As One With Authority Reflective Leadership In Ministry:

As One with Authority Jackson W. Carroll, 1991-01-01 Teachers of theology seminary students and pas tors will benefit from an encounter with this book with respect to what it does say and with respect to the challenge it poses for further imaginative theolog ical reflection leadership

As One with Authority, Second Edition Jackson W. Carroll, 2011-05-11 Congregations today face both old and often new unprecedented challenges spiritual moral technological and economic for which there are no easy solutions Facing such challenges calls for pastors able to lead with authority in ways at the same time faithful to the gospel and appropriate to the congregation s setting and the issues at hand Yet many pastors are unsure of their authority often experiencing conflict as they attempt to lead Others have abused their authority and brought mistrust and suspicion to ordained ministry making it difficult for other clergy to lead In this book a new and revised edition of his earlier highly regarded work on pastoral authority and leadership Jackson Carroll brings together theological and sociological perspectives to provide an interpretation of pastoral authority as reflective leadership a style of leadership that involves vision and discernment and that is appropriate for the many roles in which pastors engage preaching worship leadership teaching counseling and shaping the congregation s corporate life In this new edition Carroll draws on what he has learned from many conversations with pastors and lay leaders since the book s initial publication as well as insights from others He also introduces helpful new case material from practicing pastors and incorporates the perspectives of several recent leadership theorists and practitioners to deepen and enhance the discussion of pastoral authority as reflective leadership

Women, Church, and Leadership: New Paradigms Eunjoo Mary Kim, Deborah Beth Creamer, 2012-04-06 This book is about leadership a scholarly and pastoral response to the urgent demand for the renewal of the contemporary Christian church. It challenges readers to articulate the identity and vision of the church in new ways and encourages them to revitalize their ministry with fresh insight and passion from women's perspectives. The eight essays written by female scholars in relation to various areas of theological study and the nine pastoral responses to the essays written by ministers from seven different denominations based on their experiences of actual ministerial settings provide new paradigms of church leadership: theologically profound, practically relevant and historically timely. This volume, a product of a collaborative process between academia and church, promises to be a most useful resource to renew the leadership of the church and its vocational commitment to the transformation of the church and society.

By What Authority Do We Teach? Robert W. Pazmino, 2002-04-29 To reject power and its legitimate use is ultimately to reject God's gift and intention for Christians as we live in the world, writes Robert W. Pazmino. He defines what authority is and how it is perceived by and operates in various Christian communities. He applies these factors and the need for confident authoritative teachers specifically to the ministry of Christian education. By What Authority Do We Teach completes a trilogy covering key elements of evangelical education. Also in print are Foundational Issues in Christian Education, an agenda of theological, sociological, psychological, curricular and other concerns, and Principles and Practices of Christian Education, which integrates conversion and connection into the teaching task.

Leadership Formation in the African Context Samuel Deressa, 2022-03-25 The teachings of Christian leadership have been dominated by a focus on the influence of a leader on its followers. Samuel Deressa's new book Leadership Formation in the African Context highlights how an African concept of community and holistic approach to ministry provides a biblically sound approach to understanding leadership formation and practice in this new age. This book links the issue of missional leadership with the life of the congregation. It provides theological and practical insights into how we can understand leadership formation in contexts where churches are engaged in the Missio Dei as a community of believers.

The Wiley Blackwell Companion to Practical Theology Bonnie J. Miller-McLemore, 2014-01-07 Through a series of essays contributed by leading experts in the field, The Wiley Blackwell Companion to Practical Theology presents an introduction to practical theology as a major area of Christian study and practice, including an overview of its key developments, themes, methods and future directions. The first comprehensive reference work to provide a survey, description and analysis of practical theology as an area of study, a range of leading scholars in the field provide original contributions on the major areas, issues and figures in practical theology. Reviews an extensive range of methods for studying theology in practice along with sub-disciplines in theological education such as pastoral care and preaching. Covers developments in the discipline in a range of global contexts and distinct Christian traditions. Shows how practical theology is relevant to everyday life.

Clergy Women Barbara Brown Zikmund, Adair T. Lummis, Patricia M. Y. Chang, 1998-01-01 Perhaps the most significant event in twentieth century American Protestant churches has been the entry of tens of thousands of women into the church's ordained ministry. How are these women's experiences as ministers different from those of their male counterparts? What are their callings and careers like? What are their prospects for employment income and satisfaction? Based on a wealth of statistical data as well as in-depth personal interviews, this book offers the most authoritative information ever about the real experiences of clergy women and men along with anecdotes that show what the life of American clergy today is really like.

Welfare and Religion in 21st Century Europe Per Pettersson, 2011. This book considers the changing nature of both religion and welfare in Europe. It is the second of two volumes. Together they examine the function of majority churches as agents of social welfare in eight European societies: Sweden, Finland, Norway, England, Germany, France, Italy, and Greece. Volume 2 explores the connections between religion and welfare from three perspectives: sociology, gender, and theology. The authors ask new questions about the religious and the secular and the implications of each for the process known as secularization. Looking carefully at the gendered nature of care.

Pastors in Transition Dean R. Hoge, Jacqueline E. Wenger, 2005-05-02. Whether they leave out of preference for another ministry or due to serious conflict, pastors who relinquish parish ministry face misunderstanding and even hostility. Pastors in Transition brings clarity to this little-examined aspect of the pastorate by examining the main reasons why pastors in five Protestant denominations have left parish ministry. The fruit of careful sociological research, Pastors in Transition presents the findings of the largest ever study of recently ended ministries. More than 900 ex-ministers representing the Assemblies of God, the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod, the Presbyterian Church USA, and the United Methodist Church were surveyed or interviewed. Besides gathering facts and figures, the book contains personal stories, forthright opinions, and concrete recommendations from former pastors for strengthening parish ministry in the future.

Jesus and the Stigmatized Elia Shabani Mligo, 2011-08-01. Biblical scholars often read the Bible with their own interpretive interests in mind without associating the Bible with the concerns of laypeople. This largely undermines the contributions laypeople can offer from reading the Bible in their own contexts and from their own life experiences. Moreover, such exclusively scholarly reading conceals the role of biblical texts in dealing with current social problems such as HIV/AIDS-related stigmatization. Hence, the lack of lay participation in the process of Bible reading makes the Bible less visible in various common life situations. In this volume, Elia Shabani Mligo draws on his fieldwork among people living with HIV/AIDS (PLWHA) in Tanzania, selects stigmatization as his perspective, and chooses participant-centered contextual Bible study as his method to argue that the reading of texts from the Gospel of John by PLWHA, given their lived experiences of stigmatization, empowers them to reject stigmatization as unjust. Mligo's study shows that Christian PLWHA reject stigmatization because it does not comply with the attitude of Jesus toward stigmatized groups in his own time. The theology emerging from the readings by stigmatized PLWHA through their evaluation of Jesus' attitudes and acts toward stigmatized people in the texts challenges churches in their obligatory mission as disciples of Jesus. Churches are challenged to reconsider healing, hospitality, and caring prophetic voices.

against stigmatization and the way they teach about HIV and AIDS in relation to sexuality Churches must revisit their practices toward stigmatized groups and listen to their voices Mligo argues that participant centered Bible study methods similar to the one used in this book whereby stigmatized people are the primary interlocutors in the process can be useful tools in listening to the voices of stigmatized groups Leading by Story Vaughan S. Roberts, David Sims, 2017-09-30 There is a great deal of interest in churches across the UK US and Europe about applying ideas from the world of leadership and management to Christian ministry There are those who wish to apply sometimes quite uncritically mechanistic approaches which they hope will enable churches to be run in a more business like manner There are also those who argue that insights from organizational studies have no place whatsoever in churches This innovative and original book builds on qualitative thinking about organizational narrative and argues that it can provide significant insights into how churches function which is much more in keeping with their ethos and history As well as analysing how stories and storytelling work in churches it also provides practical ideas for how they can be used to improve church leadership Taking the work of organizational thinkers and researchers and bringing it into conversation with biblical scholars theologians and church historians the authors establish a conversation across these disciplines and explore how story and narrative work through and within churches Pastor William H. Willimon, 2010-09-01 Ordained ministry says Willimon is a gift of God to the church but that doesn't mean that it is easy Always a difficult vocation changes in society and the church in recent years have made the ordained life all the more complex and challenging Is the pastor primarily a preacher a professional caregiver an administrator Given the call of all Christians to be ministers to the world what is the distinctive ministry of the ordained When does one's ministry take on the character of prophet and when does it become that of priest What are the special ethical obligations and disciplines of the ordained In this book Willimon explores these and other central questions about the vocation of ordained ministry He begins with a discussion of who pastors are asking about the theological underpinnings of ordained ministry and then moves on to what pastors do looking at the distinctive roles the pastor must fulfill The book also draws on great teachers of the Christian tradition to demonstrate that while much about Christian ministry has changed its core concerns preaching the word the care of souls the sacramental life of congregations remains the same Ordained ministry is a vocation to which we are called not a profession that we choose To answer that call is to open oneself to heartache and sometimes hardship yet given the one who calls it is to make oneself available to deep and profound joy as well Marking Short Lives Ewan R. Kelly, Ewan Kelly, 2007 This book explores theologically the practice of hospital chaplains seeking to meet the spiritual needs of parents bereaved by baby death in utero The lived experience of bereaved parents gathered through a series of in depth interviews informs such an exploration Parents describe the trauma of late miscarriage and stillbirth as still being shrouded by silence myth and misunderstanding in contemporary society Up to date theoretical understandings of grief are also re-examined in light of parents stories of living with baby death This book offers suggestions as to how the actual spiritual needs of parents may be met and their grief sensitively facilitated through the sharing of rituals co constructed by parents and chaplain which seek to have theological integrity yet be relevant in our postmodern age In our prevalent culture of caring where increasingly ongoing professional and personal development are regarded as normative recommendations are made which may aid reflection on current or shape future practice for chaplains pastors students and various healthcare professionals

Clergy Moms Allison M. Moore, 2008 Walking the tightrope of home and parish life for clergy parents is notoriously difficult in all the mainline Protestant denominations but most books on ordination and vocation ignore the question of family life The ordination of women the prevalence of two career marriages the increasing need to care for aging family members and the recognition of non traditional families have shed new light on clergy family dynamics within the family and the church This book uses accounts of experiences gathered through interviews and surveys of clergy and their family members primarily in the Episcopal Diocese of Newark Its ultimate goal is to develop a holistic theology of vocation that has implications for the church the clergy and all families and nourishes and protects faith and family life

Preaching to Second Generation Korean Americans Matthew D. Kim, 2007 This in depth study on preaching to second generation Korean Americans the first of its kind is based on empirical and ethnographic fieldwork Matthew D Kim conducted surveys and semi structured qualitative interviews with Korean American pastors and second generation young adult respondents in three geographic regions of the United States the Midwest the West Coast and the East Coast His primary conceptual framework employs social psychologists Hazel Markus and Paula Nurius theory of possible selves to facilitate the process of congregational exegesis in the second generation Korean American church context This book offers a new contextual homiletic model that enables Korean American preachers to engage in deeper levels of ethnic and cultural analysis in their sermon preparation Simultaneously the author reconstructs conventional preaching roles of Korean American preachers and second generation listeners so that they may co creatively imagine new possible selves that radically advance Christian mission and practice in the world This book will serve as a primary or secondary source for upper level undergraduate graduate and postgraduate courses on preaching communication studies ethnic and racial studies cross cultural ministry or social psychology
