Energising Networks Eelke Wielinga,Sjoerd Robijn,2023-09-14 Society is going through a transition period that is at least as profound as the Enlightenment at the end of the 18th century It is a transition that makes people look differently at each other and at the world In the terminology of Otto Scharmer ego consciousness is being replaced by eco consciousness people will understand that their faith depends on one another and on the eco systems they are part of This will not occur without a whole lot of trouble but it will happen This book by Eelke Wielinga and Sjoerd Robijn is an inspirational contribution to understanding what is going on Firstly because their vision on networks as living organisms and the energy people experience when they are part of such networks is explained in a clear and scientific way Secondly because the authors have developed a methodology to navigate on this energy in everyday practice The wingspan of the big story and the concrete application in what you experience in your own practice is what makes this book extraordinary I recommend this book to anyone who makes efforts to make a world that can be handed over with confidence to future generations by Prof Herman Wijffels former CEO RABO Bank and Dutch representative on the World Bank management board Reinventing Human Resource Management Ronald J. Burke, Cary L. Cooper, 2005 The authors of this text review the most current thinking on HR initiatives associated with current organisational performance and investigate how the field will need to mobilise in new ways to meet the demands of the future Contemporary Choreography Jo Butterworth, Liesbeth Wildschut, 2012-09-10 This innovative text provides a range of articles covering choreographic enquiry investigation into the creative process and traditional understandings of dance making Contemporary Choreography features contributions by practitioners and researchers from Europe America Africa Australasia and the Asia Pacific region investigating the field in six broad domains Conceptual and philosophic concerns Educational settings Communities Changing aesthetics Intercultural choreography Choreography's relationships with other disciplines By capturing the essence and progress of choreography in the twenty first century this reader supports and encourages rigorous thinking and research for future generations of dance practitioners and scholars Vital Democracy Frank Hendriks, 2010-04-08 Vital Democracy outlines a theory of democracy in action based on four elementary forms of democracy pendulum consensus voter and participatory democracy that are thoroughly analysed compared and related to both the literature and the real world of democracy Just like a few primary colours produce an array of shades a few basic models of democracy appear the author argues to constitute a wide range of democratic variants in real life Focusing on tried and tested democratic institutions Frank Hendriks shows that the four models of democracy with their divergent patterns of leadership citizenship and governance their inherent strengths and weaknesses are never purely instantiated He argues that wherever democracy is practiced with some level of success it is always as hybrid democracy thereby challenging those democratic reformers and theorists that have inspired the quest for democratic purity Vital Democracy builds on Arend Lijphart's well known work which distinguishes between majoritarian and consensual democratic countries but also goes well beyond it urging attention to non national non formal and non representative expressions of democracy as well
