Stained Glass Ceilings Lisa Weaver Swartz, 2022-10-14 Stained Glass Ceilings speaks to the intersection of gender and power within American evangelicalism by examining the formation of evangelical leaders in two seminary communities Southern Baptist Theological Seminary inspires a vision of human flourishing through gender differentiation and male headship Men practice Godly Manhood and are taught to act as the head of a family while their wives are socialized into codes of Godly Womanhood that prioritize prescribed gender roles This power structure privileges men yet offers agency to their wives in women centered spaces and through marital relationships Meanwhile Asbury Theological Seminary promises freedom from gendered hierarchies Appealing to a story of gender blind equality Asbury welcomes women into classrooms administrative offices and pulpits But the institution's construction of egalitarianism obscures the fact that women are rewarded for adapting to an existing male centered status quo rather than for developing their own voices as women Featuring high profile evangelicals such as Al Mohler and Owen Strachan along with young seminarians poised to lead the movement in the coming decades Stained Glass Ceilings illustrates the liabilities of white evangelical toolkits and argues that evangelical culture upholds male centered structures of power even as it facilitates meaning and identity The Headship of Men and the Abuse of Women Kevin Giles, 2020-06-17 In recent years the issue of domestic abuse and violence has gained a lot of attention as the extent of it has become known Domestic abuse and violence is now of high concern to most churches because it is evident that domestic abuse figures are much the same in our churches and possibly higher in evangelical churches where the headship of men and the submission of women is made the God given ideal In this book Kevin Giles surveys competently the scientific information on this matter now available and notes that the consensus is that the most sure indicator of higher incidences of abuse are found in communities where men are privileged and expected to be in charge and women are subordinated This he argues should make complementarians consider afresh if in fact the subordination of women is the God given ideal established in creation before the fall Crossroads in Classrooms Aaron Perry, John Pladdys, 2025-06-04 Christian considerations of leadership are prevalent and growing Undergraduate graduate and doctoral programs exist in business schools universities and of course seminaries worldwide Further leadership ethics is an ongoing concern and interest This book receives and builds on these interests by focusing specifically on leadership educators because leadership education is an expanding field stretching into business and non profit contexts in addition to educational institutions This book preserves enriches and expands the future of leadership education by exploring the intersection of faith leadership education and ethics Guidebook to Excellence, 1994 How We Are Healed Jeffrey Driscoll, 2007-07 A first aid resource for the deep problems people face in their lives this text provides immediate help to the desperate reader
