

Bluehill® Universal

TestProfiler Method Development

Objectives

After completing this course, you will be able to:

- Design your own TestProfiler tests
- Create, load, and save your own profiler waveforms
- Use enhanced load or strain control
- Create different waveforms - absolute/relative ramps, triangle, holds and more
- Select results from specific test segments
- Augment test sequences with Actions and Events
- Utilize domain expressions based on waveform

Overview

In this one-day course, students will work with a certified Instron training instructor to explore the various tools and functions of Bluehill Universal's powerful TestProfiler feature. Using a hands-on approach, the instructor will guide students through a series of realistic projects designed to prepare the student for the unique demands of his or her laboratory.
