with Western theories and cases highlight how we need to reposition traditional understandings to allow non Western approaches to IR develop alongside and inform their Western counterparts Moreover the book reinforces the need to move beyond the traditionally used Western centric lenses without removing them completely instead it advocates a harmonisation between them to reduce generalisations across the local state and regional levels Routledge Handbook on Human Rights and the Middle East and North Africa Anthony Tirado Chase, 2016-11-10 Recent events such as Iran's Green Revolution and the Arab Uprisings have exploded notions that human rights are irrelevant to Middle Eastern and North African politics Increasingly seen as a global concern human rights are at the fulcrum of the region s on the ground politics transnational intellectual debates and global political intersections The Routledge Handbook on Human Rights and the Middle East and North Africa emphasises the need to consider human rights in all their dimensions rather than solely focusing on the political dimension in order to understand the structural reasons behind the persistence of human rights violations explores the various frameworks in which to consider human rights conceptual political and transnational international discusses issue areas subject to particularly intense debate gender religion sexuality transitions and accountability contains contributions from perspectives that span from global theory to grassroots reflections emphasising the need for academic work on human rights to seriously engage with the thoughts and practices of those working on the ground A multidisciplinary approach from scholars with a wide range of expertise allows the book to capture the complex dynamics by which human rights have had or could have an impact on Middle Eastern and North African politics This book will therefore be a key resource for students and scholars of Middle Eastern and North African politics and society as well as anyone with a concern for Human Rights across the globe Islamism and Cultural Expression in the Arab World Abir Hamdar, Lindsey Moore, 2015-04-10 Whereas most studies of Islamism focus on politics and religious ideology this book analyses the ways in which Islamism in the Arab world is defined reflected transmitted and contested in a variety of creative and other cultural forms It covers a range of contexts of production and reception from the early twentieth century to the present and with reference to cultural production in and or about Morocco Algeria Tunisia Egypt Yemen the Gulf Lebanon and Israel Palestine The material engaged with is produced in Arabic English and French and includes fiction autobiography feature films television series television reportage the press rap music and video games Throughout the book highlights the multiple forms and contested interpretations of Islamism in the Arab world exploring trends and tensions in the ways Islamism is represented to primarily Arab audiences and complicating simplistic perspectives on this phenomenon The book considers repeated and idiosyncratic themes modes of characterisation motifs structures of feeling and forms of engagement in the context of an ongoing struggle for symbolic power in the region Is There a Middle East? Abbas Amanat,2012 This book offers diverse debates on the possible manifestations and meanings of the term Middle East Jewish-Muslim Interactions Samuel Sami Everett, Rebekah Vince, 2020 This volume analyses Jewish Muslim interactions across North
