raises important questions about how Eastern religions are often co-opted, assimilated and misunderstood by Western culture. Publishers Weekly. Donald Lopez provides the first cultural history of the strange encounter between Tibetan Buddhism and the West. Charting the flights of Western fantasies of Tibet and its Buddhist legacy, Lopez presents fanciful visions of Tibetan life and religion ranging from the utopian to the demonic. He examines among much else the politics of the term Lamaism, a pejorative name for Tibet's religion, the various theosophical, psychedelic and New Age purposes served by The Tibetan Book of the Dead, the strange case of the Englishman with three eyes and the unexpected history of the most famous of all Buddhist mantras, om mani padme hum. Throughout, Lopez demonstrates how myths of Tibet pervade both the products of pop culture and learned scholarly works. In his new preface to this anniversary edition, Lopez returns to the metaphors of prison and paradise to illuminate the state of Tibetan Buddhism both in exile and in Tibet, as monks and nuns still seek to find a way home. Prisoners of Shangri-La remains a timely and vital inquiry into Western fantasies of Tibet. Proceeding with care and precision, Lopez reveals the extent to which scholars have behaved like intellectual colonialists. Someone had to burst the bubble of pop Tibetology, and few could have done it as resoundingly as Lopez. Booklist. Lopez's book shows that when the West has looked at Tibet, all that it has seen is a distorted reflection of itself. Ben Jackson, Times Higher Education Supplement. A fine scholarly work. Kirkus Reviews.

Peasants, Populism and Postmodernism Dr Tom Brass, 2013-02-01. Tracing the way in which the agrarian myth has emerged and re-emerged over the past century in ideology shared by populism, postmodernism and the political right, the argument in this book is that at the centre of this discourse about the cultural identity of otherness/difference lies the concept of and innate peasant-ness. In a variety of contextually specific discursive forms, the old populism of the 1890s and the nationalism and fascism in Europe, America and Asia during the 1920s and 1930s were all informed by the agrarian myth. The postmodern/new populism and the new right, both of which emerged after the 1960s and consolidated during the 1990s, are also structured discursively by the agrarian myth and with it the ideological reaffirmation of peasant essentialism.

Women of China, 2007-05. Perfect Worlds Douwe Wessel Fokkema, 2011. Perfect Worlds offers an extensive historical analysis of utopian narratives in the Chinese and Euro-American traditions. This comparative study discusses, among other things, More's criticism of Plato, the European orientalist search for utopia in China, Wells's Modern Utopia and his talk with Stalin, Chinese writers constructing their Confucianist utopia, traces of Daoism in Mao Zedong's utopianism and politics, and finally the rise of dystopian writing, a negative expression of the utopian impulse in Europe and America as well as in China. Mystifying China's Southwest Ethnic Borderlands Yuqing Yang, 2017-12-28. The Confucian notion of Harmony with difference, he er bu tong, has great political and cultural resonance in contemporary China, which propagates the quest for a pluralist harmony between cultural and ethnic components of society. In an attempt to examine a range of responses to this state-envisioned ideal of accommodating ethnic differences, this book analyzes the literary and cultural discourses that surround three minority regions in Southwest China: Dali, which was once the location of the ancient Nanzhao and Dali Kingdoms the homeland of the matrilineal Mosuo known as the Country of Women and the Tibetan areas associated with utopian Shangri La This book borrows Foucault's concept of heterotopia to address the contradictory and often simultaneously existing views of the minority region as rich treasure house of tradition and as intractable barrier to modern development which combine to give rise to productive tensions in scholastic and artistic creations Through reconstituting and performing the myths and legends of or about minority culture the representations of the three places turn into heterotopias which are posed between the mythical and the real in different ways Functioning as a self reflective mirror they simultaneously offer images of the actual habitats of the ethnic other which have been subject to socialist projects of modernity and become a viable means by which to exert material effects on the real landscape Products of a fascination with alternative social spaces the three mystified lands all contain conceptualizations of harmony be it spiritual gender based or ecological that are conceivably absent in the imperfect actuality of the Chinese heartland In conclusion these aesthetically constructed spaces of the other negotiate and enrich the discourse of Harmony with difference reacting to ethnic politics in PRC history and creating an audience that grows attentive to the traditions of minorities
