Grandville Bete Noir Bryan Talbot, 2012-12-25 The baffling murder of a famed Parisian artist in his locked and guarded studio takes the tenacious Detective Inspector LeBrock of Scotland Yard and his faithful adjunct Detective Ratzi into the cutthroat Grandville art scene to track the mysterious assassin As the body count mounts and events spiral out of control the investigation points to Toad Hall where a cabal of industrialists and fat cats plot the overthrow of the French State by use of steam driven automaton soldiers Grandville was nominated for an Eisner Award and a Hugo Award Also look for Dotter of Her Father's Eyes and Cherubs from Dark Horse The universe Talbot creates is visually stunning and intellectually engaging MadAboutComics.com Women of Letters, Manuscript Circulation, and Print Afterlives in the Eighteenth Century M. Bigold, 2013-01-12 Using unpublished manuscript writings this book reinterprets material social literary philosophical and religious contexts of women's letter writing in the long 18th century It shows how letter writing functions as a form of literary manuscript exchange and argues for manuscript circulation as a method of engaging with the republic of letters

Issues in African Literature Charles E. Nnolim, 2010 The multitudinous nature of African literature has always been an issue but really not a problem although its oral base has been used by expatriate critics to accuse African literature of thin plots superficial characterisation and narrative structures African literature also it is observed is a mixed grill it is oral it is written in vernacular or tribal tongues written in foreign tongues English French Portuguese and within the foreign language in which it is written pidgin and creole further bend the already bent language giving African literature a further taint of linguistic impurity African literature further suffers from the nature of its newness and this created problems for the critic Because it is new and because its critics are in simultaneous existence with its writers we confront the problem of instant analysis Issues in African Literature continues the debate and tries to clarify contemporary burning issues in African literature by focussing on particular areas where the debate has been most concerned or around which it has hovered and been persistent Celebrity and Glamour in Contemporary Russia Helena Goscilo, Vlad Strukov, 2010-10-04 This is the first book to explore the phenomenon of glamour and celebrity in contemporary Russian culture ranging across media forms disciplinary boundaries and modes of inquiry with particular emphasis on the media personality Considering both general tendencies and individual celebrities it examines the internal dynamics of the institutions involved in the production marketing and maintenance of celebrities and the context and imperatives which drive Russian society's fascination with glamour and celebrity
