Arrival City How The Largest Migration In History Is Reshaping Our World:

Arrival City Doug Saunders, 2011-03-22 Look around the largest migration in human history is under way For the first time ever more people are living in cities than in rural areas Between 2007 and 2050 the world's cities will have absorbed 3.1 billion people Urbanization is the mass movement that will change our world during the twenty first century and the arrival city is where it is taking place The arrival city exists on the outskirts of the metropolis in the slums or in the suburbs the American version is New York's Lower East Side of a century ago or today's Herndon County Virginia These are the places where newcomers try to establish new lives and to integrate themselves socially and economically Their goal is to build communities to save and invest and hopefully move out making room for the next wave of migrants For some success is years away for others it will never come at all As vibrant places of exchange arrival cities have long been indicators of social health Whether it's Paris in 1789 or Tehran in 1978 whenever migrant populations are systematically ignored we should expect violence and extremism But as the award winning journalist Doug Saunders demonstrates when we make proper investments in our arrival cities through transportation education security and citizenship a prosperous middle class develops Saunders takes us on a tour of these vital centers from Maryland to Shenzhen from the favelas of Rio to the shantytowns of Mumbai from Los Angeles to Nairobi He uncovers the stories both inspiring and heartbreaking of the people who live there and he shows us how the life or death of our arrival cities will determine the shape of our future

Rethinking Life at the Margins Michele Lancione, 2016-04-20 Experimenting with new ways of looking at the contexts subjects processes and multiple political stances that make up life at the margins this book provides a novel source for a critical rethinking of marginalisation Drawing on post colonialism and critical assemblage thinking the rich ethnographic works presented in the book trace the assemblage of marginality in multiple case studies encompassing the Global North and South These works are united by the approach developed in the book characterised by the refusal of a priori definitions and by a post human and grounded take on the assemblage of life The result is a nuanced attention to the potential expressed by everyday articulations and a commitment to produce a processual vitalist and non normative cultural politics of the margins The reader will find in this book unique challenges to accepted and authoritative thinking and provides new insights into researching life at the margins

A Research Agenda for Cities John Rennie Short, 2017-03-31 Elgar Research Agendas outline the future of research in a given area Leading scholars are given the space to explore their subject in provocative ways and map out the potential directions of travel They are relevant but also visionary This book provides a critical assessment of key areas of urban scholarship In twelve stimulating chapters expert contributors examine a range of important pressing topics from sustainability and gentrification to feminist interventions and globalization to security and food issues Six more regionally informed expert reviews examine recent urban research in sub Saharan Africa South America East Asia the Middle East Australia and Eastern Europe The chapters provide polemical assessments and signposts for future

Return Migration and Regional Development in Europe Robert Nadler,Zoltán Kovács,Birgit Glorius,Thilo Lang,2016-07-30 This book assesses recent migration patterns in Europe which have significantly included return migration against the stream of East West migration Since the Eastern enlargement of the EU many regions of Central and Eastern European have experienced a loss of human resources in core industries raising concerns about social economic and territorial cohesion in the region The success rates of national and regional governmental policy aiming to retain or re attract skilled workers have been variable yet return migration has emerged as a major element of migration flows Bringing together leading researchers on this important topic in contemporary European geography the contributors analyse a series of key issues These include theoretical frameworks in the field of return migration the nexus between return migration and regional development the effects of the global and European crisis on emigration and return migration non economic motivations for emigration and return the intergenerational character of return migration and the reintegration of return migrants into post socialist societies Taken together the chapters see return migrants as important agents of change innovation and economic growth The book will be of great interest for scholars and students of human economic and political geography

Porous City Sophie Wolfrum,2018-03-19 Some time ago Walter

Benjamin and Asja Lacis used the term porosity with reference to Naples urban characteristics spaces merging into each other and providing the backdrop for the unforeseen improvisation as a way of life Today the term porosity in this context is increasingly used conceptually Well known authors from the worlds of architecture town planning and landscape design embark on a search for new concepts for a life enhancing user friendly city with reference to this enigmatic term The term refers to the overlaying and interweaving of spaces and structures to urban textures and their architectural properties and qualities to cities with radically mixed urban functions Transformation Processes in Europe and Beyond Florian Weber, Olaf Kühne, Julia Dittel, 2024-07-05 Europe and the world in all their diversity and complexity have always been and continue to be in a state of change Recent geo political environmental social and economic developments demonstrate a world in constant flux These ever changing framework conditions require corresponding transformations in many different structures This anthology takes these observations as a starting point to illuminate theoretical perspectives methodological approaches and empirical insights related to recent transformation processes in Europe and beyond with a special focus in this respect on the USA In view of their comprehensive nature transformation processes cannot be analysed from a single perspective a uniform approach or theory would fail to address their complexity and contingency In this sense horizontal geographies serves as our theoretical framework The concept refers to comprehensive synthesizing regional analyses which collect structure and reflect on knowledge with diverse spatial social and cultural contexts The interdisciplinary and international authorship does justice to the idea of horizontal multi perspective geographies and considers a wide range of transformation processes in Europe and beyond Translation and Migration Moira Inghilleri, 2016-12-08 Translation and Migration examines the ways in which the presence or absence of translation in situations of migratory movement has currently and historically shaped social cultural and economic relations between groups and individuals Acts of cultural and linguistic translation are discussed through a rich variety of illustrative literary ethnographic visual and historical materials also taking in issues of multiculturalism assimilation and hybridity analytically re framed This is key reading for students undertaking Translation Studies courses and will also be of interest to researchers in sociology cultural studies anthropology and migration studies The Lure of the City Austin Williams, Alastair Donald, 2011-09-12 Cities by their very nature are a mass of contradictions They can be at once visually stunning culturally rich exploitative and unforgiving In The Lure of the City Austin Williams and Alastair Donald explore the potential of cities to meet the economic social and political challenges of the current age This book seeks to examine the dynamics of urban life showing that new opportunities can be maximised and social advances realised in existing and emerging urban centres The book explores both the planned and organic nature of urban developments and the impacts and aspirations of the people who live and work in them It argues convincingly that the metropolitan mindset is essential to the struggle for human liberation The short accessibly written essays are guaranteed to spark debate across the media and academia about the place of cities and urban life in our ever changing world Urban

Displacement Are John Knudsen, Sarah A. Tobin, 2024-03-01 Syria's massive displacement from 2012 onwards is one of the largest most complex and intractable humanitarian emergencies of today More than 5.7 million Syrian refugees live mainly in cities and urban areas throughout the Middle East Urban Displacement examines multiple dimensions of this crisis from political and socioeconomic predicaments to questions of social belonging the complexity of the international regional and national responses and how they affect urban spaces The volume brings together experts in the field of forced migration studies and displacement in the Middle East and presents a range of in depth ethnographic data cross sectional surveys and policy analyses

Transformative Sustainable Development Kei Otsuki, 2014-12-05 Recent debates about sustainable development have shifted their focus from fixing environmental problems in a technocratic and economic way to more fundamental changes in social political processes and relations In this context participation is a genuinely transformative approach to sustainable development yet the process by which participation leads to transformation is not sufficiently understood This book considers how the act of participating in sustainable development projects can bring about social transformation that is considered to be fair and just by the participants and non participants in a broader societal context Drawing on ideas from social theory and applied anthropology the book proposes a reflexivity based framework to analyse participation as a type of social action underpinned by primary experience Development projects have a transformative effect when participants are given the opportunity to reflect on their experience share the reflection with others and open new space for collective deliberation and change The book applies this framework to assess community based participatory projects in the Amazon African slums and rural settlements and disaster stricken areas in Japan It also outlines potential institutions of governance to institutionalize the change by referring to current food governance drawing out lessons with international relevance This book will be of interest to students of sustainable development environmental policy and development studies as well as practitioners and policy makers in these fields

Introduction to Urban Science Luis M. A. Bettencourt, 2021-08-17 A novel integrative approach to cities as complex adaptive systems applicable to issues ranging from innovation to economic prosperity to settlement patterns Human beings around the world increasingly live in urban environments In Introduction to Urban Science Luis Bettencourt takes a novel integrative approach to understanding cities as complex adaptive systems claiming that they require us to frame the field of urban science in a way that goes beyond existing theory in such traditional disciplines as sociology geography and economics He explores the processes facilitated by and in many cases unleashed for the first time by urban life through the lenses of social heterogeneity complex networks scaling circular causality and information Though the idea that cities are complex adaptive systems has become mainstream until now those who study cities have lacked a comprehensive theoretical framework for understanding cities and urbanization for generating useful and falsifiable predictions and for constructing a solid body of empirical evidence so that the discipline of urban science can continue to develop Bettencourt applies his framework to such issues as innovation and development across scales human reasoning and strategic decision making patterns of settlement and mobility and their influence on socioeconomic life and resource use inequality and inequity biodiversity and the challenges of sustainable development in both high and low income nations It is crucial says Bettencourt to realize that cities are not zero sum games and that knowledge human cooperation and collective action can build a better future

Grounding Berlin Timothy Moss, 2025-06-10 Grounding Berlin explores the city's pioneering contributions to urban technology and urban ecology in Europe and around the world over the past 150 years Following the 1871 unification of Germany Berlin experienced rapid industrialization and urbanization Providing the necessary energy water waste removal and land required massive interventions in the city and its surrounding region As Berlin transformed nature in the name of urban modernism it earned a global reputation as a technopolis This reputation for innovation in urban technology was fanned in the Weimar Republic and revived in very different ways in West Berlin to cope with political isolation after 1949 to embrace a sustainability agenda in the early years of the reunified city and to decarbonize the city today Berlin is an instructive case study for understanding the ambitions and tensions involved in transforming environments through technology across highly diverse political regimes More broadly the book advances envirotech history as a productive lens for studying shifting relationships between society nature and technology in cities

London Exile Burcu Dogramaci, 2025-09-01 In the 1930s and 1940s London was a metropolis of artistic exile and a place of refuge from Nazi persecution London Exile is the first book to look at the British capital as a sanctuary for modern artists The city presented its new arrivals with opportunities and challenges exiles established galleries founded publishing houses and magazines collaborated with local artists organised exhibitions published their work and built networks Artistic and theoretical production flourished in close dialogue with urban space This volume sheds light on how the arrival of exiles transformed London's art scene and conversely how the experience of displacement and the city shaped the work of migrants in fields such as art architecture and photography London Exile brings art history urban studies and exile studies into a vibrant dialogue and contributes to a new understanding of the history of modern art

People Disrupted Kim Jinbong, Dwight P. Baker, Jonathan J. Bonk, J. Nelson Jennings, Jae Hoon Lee, 2018-06-30 Doing Mission Responsibly among Refugees and Migrants Migration has been a major source of change and a central feature in human development but the sheer magnitude and relentlessness of migrant movements in recent decades defy easy analysis The Korean Global Mission Leadership Forum desires accountability in Christian world mission This volume is the outcome of the multinational case studies and responses presented at KGMLF's 2017 consultation held in Sokcho Korea on the subject Migration Human Dislocation and Accountability in Missions The studies presented deal with significant issues in Christian mission and address the case of North Korean migrants the sufferings of Iraqis fleeing from war African refugees Syrian refugees in Lebanon overseas Filipino workers the situation of refugees in Europe and other refugee cases

Displacement, Elimination and Replacement of Indigenous People Kangira, Jairos, Nhemachena, Artwell, 2019-02-19 Colonial scholars have taken immense pleasure in portraying Africans as possessed by spirits but as lacking possession and ownership of their resources including land. Erroneously deemed to be thoroughly spiritually possessed but lacking senses of material possession and ownership of resources, Africans have been consistently dispossessed and displaced from the era of enslavement through colonialism to the neocolonial era. Delving into the historiography of dispossession and displacement on the continent of Africa and in particular in Zimbabwe, this book also tackles contemporary forms of dispossession and displacement manifesting in the ongoing transnational corporations' land grabs in Africa, wherein African peasants continue to be dispossessed and displaced. Focusing on the topical issues around dispossession and repossession of land and the attendant displacements in contemporary Zimbabwe, the book theorises displacements from a decolonial Pan Africanist perspective and it also unpacks various forms of displacements: corporeal, noncorporeal, cognitive, spiritual, genealogical and linguistic displacements among others. The book is an excellent read for scholars from a variety of disciplines such as Geography, Sociology, Social Anthropology, History, Linguistics, Development Studies, Science and technology Studies, Jurisprudence and Social Theory, Law and Philosophy. The book also offers intellectual grit for policy makers and implementers, civil society organisations including activists as well as thinkers interested in decolonisation and transformation.
