While European governments were falling one by one to the war machine of the German Reich Katherine Doughty served ably and well in her assignment as TranSignal News overseas correspondent Now she has been transferred to the London Bureau just in time to endure the privation and terror of the Blitzkrieg bombs Dedication to her craft can't prevent Kit from feeling a twinge of envy for her friend Hallie Vernon an ATS member who falls in love semi regularly every few weeks or so Kit too would like to fall in love However she has finally met someone a mystery man from the London tunnels encountered one night when the wail of the air raid sirens sent citizens scrambling for safety He's a Texas charmer this Lew McAllister and it seems that he's as interested in her as she is in him But after spending time together he disappears without a word of apology or explanation It's wartime after all and the life of each human being has been disrupted In all the confusion people are here there and everywhere and it's difficult keeping track even of one's nearest and dearest Whatever has happened to Lew whatever kind of mystery he's gotten himself involved in whatever sort of character flaws he might be dealing with Kit can only feel suspicion and doubt Yet she can't help wondering if she will ever see him again

The Appeal of Insurance
Geoffrey Wilson Clark, Christiane Thomann, 2010-01-01 The Appeal of Insurance is an excellent collection that reflects a growing interest in insurance research within the social sciences Clearly written and accessible to a variety of audiences this is a volume of world class scholarship Luis Lobo Guerrero School of Politics International Relations and Philosophy Keele University In the marketing of its products the insurance industry has always depended on a considerable dose of moral exhortation and enlightened appeal The Appeal of Insurance traces the ways in which insurance over the past three centuries perhaps more than any other business has grown in concert with a clientele largely of its own making Faced with a public that has preferred to avoid confronting the certainty of fatality or the probabilities of catastrophe insurance promoters have had to create a demand for their products first by persuading the public to see the world as ruled less by divine judgments and more by statistical patterns and second by proclaiming a moral imperative of hedging against death and disaster by the prudential recourse to insurance The essays presented here examine the history of insurance as a process of negotiation between the embedded social legal and cultural norms out of which the practice of insurance grew and the new arrangements and sensibilities that insurance itself helped bring into being Today insurance is a global economic colossus and a fixture in the developed countries of the world But neither the financial clout of the insurance industry nor its ubiquity conveys the full measure of its social and political influence The insurance industry has in fact become a primary agent of discipline and control over public and private behaviours by imposing upon them the criterion of insurability By tracing the boundaries of acceptable and compensated from unacceptable and uncompensated risk insurers directly or indirectly govern people products and markets and by this process become one of the most powerful and pervasive agents of social and economic control Geoffrey Clark is a professor in the Department of History at the State University of New York at Potsdam Gregory Anderson is the former Associate Head of the Business School at the University of Salford Christian Thomann is a
