Beyond Limits A Life Through Climbing:

Beyond Limits Steve McClure, 2014-11-07 Beyond Limits is the autobiography of Steve McClure one of the world's top rock climbers. From his childhood encounters with the sandstone outcrops of the North York Moors right up to his cutting edge first ascents such as Overshadow F9a at Malham and Mutation F9a at Raven Tor, Steve explores his deep passion for climbing and how it has dictated and shaped his life. Introduced to climbing by his parents at an early age, Steve quickly progressed as a climber, developing a fascination with movement and technical difficulty. Rapidly reaching a high standard, Steve became torn between the desire to climb increasingly bold routes and his hesitant approach to danger with a series of close calls forcing him to seriously question his motivations. Searching for a balance between risk and reward, he struggled to find his place as a climber. Having dropped out of the scene, a chance encounter led to his discovery of sport climbing. Free from fear, Steve plunged headlong into this new style and surged through the grades, pushing everything else aside. He allowed climbing to take over his life. He reached world class levels of performance but once again found himself searching for a balance between risk and reward, yet this time the risk was of losing what is truly important in life. As he searches for what really makes him tick, his climbing comes full circle and returns to where it started: climbing for the love of it. Beyond Limits is the story of a climber and his obsessive exploration of the sport of finding a true passion, taking it to the limits and attempting to delicately balance this passion against other aspects of life to give the greatest rewards. Maximum Climbing Eric Horst, 2010-04-23 The definitive resource to brain training for climbing by an internationally recognized expert. As physical as climbing is, it is even more mental. Ultimately, people climb with their minds; hands and feet are merely extensions of their thoughts and will. Becoming a master climber requires that you first master your mind. In Maximum Climbing, America's best-selling author on climbing performance presents a climber's guide to the software of the brain, one that will prove invaluable whether one's preference is bouldering, sport climbing, traditional climbing, alpine climbing, or mountaineering. Eric Horst brings unprecedented clarity to the many cognitive and neurophysical aspects of climbing and dovetails this information into a complete program setting forth three stages of mental training that correspond to beginner, intermediate, and elite levels of experience and commitment: the ideal template to build upon to personalize one's goals through years of climbing to come. Moving Beyond the Pandemic: English and American Studies in Spain Aitor Ibarrola Armendáriz, Alberto Lázaro Lafuente, Alejandro Peraza Díaz, Amaia Ibarraran Bigalondo, Amaia Soroa Bacaicoa, Ángel Chaparro Sainz, Ángeles Jordán Soriano, Bárbara Arizti Martín, Celestino Deleyto, Celia Fullana, Cristina Aliaga-García, Daniela Pettersson-Traba, David Hernández Coalla, David Walton, Eduardo de Gregorio-Godeo, Elena Dobre, Ester Díaz Morillo, Eva Darias Beutell, Fabián Orán Llarena, Georgina Alvarez-Morera, Gorka Bracerías Martínez, Ingrid Mora-Plaza, Irene Repiso Rodríguez, Isabel González Díaz, Isabel Oltra-Massuet, Ismael Ibáñez Rosales, Iván Tamaredo Meira, Joan Carles Mora, José Francisco Fernández, Laura Gutiérrez González, Laura Martínez-García, Laura Monrós-Gaspar, Lin Pettersson, Luz Mar

The American Adrenaline Narrative Kristin J. Jacobson, 2020-06-01 The American Adrenaline Narrative considers the nature of perilous outdoor adventure tales their gendered biases and how they simultaneously promote and hinder ecological sustainability To explore these themes Kristin J Jacobson defines and compares adrenaline narratives by a range of American authors published after the first Earth Day in 1970 a time frame selected as a watershed moment for the contemporary American environmental movement The forty plus years since that day also mark the rise in the popularity and marketing of many things as extreme including sports jobs travel beverages gum makeovers laundry detergent and even the environmental movement itself Jacobson maps the American eco imagination via adrenaline narratives grounding them in the traditional literary practice of close reading analysis and in ecofeminism She surveys a range of popular and lesser known primary texts by American authors including best selling books such as Jon Krakauer's Into Thin Air and Aron Ralston's Between a Rock and a Hard Place and lesser known texts such as Patricia C McCairen's Canyon Solitude Eddy L Harris's Mississippi Solo and Stacy Allison's Beyond the Limits She also discusses such narratives as they appear in print and online articles and magazines feature length and short films television shows amateur videos social networking site posts fiction advertising and blogs Jacobson contends that these stories constitute a distinctive genre because unlike traditional nature travel and sports writing adrenaline narratives sustain heightened risk or the element of the extreme within a natural setting Additionally these narratives provide important insight into the American environmental imagination's connection to masculinity and adventure knowledge that helps us grasp the current climate crisis and how narrative understanding provides a needed intervention

Tarzan was an Eco-tourist- Luis Antonio Vivanco, Robert J. Gordon, 2006 Adventure is currently enjoying enormous interest in public culture The image of Tarzan provides a rewarding lens through which to explore this phenomenon In their day Edgar Rice Burroughs' novels enjoyed great popularity because Tarzan represented the consummate colonial era adventurer a white man whose noble civility enabled him to communicate with and control savage peoples and animals The contemporary Tarzan of movies and cartoons is in many ways just as popular but carries different connotations Tarzan is now the consummate eco tourist a cosmopolitan striving to live in harmony with nature using appropriate technology and helpful to the natives who cannot seem to solve their own problems Tarzan is still an icon of adventure because like all adventurers his actions have universal qualities doing something previously untried revealing the previously undiscovered and experiencing the unadulterated Prominent anthropologists have come together in this volume to reflect on various aspects of this phenomenon and to discuss contemporary forms of adventure experience such as the feeling that one disappears or doesn't exist when another leaves occurs. The authors tackle with great sophistication the big questions of how sameness, changing experience and temporality are woven together by language and narrative. Refusing to be reduced to the simplicity of an objectivist account of functioning, they offer profound phenomenological views on identity and emotion that show a deep appreciation of the complexity of what it is to be a person. Their analysis of functioning leads to the specification of inward and outward dispositional dimensions and, using clinical and literary examples, they provide descriptions of different styles of personality along this continuum, ranging from eating disorder prone personalities focused on the other at one end of the continuum and depression prone personalities focused excessively inwardly at the other end.

Leslie Greenberg, Professor of Psychology, York University, Canada; Arciero and Bondolfi have written a timely, thought provoking and challenging book providing the reader with a refreshingly new account of self identity and its disorders. A cogent and novel contribution to psychiatric thought that wonderfully integrates philosophy, psychopathology and contemporary neuroscience. This book will push psychiatry in new directions. A must read.

Vittorio Gallese, Professor of Human Physiology, University of Parma, Italy. Selfhood, Identity and Personality Styles is a highly ambitious work of theoretical synthesis. Neuroscience, phenomenology and social constructionism are joined together with the study of both literature and psychopathology. Arciero and Bondolfi offer sophisticated and intriguing discussions not only of mirror neurons and developmental psychology but also of ideas from Aristotle, Kant and Heidegger, of characters from Dostoevsky, Kleist and Pessoa and of patients from clinical practice. A ground breaking first attempt to show the relevance of the interdisciplinary study of basic self experience for our understanding of character styles and personality disorders.
