Imago Dei: Man/Woman Created in the Image of God George Hobson, 2019-09-30 The question What is human nature is in vogue today Like everything else this concept is being deconstructed in the context of the reigning ideology of individualistic materialism Is there a fixed human nature or is this simply a manipulatable social construct with no objective reference This book says Yes there is the imago Dei man woman created in the image of God Hobson argues that this text from Genesis 1 26 28 is a God given anthropological revelation that establishes the relational bond of human beings with their Creator and also with his creation for which the imago equips us to be responsible stewards Many of Hobson's essays were delivered as talks in parishes They explore from multiple angles the import of the imago Dei for theological and sacramental reflection apologetics aesthetics art and at a hands on practical level for pastoral counseling and inner healing His texts one of which opens with a discussion of genocide contain incisive critiques of the dark side of modernity alongside wide ranging demonstrations of the pertinence of the imago Dei to the current debates about human dignity and rights His book is a ringing call to the church to take the measure of the value of this anthropological revelation for its proclamation of the gospel

Fathering Behaviors Wade C. Mackey, 2012-12-06 Like the lines of a secret map made dimly apparent by the chemical potion brushed on a piece of paper from a child's detective kit the outlines of what may be a substantial behavioral biology of human life seem to be coming clear From genetic science at its most molecular to demography with its assessment of the vital experience of massive populations there is a growing understanding of the various ways in which the human species reveals underlying commonalities of experience through the life cycle and over the web of interactions that constitutes the basic matter of social life At the same time research has been successful in two superficially and contradictory directions first in showing the enormous variation in human arrangements and consciousness across and within cultures and second in showing the similarity between cultures as far as basic processes of physiology neurophysiology and even social life are concerned But the contradiction only exists in the absence of an understanding of the fact that in a species living under as many ecological historical and economic niches as Homo sapiens cultural variation is what one would naturally expect

The Descent of Man, and Selection in Relation to Sex ... Second Edition, Revised and Augmented, with Illustrations. Tenth Thousand Charles Darwin, 1874 Between Literature and Science Peter Swirski, 2000-09-11 Through close analysis of Eureka and The Purloined Letter Swirski evaluates Poe's epistemological theses in the light of contemporary philosophy of science and presents literary interpretation as a cooperative game played by the author and reader thereby illuminating how we read fiction The analysis of Poe's little studied Eureka provides the basis for his discussion of Lem's critique of scientific reductionism and futurological forecasts Drawing on his own interviews with Lem as well as analysis of his works Swirski considers the author's scenarios involving computers capable of creative acts and discusses their socio cultural implications His analysis leads to bold arguments about the nature of literature and its relation to a broad range of other disciplines A treatise on man and the development of his faculties A.J. Roden's Corner Henry Seton Merriman, 1898 It is quite clear said Cornish that the Malgamite scheme is a fraud It is worse than that it is a murderous fraud For Von Holzen's new system of making malgamite is not new at all but an old system revived which was set aside many years ago as too deadly If it is not this identical system it is a variation of it They are producing the stuff for almost nothing at the cost of men's lives In plain English it is murder and it must be stopped at any cost You understand

Addressing Women in Early Medieval Religious Texts Kathryn Maude, 2021 An investigation into texts specifically addressed to women sheds new light on female literary cultures From the tenth to the twelfth centuries in England and Scotland we have scant evidence of women's writing How then can we access these women's experiences This book argues that by analysing texts deliberately written for and addressed directly to women we gain an insight into the horizons of possibility for their lives It examines religious texts addressed to women bringing together works that are more widely studied with others that are less well known and demonstrates continuities across Old English and Latin texts written for female readers and patrons across the Conquest period Case studies ranging from Irfic's sermons to Aelred's De institutione inclusarum from the Life of Christina of Markyate to Goscelin's saints lives for Wilton and Barking Abbeys attend to the intimate scripts women were encouraged to inhabit through a close focus on the form of the textual address By concentrating on address the book illuminates how women were encouraged to live and by following women's commissioning and copying of texts it demonstrates which of these textual addresses women valued and attempted to follow n address the book illuminates how women were encouraged to live and by following women's commissioning and copying of texts it demonstrates which of these textual addresses women valued and attempted to follow n address the book illuminates how women were encouraged to live and by following women's commissioning and copying of texts it demonstrates which of these textual addresses women valued and attempted to follow

What's Right with the Trinity? Dr Hannah Bacon, 2013-06-28 The doctrine of the Trinity poses a series of problems for feminist theology At a basic level the androcentric nature of trinitarian language serves to promote the male as more fully in the image of God and as the archetype of humanity pushing women to the margins of personhood It is no surprise then that feminist scholarship on this doctrine has often focused on what's wrong with the Trinity setting out the problems raised by the use of traditional androcentric trinitarian language This book brings together a discussion of feminist theological methodology with a critical exploration of the doctrine of the Trinity Focussing on what's right with the Trinity as opposed to what's wrong with the Trinity it considers the usefulness of this doctrine for feminist theology today It replaces a stress on trinitarian language with an emphasis on trinitarian thought exploring how we might effectively think rather than speak God in light of feminist concerns In particular it asks how a trinitarian understanding of God might support and be supported by key values which underpin a feminist way of doing theology specifically values which underpin the methodological use of women's experience in feminist theology. The central argument is that thinking God as Trinity need not serve to reinforce patriarchal values and ideals but may in fact promote the subjectivity and personhood of women.
