About the publication In the two contributions to this volume we find the following passages Whether one is an upper middle class Afrikaner or a poor black rural woman whether one is a black small business entrepreneur or a poor white car guard an obsession with hate speech will not do us any good De Vos The protection of these values is not subordinate to the problems of unemployment corruption poverty and discrimination On the contrary those problems can only be tackled if these values are upheld and developed Spies David Scott in Conscripts of modernity The tragedy of colonial enlightenment 2004 investigates how colonial struggles are told in history He observes how often what happened in the past is told to serve present day priorities CLR James's account of the Haitian Revolution of 1791 1804 in his work The Black Jacobins is one example of a text written in a time when decolonization was a future possibility This work is described by Scott as a work of anti colonial longing Scott's argument is that we should move away from anti colonial longing in order to start thinking of other kinds of problems and other kinds of questions James in a revised edition of The Black Jacobins published in 1963 recast the initial narrative from one of romance to one of tragedy In a post apartheid South Africa we are constantly being haunted by our apartheid and colonial past How we respond to but even before responding how we understand the many challenges we face today ongoing poverty crime corruption equality dignity freedom of speech may depend on how we relate to past present and future and specifically how we frame the stories of the struggle against colonialism and against apartheid Becoming post colonial post apartheid requires new angles new starting points It might be fruitful to study the actions and speech of Julius Malema in light of Scott's observations In other words we could reflect on the extent to which Malema remains in an anti colonial struggle engulfed by Romanticism and is therefore not engaged in a postcolonial struggle and accordingly fails to engage in a politics for a possible future Scott 2004 In this edition of Pulp fictions Pierre De Vos takes another angle on the issue of Julius Malema's singing of struggle songs and his statements concerning victims of rape De Vos argues for us not to be blinded by debates on freedom of speech hate speech if the real issue is a political struggle for socioeconomic transformation For De Vos poverty corruption discrimination and a lack of service delivery are far more important issues that need to be faced head on Willie Spies in response to De Vos argues for a change of our mindset and that such a change is not contrary to socioeconomic reform but rather tightly connected to it About the Editor Karin van Marle is a Professor at the Department of Legal History Comparative Law and Jurisprudence at the Faculty of Law University of Pretoria

A Revised Edition of the Ordinances of the Government of Ceylon Ceylon, 1894      Failure to Flourish Clare Huntington, 2014 This title argues that the legal regulation of families stands fundamentally at odds with the needs of families Strong stable positive relationships are essential for both individuals and society to flourish but the law makes it harder for parents to provide children with these kinds of relationships Zoning laws can create long commutes and impersonal neighbourhoods Criminal laws can take parents away from home The book contends that we must re orient the legal system to help families avoid crises and when conflicts arise intervene in a manner that heals relationships      The Father Arthur D.
