The Gospel Of Life By Pope John Paul II:

The Gospel of Life Pope John Paul II, 1995-04-03 Reaffirming the greatness and inestimable value of human life Pope John Paul II discusses in this encyclical letter the present day legal ethical and moral threats to life In view of today's climate of practical materialism he addresses among other issues abortion artificial reproduction techniques contraception death penalty euthanasia legitimate defense sterilization suicide The Holy Father encourages the faithful to promote and develop the Christian message concerning life based on the goodness and dignity of life and on the human responsibility to share in the fullness and truth of God's love In order to build a new culture of human life through prayer and action he welcomes evangelization efforts and stresses the role of the family in bringing this to fruition Noting the unique role of women in promoting a new feminism that overcomes discrimination violence and exploitation the pope recognizes the witness of love through motherhood and also adds a special word to women who have had an abortion The letter concludes by looking to Jesus in order that all may contemplate the life that was made manifest and to the example and solace of Mary who is the mother of life The Gospel of Life Catholic Church. Pope (1978-2005 : John Paul II), Pope John Paul II, 1995 The encyclical letter March 25 1995 on abortion euthanasia and the death penalty in today's world The Gospel of Life John Pope, John Paul II, 1997-11-25 The Gospel of Life Pope John Paul II, 1995 The Legacy of Pope John Paul II Alan Schreck, 2012 Popes are the Church's chief shepherds While some focused on governing the Church and addressing challenges from the world others recognized their primary responsibility to proclaim and teach the Gospel Author Alan Schreck calls these the teaching popes and John Paul II was such a pope leading the Church and impacting the world with his witness and his teaching The encyclical letter has been in modern times the instrument for popes to express their most important teaching teachings that have lasting value for the Church and often for the whole world Dr Schreck invites the reader to become familiar with the encyclical letters of Pope John Paul II In The Legacy of Pope John Paul II Dr Schreck breaks down more scholarly writing into accessible language The reflection questions and suggestions for further reading at the end of each chapter help facilitate a systematic study of the central teachings of this brilliant but pastoral pope who conveyed the truth in love Evangelium Vitae Catholic Church. Pope (1978-2005 : John Paul II), 1995 From its very title Evangelium Vitae The Gospel of Life Pope John Paul II showed that he wished to give the protection of life from conception to its natural end a highly positive character and great new spiritual thrust While realistically countering new and unprecedented threats to life and the rapid spread of a culture of death the primary intention of this document is to proclaim the good news of the value and dignity of each human life of its grandeur and worth also in its temporal phase The cause of life is in fact at the same time the cause of the Gospel and the cause of man the cause entrusted to the church This encyclical was published following consultation with an extraordinary Consistory of Cardinals in 1991 and subsequently with all the bishops of the world It is a precise and vigorous reaffirmation of the value of human life and its inviolability containing a pressing appeal addressed to each and every person in the name of God Respect protect love and serve life every human life Only in this direction will you find justice development true freedom peace and happiness The Gospel of Life : Encyclical Letter Evangelium Vitae Addressed by the Supreme Pontiff John Paul II to the Bishops, Priests and Deacons, Men and Women Religious, Lay Faithful and All People of Good Will on the Value and Inviolability of Human Life Pope John Paul II,1995
