Retired at Eighteen: Political Economy of Child Labour in the Textiles and Allied Industries in India Abhijit Mukhopadhyay, Shoba Suri, Mihir Sharma, Oommen C. Kurian, 2020-11-05 This report analyses the use of child labour 1 in the textiles and allied industries in India and the drivers that lead to its prevalence India home to one fifth of the world s children has the highest rates of child labour an estimated 33 million children under the age of 18 are engaged in work in various sectors across the country from domestic service and agriculture to textiles and mining The textiles and allied industries are the second largest employers in India after agriculture with 40 million direct and 60 million indirect employees As a traditionally labour intensive industry where flexible and low cost labour has driven growth and pushed India's global competitiveness in the sector the textiles sector is enabled by the massive use of child labour The continuing practice of child labour has the potential to jeopardise India's push for incentivising foreign investments into the sector and integrating into global supply chains This report seeks to address key facets of the issue and provide holistic policy solutions It is divided into three sections Chapter 1 reviews key literature about child labour in India particularly its causes and impacts The second chapter provides an analysis of child labour in India within the garment and textile industry using data from 88 sub state regions a collection of districts covered by the National Sample Survey NSS of 2011-2012 The final chapter tests the hypothesis that labour costs are the main drivers of global competitiveness in the textiles and allied industries This is done through an analysis of NSSO unit level data from the Enterprises Survey 2015-16 of ten sub state regions a

The Trafficking of Children Elizabeth A. Faulkner, 2023-04-10 The phenomenon of child trafficking holds a unique position as an issue of significant contemporary relevance occupying a principal place in debates about human rights today The interchangeable terms trafficking and modern slavery evoke emotive responses and proclamations about abolition of contemporary ills viewed as the ultimate aberration when a child is involved The classification of children under legal frameworks marks them as different as others and in the context of laws implemented to address trafficking slavery and children on the move more generally this distinction is complicated This book charts the emergence decline and re emergence of child trafficking law and policy during the twentieth and twenty first centuries It provides a systematic and comprehensive overview of the historical origins of child trafficking by utilising the wealth of information located within the non digitised archives of the League of Nations It focusses upon the Committee on the Traffic in Women and Children to engage with League of Nations policy to provide an insightful and original contribution to the current body of literature This is a book that seeks to critique the entanglements of children's rights and colonialism in relation to the mobility and exploitation of children It centralises

the legacy of colonialism the undercurrents of race white supremacy patriarchy and their ongoing influence upon contemporary anti trafficking legal and policy responses Through utilizing what the author identifies as the anti trafficking machine as a theoretical framework the book challenges contemporary law and policy responses to child trafficking This theoretical framework has been adopted to illustrate a central hypothesis of the book that the contemporary anti trafficking agenda is both imperialist and a continuity of colonial attitudes
