The Dead Room By Robert Ellis:

The Dead Room Robert Ellis, 2002 With a truly savage and cunning serial killer on the loose civil attorney Teddy Mack realizes that if he is to stop his crimes then he will have to enter the killer's maze a place of unimaginable terror and shocking revelations The Lost Witness Robert Ellis, 2010-11-23 He was hiding in the shadows staring at her And he was close He must have crept around the row of cars when she turned her back They were alone All alone When disgraced LA homicide detective Lena Gamble is finally given a new case she suspects she's being set up The body of a young woman is discovered in a rubbish truck on Hollywood Boulevard There are no apparent witnesses and no clues Just a naked body badly mutilated and gruesome enough to ensure that once again the media will be following Lena's every move Desperate to prove herself she teams up with colleague Stan Rhodes and together they follow a tip which leads them to ID the girl Jennifer McBride was a twenty five year old prostitute with a wealthy clientele but Lena discovers something about her which no one could ever have imagined As the body count continues to rise everything looks as the killer wants it to look and Lena comes to understand that he is cleaning house The question is why And will she survive long enough to find the shocking answer

Love You More Than You Know Janie Reinart, Mary Anne Mayer, In these personal stories 45 Ohio mothers open their hearts and share what it feels like when your son or daughter leaves home to fight a war Some were stunned to learn one sunny afternoon that their baby had enlisted in the Marines Others had long been familiar with military life But all knew their life had just changed the day their child called and said Mom I'm being deployed They discovered the strange mix of pride and fear The anxiety of not knowing exactly where in Iraq or Afghanistan your son is whether your daughter is facing mortar fire or enduring heat and boredom Elation at the arrival of the briefest postcard or email message The daily dread when returning home from work or a trip to the grocery store of seeing a government car in the driveway and two soldiers at the door Any parent who reads these stories will feel their power and will gain a greater understanding of the sacrifice made by parents as well as their children in our military service Fictions of Finance at the End of an American Century Richard Godden, 2023-06-19 Fictions of Finance at the End of an American Century explores how an economy determines the language of those who live among its imperatives and how it makes available to them the stories that they can and cannot tell and the manner of their telling Read closely fictional narrative may expose the historical structures that determine literary language use and that of language more generally The study the fourth in a quartet of studies addressing the emergence and decline of a Fordist regime of capitalist accumulation offers an account of the sub semantic whispering that haunts the literature of the financial turn which is to say an account of how the complexities of words and their histories register an expanding industrial economy's organizing contradictions and failures Reading in the light of deindustrialization and the rise of US finance capital after 1973 it deploys and elaborates on a materialist theory of language that explains how syntactic as well as semantic structures register a financializing economy's core contradictions those associated particularly with debt
