The Works of Edward Everett Hale: The man without a country, and other stories

Edward Everett Hale, 1898 The Man Without a Country Edward E. Hale, 2017-08-27 The Man Without a Country is a short story by American writer Edward Everett Hale first published in The Atlantic in December 1863 It is the story of American Army lieutenant Philip Nolan who renounces his country during a trial for treason and is consequently sentenced to spend the rest of his days at sea without so much as a word of news about the United States Though the story is set in the early 19th century it is an allegory about the upheaval of the American Civil War and was meant to promote the Union cause

Edward Everett Hale Edward Everett Hale (Sr.), 1901 The Man Without a Country Edward Everett Hale, 2008-04 Edward Everett Hale 1822 1909 was an American author and Unitarian clergyman He published The Man Without a Country as a short story in the Atlantic Monthly in 1863 Although the events of the novel were set in the early 1800s the story was an allegory and implicitly referred to the upheaval of the American Civil War The Man Without A Country Edward Everett Hale, 2004-06-01 And then the old man took off his own sword of ceremony and gave it to Nolan and made him put it on The man told me this who saw it Nolan cried like a baby and well he might He had not worn a sword since that infernal day at Fort Adams But always afterwards on occasions of ceremony he wore that quaint old French sword of the commodore s

The Man Without a Country Edward Everett Hale, 1888 Philip Nolan having in a moment of passion expressed the wish that he might never again hear of the United States is required to realize his wish The story of his awakening to a sense of his deprivation is a moving plea for love of country Edward Everett Hale's The Man Without a Country Connor P.

Army lieutenant Philip Nolan who develops a friendship with the visiting Aaron Burr When Burr is tried for treason historically this occurred in 1807 Nolan is tried as an accomplice During his testimony he bitterly renounces his nation angrily shouting I wish I may never hear of the United States again The judge is completely shocked at this announcement and on convicting him icily grants him his wish he is to spend the rest of his life aboard United States Navy warships in exile with no right ever again to set foot on U S soil and with explicit orders that no one shall ever mention his country to him again The sentence is carried out to the letter For the rest of his life Nolan is transported from ship to ship living out his life as a prisoner on the high seas never once allowed back in a home port Though he is treated according to his former rank nothing of his country is ever mentioned to him None of the sailors in whose custody Nolan remains is allowed to speak to him about the U S and his newspapers are censored Nolan is unrepentant at first but over the years becomes sadder and wiser and desperate for news One day as he is being transferred to another ship he beseeches a young sailor never to make the same mistake that he had Remember boy that behind all these men behind officers and government and people even there is the Country Herself your Country and that you belong to her as you belong to your own mother Stand by her boy as you would stand by your mother On one such ship he attends a party in which he dances with a young lady he had formerly known He then beseeches her to tell him something anything about the United States but she quickly withdraws and speaks no longer to him Deprived of a homeland Nolan slowly and painfully learns the true worth of his country He misses it more than his friends or family more than art or music or love or nature Without it he is nothing Dying aboard the USS Levant he shows his room to an officer named Danforth it is a little shrine of patriotism The Stars and Stripes are draped around a picture of George Washington Over his bed Nolan has painted a bald eagle with lightning blazing from his beak and claws grasping the globe At the foot of his bed is an outdated map of the United States showing many of its old territories that had unbeknownst to him been admitted to statehood Nolan smiles Here you see I have a country The dying man asks desperately to be told the news of American history since 1807 and Danforth finally relates to him almost all of the major events that have happened to the U S since his sentence was imposed the narrator confesses however that I could not make up my mouth to tell him a word about this infernal rebellion Nolan then asks him to bring his copy of the Presbyterian Book of Public Prayer and read the page where it will automatically open These are the words Most heartily we beseech Thee with Thy favor to behold and bless Thy servant the President of the United States and all others in authority Nolan says I have repeated those prayers night and morning it is now fifty five years
