Routledge Companion to Theatre-Fiction Graham Wolfe, 2023-11-14 Novelists have long been attracted to theatre. Some have pursued success on the stage but many have sought to combine these worlds entering theatre through their fiction setting stages on their novels pages and casting actors directors and playwrights as their protagonists. The Routledge Companion to Theatre Fiction has convened an international community of scholars to explore the remarkable array of novelists from many eras and parts of the world who have created fiction from the stuff of theatre asking what happens to theatre on the pages of novels and what happens to novels when they collaborate with theatre. From J W Goethe to Louisa May Alcott Mikhail Bulgakov Virginia Woolf and Margaret Atwood some of history's most influential novelists have written theatre fiction and this Companion discusses many of these figures from new angles. But it also spotlights writers who have received less critical attention such as Dorothy Leighton Agustín de Rojas Villandrando Ronald Firbank Syed Mustafa Siraj Li Yu and Vicente Blasco Ibañez bringing their work into conversation with a vital field. A valuable resource for students scholars and admirers of both theatre and novels. The Routledge Companion to Theatre Fiction offers a wealth of new perspectives on topics of increasing critical concern including intermediality theatricality antitheatricality mimesis diegesis and performativity.

Exploring the Concept of Feel for Wellbeing and Performance Jay Kimiecik, Doug Newburg, 2022-12-13 This book analyses and unpacks the term Feel by exploring its many definitions and examples in real life. Incorporating psychological theories and case studies it offers a groundbreaking look into what it means to Feel and its importance in people's everyday lives. Experiencing life without Feel has led to many deleterious performance health and wellbeing consequences. Exploring the Concept of Feel for Wellbeing and Performance takes a deep dive into the origins and definitions of Feel asking what has happened to the Feel experience and what people must do to recoup their Feel. With a highly accessible tone and clear structure the book provides its readers with effective ways to improve performance and enhance wellbeing. The authors challenge the status quo of both performance science and wellbeing practices and begin a conversation on why people should be more proactive when it comes to their Feel. Anyone interested in helping themselves or others with performance excellence and wellbeing will benefit from this book which blends science and practice and provides many examples of people from all walks of life who live with Feel The book will also be key reading for students and practitioners interested in sport psychology leadership studies mental health studies counselling and life coaching Wordsmithery Jayne Steel,2006-11-09 This stimulating workbook is aimed at committed writers and students of creative writing who want to engage with ideas about writing and develop their craft and practice Drawing on the expertise of a range of professional and award winning contributors the focus is on writing as process moving from practical guidance on form and style through to using themes such as body or house as a creative springboard Including specially designed writing exercises and illustrative extracts this innovative guide will inspire and challenge It is an essential resource for anyone who wishes to master the art and practice of creative writing and galvanise their talent to professional and publication level Contributions by Linda Anderson Theodore Deppe George Green Graeme Harper aka Brooke Biaz William Herbert Lee Martin Jenny Newman Jayne Steel and a Foreword by Patricia Duncker Contemporary Fiction and Christianity Andrew Tate,2010-10-12

Western Movie References in American Literature Henryk Hoffmann,2012-10-19 References to western movies scattered over some 250 works by more than 130 authors constitute the subject matter of this book arranged in an encyclopedic format The entries are distributed among western movies television series big screen and television actors western writers directors and miscellaneous topics related to the genre The data cover films from The Great Train Robbery 1903 to No Country for Old Men 2007 and the entries include many western film milestones from The Aryan through Shane to Unforgiven television classics Gunsmoke Bonanza and great screen cowboys of both A and B productions Latin in Modern Fiction Henryk Hoffmann,2021-07-06 The goal of this book is to prove that Latin is not a dead language by demonstrating how prevalent and strong it still is in modern Western culture In order to do so the author an English philologist with a long experience as a Latin educator catalogues explains and interprets Latin quotations and references in a multitude of twentieth and twenty first century literary works by primarily mainstream authors from Aldous Huxley to Saul Bellow to John Irving crime mystery writers from Raymond Chandler to Elizabeth George to Dennis Lehane and frontier western novelists from Emerson Hough to Larry McMurtry The three areas of fiction constituting the main scope of the book indicate the author s major interest and preference as well as the subject matter of his extensive research both prior and current the former related to his already published books The writers offering the most impressive contributions to the thesis are featured in the three parts of the main body those with lesser input are listed in the Appendix The prospective readers of the book include all Latin students and educators at the secondary and college levels worldwide Faint Praise Gail Pool,2007-07-06 For more than two hundred years book reviewers have influenced American readers setting our literary agenda by helping us determine not only what we read but also what we think about what we read And for nearly as long critics of these critics have lambasted book reviews for their overpraise hostility banality and bias Faint Praise takes a hard and long overdue look at the institution of book reviewing Gail Pool herself an accomplished reviewer and review editor analyzes the inner workings of this troubled trade to show how it works and why it so often fails to work well She reveals why bad reviewing happens despite good intentions and how it is that so many intelligent people who love books can say so many unintelligent things on their behalf Reviewers have the power to award prestige to authors give prominence to topics and shape opinion and taste yet most readers have little knowledge of why certain books are selected for review why certain reviewers are selected to review them and why they so often praise books that aren't all that good Pool takes readers behind the scenes to describe how editors choose books for review and assign them to reviewers and she examines the additional roles played by publishers authors and readers In describing the context of reviewing she reveals a culture with little interest in literature much antipathy to criticism and a decided weakness for praise In dissecting the language of reviews Pool demonstrates how it often boils down to unbelievable hype Pool explores the multifaceted world of book reviewing today contrasting traditional methods of reviewing with alternative book coverage from Amazon.com to Oprah and suggesting how the more established practices could be revised She also explores the divide between service journalism practiced by reviewers versus the alleged high art served up by literary critics and what this fuzzy boundary between reviewing and criticism really means This is the first book to analyze the field in depth weighing the inherent difficulties of reviewing against the unacceptable practices that undermine the very reasons we read and need reviews

Faint Praise is a book not just for those who create and review books but also for everyone who loves books By demystifying this hidden process Pool helps everyone understand how to read reviews and better decide what to read
