under-theorized issues: the meanings of autobiographical, the generic implications of literary autobiography, and the intriguing relation between autobiography and fiction in the period.
