April School Vacation 2015

April School Vacation 2015:

Birdville School; A Portrait of Small-Town America in the 20th Century Bob Barrage, 2019-01-03 Birdville School opened in 1922 on the corner of two dirt roads at the edge of a fallow farm. Over the next 67 school years it witnessed and influenced the unfolding story of the town that grew up around it amid flood, brushfire, blizzard, tornado, and earthquake, poverty and prosperity, war, peace, and cold war, and even the collapse of the earth beneath its foundations. Its auditorium and cafeteria hosted PTA meetings, plays, movies, concerts, basketball tournaments, holiday parties, Girl Scout and Boy Scout meetings, polio vaccination clinics, and war-time rationing registrations and scrap collection drives. Local sand lot softball, baseball, and football teams competed in the same surrounding fields that swarmed with gleeful children at recess and that echoed with the roar of low flying aircrafts snagging mailbags on their tail hooks. Among its staff were thespians, musicians, firemen, outdoorsmen, and athletes including a singer who performed in the Coolidge White House, a candidate for the state legislature, an army medic, and a ball player who faced off against the Homestead Grays and the Pittsburgh Pirates. By the time classes concluded for the last time in 1989, thousands of children, including the author, had benefitted from the care, instruction, and example of the Birdville School family. This book is a feeble tribute to those who made us who we are.

Farm to Table Darryl Benjamin, Lyndon Virkler, 2016 A century ago, virtually all food, fruits, vegetables, grains, meat, and dairy was local, grown at home or sourced within a few miles. But today, most food consumed in the United States comes from industrial farms and concentrated animal feeding operations (CAFOs) with ramifications to our health, our environment, and our economy. The tide is turning, however, thanks to what has been called the farm-to-table movement. In Farm to Table, Darryl Benjamin and Chef Lyndon Virkler explore both the roots of our current corporate food system malaise and the response by small farmers, food co-ops, chefs, and restaurateurs, institutions, and many more, to replace the status quo with something more healthy, fair, just, and delicious. Today's consumers are demanding increased accountability from food growers and purveyors. Farm to Table illuminates the best practices and strategies for schools, restaurants, healthcare facilities, and other businesses and institutions to partner with local farmers and food producers, from purchasing to marketing. Readers will also learn about the various alternative techniques that farms are employing, from permaculture to rotation, intensive grazing to produce better tasting and more nutritious food, restore environmental health, and meet consumer demand. A one-of-a-kind resource, Farm to Table shows how to integrate truly sustainable principles into every juncture of our evolving food system. Back cover.

The Earth Memory Compass Farina King, 2018-10-01 The Din or Navajo have their own ways of knowing and being in the world, a cultural identity linked to their homelands through ancestral memory. The Earth Memory Compass traces this tradition as it is imparted from generation to generation and as it has been transformed and often obscured by modern modes of education. An autoethnography of sorts, the book follows Farina King's search for her own Din identity as she investigates the interconnections among Navajo students, their people, and Din Bik yah or Navajo lands across the twentieth century In her exploration of how historical changes in education have reshaped Din identity and community King draws on the insights of ethnohistory cultural history and Navajo language At the center of her study is the Din idea of the Four Directions in which each of the cardinal directions takes its meaning from a sacred mountain and its accompanying element East for instance is Sis Naajin Blanca Peak and white shell West Dook o oos d San Francisco Peaks and abalone North Dib Nitsaa Hesperus Peak and black jet South Tsoodzi Mount Taylor and turquoise King elaborates on the meanings and teachings of the mountains and directions throughout her book to illuminate how Navajos have embedded memories in landmarks to serve as a compass for their people a compass threatened by the dislocation and disconnection of Din students from their land communities and Navajo ways of learning Critical to this story is how inextricably Indigenous education and experience is intertwined with American dynamics of power and history As environmental catastrophes and struggles over resources sever the connections among peoplehood land and water King s book holds out hope that the teachings guidance and knowledge of an earth memory compass still have the power to bring the people and the earth together Leadership Styles in the European Council Martina Vass,2025-02-03 Using the example of Werner Faymann Dalia Grybauskait Angela Merkel Viktor Orb n and Mark Rutte the book examines the impact that the European Council s environment has on leadership styles and the impact of leaders on the institution s decision making during the financial and debt crisis the Ukraine crisis and the migration crisis 2010 2016 It presents domestic factors affecting the choice of leadership style nationally finding cooperative styles are best suited to the European Council as its structure relies on negotiated consensus The European Council s environment has three effects on leadership styles and decision making socialisation towards cooperation compromise making and Europeanisation The book provides an in depth insight into how leaders behave among their peers behind closed doors Focus On: 100 Most Popular 2010s Adventure Films Wikipedia contributors,
