THE LIFE AND LIES OF
BERNIE MADOFF

ANDREW KIRTZMAN

"It's a perfect meld of business details and personalities, including the still unresolved role played by Madoff's wife and sons in the scam. . . . [Kirtzman] has perfect pitch when it comes to the agony and shame of the Jewish community for finding such a gonif (Yiddish for thief) in its midst." —Time

Crime and Corruption in Organizations Ronald J. Burke, Edward C. Tomlinson, 2016-05-13 Although increasing attention has been paid to it there are no signs that crime and corruption in organizations is decreasing so if you're a manager or government policy maker and your mandate is to reduce crime and corruption where do you start The international authors of this book fill a critical need to address such a prevalent and costly topic with a detailed analysis of the risks associated with crime and corruption in organizations They examine the causes and consequences and the choices we face in our efforts to eradicate these social maladies They focus on the risks to individuals and organizations surrounding criminal and corrupt acts with an emphasis on the psychological behavioral and organizational factors supporting such behaviors Finally they explore the phenomenon of crime and corruption across a diverse array of organizational settings ranging from public to private for profit to non profit and occupational categories e.g. police officers physicians accountants and academicians The constant barrage of scandals publicized by the media demands front burner attention dedicated to stemming this tide Accordingly this book turns to prominent researchers employing their talents to produce more ethical organizations The result is the most up to date thinking on both classic e.g. cognitive moral development and novel e.g. moral attentiveness approaches to crime and corruption as well as scientifically grounded approaches to reducing illicit behavior in organizations

What Was I Thinking? William B. Helmreich, 2010-03-16 In this in depth exploration of the dumb things we all do and why Helmreich sheds new light on the well known foibles of Martha Stewart Bill Clinton Britney Spears Don Imus Eliot Spitzer Tiger Woods and Bernie Madoff as well as common missteps like road rage telling your boss off cheating shoplifting and lying But this is far more than an entertaining read Based on hundreds of interviews and exhaustive research Helmreich concludes that this behavior isn't only a result of psychological problems It's also based on our very culture history and values Only when we understand these causes the author says can we begin to address our behavior and improve our lives

Bubbles, Crashes and Financial Disasters Ralph Lyons, 2024-05-24 At regular intervals since the early modern age the get rich quick syndrome has swept millions of credulous souls to the very extremes of ambition and greed in their desire to amass wealth The symptoms of such behaviour have often appeared during the build up to a market crash when months or even years of gains have been wiped out in hours This is referred to as the boom and bust scenario in which there is an economic bubble followed by a crash In this book we examine several of the remarkable events that have occurred between the seventeenth century and present day which culminated in enormous monetary loss for the public or even the collapse of their national economy Following the Great Crash of 1929 and some of the instances depicted from the 1980s onwards the seismic effects were felt globally Today we live in a highly sophisticated world of economic regulation financial manipulation and the extensive application of fiscal policy Despite this economic bubbles still seem to evolve from invisible beginnings grow rapidly out of control and then fragment into a melee of problems for modern day society It is widely believed that the random forces of human nature are responsible as they spiral out of control during periods of heady speculation whilst a few share a different view They feel that large economic bubbles are non organic as they are engineered by the financial system itself The latter is an interesting possibility and one we shall certainly consider as we take a light hearted journey through the subject matter of this book

Inside War Fabio Armao,2016-02-22 The post Cold War era was characterised by both the recurrence of state wars and the spread of forms of organised violence other than wars Asymmetric warfare between alliances led by the USA and groups of insurgents such as those witnessed in Afghanistan and Iraq coexist alongside domestic conflicts such as that of former Yugoslavia and more recently Libya and Syria and still other conflicts involving gangs mafias or narco traffickers The massive military industrial complexes conceived in the context of the threat of nuclear Armageddon are still there of course but they now coexist with irregular armies of insurgents carrying out massacres through the use of light weapons and improvised explosives devices This book oppose the idea that this situation prefigures the return to an anarchical pre political condition by assuming that new wars are rather the product of the blurring of the public private divide induced by the end of the Cold War together with globalisation As a consequence also the internal and external factors are blurred and ever more permeable and elusive is becoming even the border between war and crime Inside War goes beyond a state centered analysis and adopts an interdisciplinary and multilayered approach and is intended to foster the dialogue among researchers from different fields It places war at the core of analysis assuming that the reality of war is what we make of it and that the only insurmountable limit to our comprehension of war is our way of knowing and representing it Fabio Armao teaches courses in Politics and Globalisation Processes and Criminal Systems He has been Visiting Professor at Cornell University and co convenor of the Standing Group on Organized Crime European Consortium for Political Research Founding member of T wai Torino World Affair Institute he is also member of the Editorial Board of Global Crime His research interests and publications focus on international wars and geopolitics on violent non state actors and transnational organised crime and on urban security
