The Seamstress By Frances De Pontes Peebles:

The Seamstress Frances de Pontes Peebles, 2009-07-28 Winner of the Friends of American Writers Award for Fiction As seamstresses the young sisters Emilia and Luzia dos Santos know how to cut mend and conceal useful skills in the lawless backcountry of Brazil where ruthless land barons feud with bands of outlaw cangaceiros trapping innocent residents in the crossfire Emilia a naive romantic dreams of falling in love with a gentleman and escaping to a big city Quick tempered Luzia also longs for escape finding it in her craft and secret prayers to the saints she believes once saved her life But when Luzia is abducted by cangaceiros led by the infamous Hawk and Emilia stumbles into a marriage with the son of a wealthy and politically powerful doctor the sisters quiet lives diverge in ways they never would have imagined The Seamstress

Frances de Pontes Peebles, 2009 Emilia and Luzia dos Santos orphaned when they were children grow up under the protection of their aunt in the hillside village of Taquaritinga Brazil Raised as seamstresses the sisters learn how to cut how to mend and how to conceal Emilia treasures pretty girlish things and longs to escape from the confines of the little town Captivated by the romances she reads in magazines she dreams of finding love in the bustle and glamour of the city Luzia scarred by a childhood accident that has left her with a deformed arm knows that for her real life can not be romantically embroidered and so she finds solace in her sewing and in the secret prayers to the saints she believes once saved her life But when Luzia is abducted by a gang of rebel bandits the sisters lives diverge in ways they never imagined Whilst Luzia learns to survive in the unforgiving Brazilian outland discovering love in the most unexpected of places Emilia meets the son of a wealthy doctor who seems to offer her everything she has always desired But for the innocent dreamer the excitement of her escape to the city is soon overshadowed by disillusion and loneliness As she learns how to navigate the treacherous waters of Brazilian high society the bandits campaign against the land owning colonels intensifies and when a price is placed upon Luzia's head Emilia realises she must risk everything in order to save her sister The Seamstress Frances de Pontes

Fashion, Gender and Agency in Latin American and Spanish Literature Stephanie N. Saunders, 2021 In the last two decades the glorification of sewing whether involving needlework tailoring or fashion design has thrived in Latin American and Iberian cultural works particularly literature In the last two decades the glorification of sewing whether involving needlework tailoring or fashion design has thrived in Latin American and Iberian cultural works particularly literature While fast fashion has relegated the handicraft to maquiladoras in the Global South Spanish and Latin American authors have created protagonists whose skill with needle and thread allows them to break out of culturally confining roles and spaces In this fictional realm seamstresses and tailors enter exciting adventures as spies peacemakers or explorers all facilitated by their artistry and expertise This book examines the depiction of women and the textile arts in contemporary Hispanic and Brazilian literature Employing space and gender theories the book explores how sewing traditionally viewed as respectable only if practiced at home gives agency and encourages self reflection and mobility allowing protagonists to transgress physical and socially prescribed limits Texts analyzed include Mar a Due as's El tiempo entre costuras 2009 C sar Aira's La costurera y el viento 1994 Pedro Lemebel's Tengo miedo torero 2001 Francesc Ponte de Peebles's The Seamstress 2009 and children's literature Encouraging readers to look behind garments to the agents of production the book shows how contemporary authors through their celebrations of an age old skill help to renew interest in sewing tailoring upcycling and embroidery

Texts and Textiles Diana Mary Eva Thomas, 2017-03-07 This study shows how fiction that makes use of textiles as an essential element utilizes synaesthetic writing and synaesthetic metaphor to create an affective link to and response in the reader These links and responses are examined using affect theory from Silvan Tomkins and Brian Massumi and work on synaesthesia by Richard Cytowic Lawrence Marks and V S Ramachandran among others Synaesthetic writing including synaesthetic metaphors has been explored in poetry since the 1920s and more recently in fiction but these studies have been general in nature By narrowing the field of investigation to those novels that specifically employ three types of hand crafted textiles quilt making knitting and embroidery the book isolates how these textiles are used in fiction The combination of synaesthesia memory metaphor and particularly synaesthetic metaphor in fiction with textiles in the text of the case studies selected shows how these are used to create affect in readers enhancing their engagement in the story The work is framed within the context of the history of textile production and the use of textiles in fiction internationally but concentrates on Australian authors who have used textiles in their writing The decision to focus on Australian authors was taken in light of the quality and depth of the writing of textile fiction produced in Australia between 1980 and 2005 in the three categories of hand crafted textiles quilt making knitting and embroidery The texts chosen for intensive study are Kate Grenville's The Idea of Perfection 1999 quilting Marele Day's Lambs of God 1997 knitting and Anne Bartlett's Knitting 2005 knitting Jessica Anderson's Tirra Lirra by the River 1978
