Agnotology The Making And Unmaking Of Ignorance:

Agnotology Robert Proctor, Londa Schiebinger, Londa L. Schiebinger, 2008 This volume emerged from workshops held at Pennsylvania State University in 2003 and Stanford University in 2005 P vii Towards a Liberatory Epistemology Deborah K. Heikes, 2019-05-06 This book offers a compelling examination of our moral and epistemic obligations to be reasonable people who seek to understand the social reality of those who are different from us Considering the oppressive aspects of socially constructed ignorance Heikes argues that ignorance produces both injustice and epistemic repression before going on to explore how our moral and epistemic obligations to be understanding and reasonable can overcome the negative effects of ignorance Through the combination of three separate areas of philosophical interest ignorance understanding and reasonableness Heikes seeks to find a way to correct for epistemological and moral injustices satisfying needs in feminist theory and critical race theory for an epistemology that offers hope of overcoming the ethical problem of oppression The Female Turn Malin Ah-King, 2023-01-04 This book traces the history of how evolutionary biology transformed its understanding of females from being coy reserved and sexually passive to having active sexual strategies and often mating with multiple males Why did it take so long to discover female active sexual strategies What prevented some researchers from engaging in sexually active females and what prompted others to develop this new knowledge The Female Turn provides a global overview of shifting perceptions about females in sexual selection research on a wide range of animals from invertebrates to primates Evolutionary biologist and feminist science scholar Malin Ah King explores this history from a unique interdisciplinary vantage point Based on extensive knowledge of the scientific literature on sexual selection and in depth interviews with leading researchers pioneers and feminist scientists in the field her analysis engages with key theoretical approaches in gender studies of science Analyzing the researchers scientific interests theoretical frameworks specific study animals technological innovations methodologies and sometimes feminist insights reveals how these have shaped conclusions drawn about sex Thereby The Female Turn shows how certain researchers gained knowledge about active females whereas others missed ignored or delayed it that is how ignorance was produced The Politics of Knowledge Patrick Baert, Fernando Domínguez Rubio, 2013-03 This volume explores how the relation between knowledge and the political is developing in the rapidly evolving context of knowledge societies By analysing how the traditional boundaries and categories of the political are being redefined in the age of communication technologies and information economies this monograph provides a novel perspective on current debates about knowledge societies Justice in the Age of Agnosis James Gacek, Richard Jochelson, 2024-05-18 This book seeks to further the understanding of the human experience of coerced and forced ignorance on social human rights and criminal justice related topics drawing together scholars from multiple disciplinary fronts It argues that people in our social world are forced or coerced through either implicatory or interpretive denial that is normalized through specific cultural and social mechanisms by which we refer to this as non knowledge or agnosis There has also been a lack of scholarship which examines how human victimization and power intersects by and through the systematic orchestration of forced ignorance and doubt upon daily human life This book s focus is an examination of the ways in which people find themselves in social spaces without empirical clarity and understand that absence as satisfaction stability or perhaps even pleasure It discusses a range of topics including for example people s sense of relative safety despite empirical realities suggesting otherwise This book seeks to make visible the role of ignorance in governing society highlighting how the late modern human experience in a post World War II human rights era subsumes subverts and sublimates the complex relationship between knowledge and denial the empirical gulf between knowledge and resistance may indeed breed complicit bliss

Histories of the Dustheap Stephanie Foote, Elizabeth Mazzolini, 2012 An examination of how garbage reveals the relationships between the global and the local the economic and the ecological and the historical and the contemporary Garbage considered both materially and culturally elicits mixed responses Our responsibility toward the objects we love and then discard is entangled with our responsibility toward the systems that make those objects Histories of the Dustheap uses garbage waste and refuse to investigate the relationships between various systems the local and the global the economic and the ecological the historical and the contemporary and shows how this most democratic reality produces identities social relations and policies The contributors first consider garbage in subjective terms examining toxic autobiography by residents of Love Canal the intersection of public health and women s rights and enviroblogging They explore the importance of place with studies of post Katrina soil contamination in New Orleans e waste disposal in Bloomington Indiana and garbage on Mount Everest And finally they look at cultural contradictions as objects hover between waste and desirability examining Milwaukee s efforts to sell its sludge as fertilizer the plastics industry s attempt to wrap plastic bottles and bags in the mantle of freedom of choice and the idea of obsolescence in the animated film The Brave Little Toaster Histories of the Dustheap offers a range of perspectives on a variety of incarnations of garbage inviting the reader to consider garbage in a way that goes beyond the common buy green discourse that empowers individuals while limiting environmental activism to consumerist practices

A Modern Guide to Knowledge Francisco J. Carrillo, 2022-11-18 Outlining an integrative theory of knowledge Francisco Javier Carrillo explores how to understand the underlying behavioural basis of the knowledge economy and society Chapters highlight the notion that unless a knowledge based value creation and distribution paradigm is globally adopted the possibilities for integration between a sustainable biosphere and a viable economy are small

The Taste of Water Christy Spackman, 2023-12-19 The Taste of Water explores the increasing erasure of tastes from drinking water over the twentieth century It asks how dramatic changes in municipal water treatment have altered consumers awareness of the environment their water comes from Through examination of the development of sensory expertise in the United States and France over the twentieth century this unique history uncovers the foundational role palatability has played in shaping Western water treatment processes By focusing on the relationship between taste and the environment Christy Spackman shows how efforts to erase unwanted tastes and smells have transformed water into a highly industrialized food product divorced from the natural environment The Taste of Water invites readers to question their own assumptions about what water does and should naturally taste like while exposing them to the invisible but substantial sensory labor involved in creating tap water Socio-Historical

Slade,2020-05-01 Socio Historical Examination of Religion and Ministry SHERM journal is a biannual not for profit free peer reviewed academic journal that publishes the latest social scientific historiographic and ecclesiastic research on religious institutions and their ministerial practices SHERM is dedicated to the critical and scholarly inquiry of historical and contemporary religious phenomena both from within particular religious traditions and across cultural boundaries so as to inform the broader socio historical analysis of religion and its related fields of study The purpose of SHERM is to provide a scholarly medium for the social scientific study of religion where specialists can publish advanced studies on religious trends theologies rituals philosophies socio political influences or experimental and applied ministry research in the hopes of generating enthusiasm for the vocational and academic study of religion while fostering collegiality among religious specialists Its mission is to provide academics professionals and nonspecialists with critical reflections and evidence based insights into the socio historical study of religion and where appropriate its implications for ministry and expressions of religiosity Consecrating Science Lisa H.

Sideris,2017-08-15 In Consecrating Science Lisa Sideris offers a searing critique of The New Cosmology a complex network of overlapping movements that claim to bring together science and spirituality all in the name of saving our planet from impending ecological collapse Highly regarded in many academic circles these movements have been endorsed by numerous prominent scholars scientists historians and educators Their express goal popularized in numerous books films TED talks YouTube videos podcasts and even introductory courses at places like Harvard or Washington University is to instill in readers and audiences a profound sense of being at home in the universe thereby fostering environmentally responsible behavior Whether promoted as The New Story The Universe Story or The Epic of Evolution they all offer humanity a new sacred story a common creation myth for modern times and for all people the evolutionary unfolding of the universe from the Big Bang to the present Evolutionary science and religious cosmology together at last But as Sideris shows however the New Cosmology actually underwrites a staggeringly anthropocentric vision of the world Instead of cultivating an ethic of respect for nature the project of consecrating science only increases human arrogance and indifference to nonhuman life Going back to the work of Rachel Carson and other naturalists the author shows how a sense of wonder rooted in the natural world and our own ethical impulses helps foster environmental attitudes and policies that protect our planet Provided by publishe

Processing Inaccurate Information David N. Rapp, Jason L.G. Braasch, 2023-04-04 Interdisciplinary approaches to identifying understanding and remediating people's reliance on inaccurate information that they should know to be wrong. Our lives revolve around the acquisition of information. Sometimes the information we acquire from other people, from books, or from the media is wrong. Studies show that people rely on such misinformation, sometimes even when they are aware that the information is inaccurate or invalid. And yet investigations of learning and knowledge acquisition largely ignore encounters with this sort of problematic material. This volume fills the gap, offering theoretical and empirical perspectives on the processing of misinformation and its consequences. The contributors from cognitive science and education science provide analyses that represent a variety of methodologies, theoretical orientations, and fields of expertise. The chapters describe the behavioral consequences of relying on misinformation and outline possible remediations, discuss the cognitive activities that underlie encounters with inaccuracies, investigating why reliance occurs so readily, present theoretical and philosophical considerations of the nature of inaccuracies, and offer formal empirically driven frameworks that detail when and how inaccuracies will lead to comprehension difficulties. Pellow, Xiaorui Huang, 2021-11-01 This handbook defines the contours of environmental sociology and invites readers to push boundaries in their exploration of this important subdiscipline. It offers a comprehensive overview of the evolution of environmental sociology and its role in this era of intensified national and global environmental crises. Its timely frameworks and high impact chapters will assist in navigating this moment of great environmental inequality and uncertainty. The handbook brings together an outstanding group of scholars who have helped redefine the scope of environmental sociology and expand its reach and impact. Their contributions speak to key themes of the subdiscipline: inequality, justice, population, social movements, and health. Chapter topics include environmental demography, food systems, animals, and the environment, climate change, disasters, and much more. The emphasis on public environmental sociology and the forward thinking approach of this collection is what sets this volume apart. This handbook can serve as an introduction for students new to environmental sociology or as an insightful treatment that current experts can use to further their own research and publication. It will leave readers with a strong understanding of environmental sociology and the motivation to apply it to their work.
