Beyond Borders Stories Of Yunnanese Chinese Migrants Of Burma:

Beyond Borders Wen-Chin Chang, 2015-01-16 The Yunnanese from southwestern China have for millennia traded throughout upland Southeast Asia Burma in particular has served as a back door to Yunnan providing a sanctuary for political refugees and economic opportunities for trade explorers Since the Chinese Communist takeover in 1949 and subsequent political upheavals in China an unprecedented number of Yunnanese refugees have fled to Burma Through a personal narrative approach Beyond Borders is the first ethnography to focus on the migration history and transnational trading experiences of contemporary Yunnanese Chinese migrants composed of both Yunnanese Han and Muslims who reside in Burma and those who have moved from Burma and resettled in Thailand Taiwan and China Since the 1960s Yunnanese Chinese migrants of Burma have dominated the transnational trade in opium jade and daily consumption goods Wen Chin Chang writes with deep knowledge of this trade s organization from the 1960s of mule driven caravans to the use of modern transportation and she reconstructs trading routes while examining embedded sociocultural meanings These Yunnanese migrants mobility attests to the prevalence of travel not only by the privileged but also by different kinds of people Their narratives disclose individual life processes as well as networks of connections modes of transportation and differences between the experiences of men and women Through traveling they have carried on the mobile livelihoods of their predecessors expanding overland trade beyond its historical borderlands between Yunnan and upland Southeast Asia to journeys further afield by land sea and air

Rising China and New Chinese Migrants in Southeast Asia Leo Suryadinata, Benjamin Loh, 2022-11-28 New Chinese migration is a recent development that has just entered an initial phase An overarching theme and conclusion across the sixteen chapters in this volume is that China s policy towards Chinese migrants has changed from period to period and it is still too early for us to determine if Beijing will continue to pursue the policy of luoye guigen return to original roots or will revert to one of luodi shenggen sink into local roots The various chapters also show that the profile motivations and outlooks of xin yimin new Chinese migrants have become more diverse while local reactions to these new migrants have become less accommodating with increasing nationalism

Steven B. Miles, 2020-02-20 A concise and compelling survey of Chinese migration in global history centered on Chinese migrants and their families Chinese Capitalism in Southeast Asia

Yos Santasombat, 2017-09-04 This collection examines the historically and geographically specific form of economic organization of the overseas Chinese in Southeast Asia and how it has adapted to the different historical and socio political contexts of Southeast Asian countries Moving beyond cultural explanations and traits to focus on the process of evolution and dynamism of situated practices it argues that Chinese Capitalism is rapidly becoming a form of hybrid capitalism and embodies the interdependent of culturally and institutionally specific dynamics at local and regional level evolving and adapting to different institutional contexts and politico economic conditions in the host Asian economies This text also explores the social organization and political economy of the so called overseas Chinese by examining the changing dynamism of Chinese capitalism in relation to forces of globalization Focusing on key actors primarily Chinese entrepreneurs in their business practices and situated practices as well as cultural political social and economic factors under globalizing conditions it provides providing a broad understanding without fixating or homogenizing Chinese capitalism contributing to the understanding of the contexts that give rise to the emergence and transformation of Chinese Capitalism in Southeast Asia

Handbook on Critical Geographies of Migration Katharyne Mitchell, Reece Jones, Jennifer L. Fluri, 2019 Border walls shipwrecks in the Mediterranean separated families at the border island detention camps migration is at the centre of contemporary political and academic debates This ground breaking Handbook offers an exciting and original analysis of critical research on themes such as these drawing on cutting edge theories from an interdisciplinary and international group of leading scholars With a focus on spatial analysis and geographical context this volume highlights a range of theoretical methodological and regional approaches to migration research while remaining attuned to the underlying politics that bring critical scholars together

The Range of the River Iftexhar Iqbal, 2025-12-02 Spanning nearly 4 million square kilometers the Tibetan river system including the Brahmaputra Irrawaddy Salween Mekong Red and Yangzi forms the largest contiguous network of rivers on the planet stretching across eastern South Asia mainland Southeast Asia and southern China The Range of the River uncovers the entwined histories of these vast waterways and the empires human actors and other than human forces that have shaped Asia since the 1850s Both ethnodiverse and biodiverse these rivers were more than contested imperial spaces they were also channels of communal and material exchange linking near and distant contact zones They fostered connections across Asia driving commerce mobility and cultural encounters that transformed them into shared living commons bridging societies political powers and economic interests Tracing six major rivers across eight countries Iftexhar Iqbal argues that these river systems formed the core of a discursive space where empires regional political forces ethnic groups boaters peddlers explorers merchants and mules encountered each other in layered meanings and movements This groundbreaking book reimagines the river not as merely a tool of empire but as a dynamic force in itself shaping a truly transregional Asia By weaving together diverse riverine life worlds The Range of the River invites us to rethink Asia s spatial history

Chinese in Colonial Burma Yi Li, 2017-02-25 Using previously unexplored archives from colonial institutions and individuals and primary materials produced by the Burmese Chinese this comprehensive study investigates over a century of history of the Burmese Chinese under British colonial rule Due to the peculiar position of Burma in the British imperial world and the Southeast Asian Chinese network the Chinese community had a unique experience in a Southeast Asian colony governed by Europeans with an India based system This book reveals through everyday life experience prominent community figures and milestone events the internal rivalry and integration among different regional groups within the community and the general impressions it left in contemporary observations and communal memories The book also traces historical roots of some unsolved ethnic issues in present day Myanmar Myanmar Adam Simpson, Nicholas Farrelly, 2023-10-20 This new edition of Myanmar Politics Economy and Society provides a sophisticated yet accessible overview of the key political economic and social challenges facing contemporary Myanmar and explains the complex historical and ethnic dynamics that have shaped the country Thoroughly revised the book analyses the context and tragic consequences of the military coup in February 2021 and the COVID 19 pandemic With clear and incisive contributions from the world's leading Myanmar scholars this book assesses the policies and political reforms that have provoked contestation in Myanmar's recent history and driven both economic and social change In this context questions of economic ownership and control and the distribution of natural resources are shown to be deeply informed by long standing fractures among ethnic and civil military relations The chapters analyse the key issues that constrain or expedite societal development in Myanmar and place recent events of national and international significance in the context of its complex history and social relations The book provides detailed analysis of the coup which overturned a decade of political and economic reforms and threw the country into chaos It explains the drivers for the coup how it has impacted on the country and the future prospects for accountability and justice Filling a gap in the market this research textbook and primer will be of interest to upper undergraduates postgraduates and scholars of Southeast Asian politics economics and society and to journalists and professionals working within governments companies and other organisations The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license Yunnan-Burma-Bengal Corridor the rise of China This soft power includes Chinese language education and popular culture With regard to Chinese education prior to the rise of China Chinese schools were catered to mainly overseas Chinese children Non Chinese seldom received Chinese education However the rise of China and the export of Confucius Institutes CIs changed the landscape as CIs are meant for the non Chinese population as well China s educational soft power penetrated the larger non Chinese community making Chinese soft power more effective Chinese popular culture has also infiltrated the non Chinese population Various chapters in this book show that rising China s soft power in Southeast Asia has grown quite significantly particularly in terms of the Chinese language and Chinese popular culture Nevertheless its popularity still lags behind American soft power The Chinese language is still not as popular as the English language The same could also be said for Chinese popular culture The growth of China s soft power faces tremendous challenges in the Southeast Asian region Its further growth would depend on China s continuous economic power and cordial relations with the Southeast Asian countries

Myanmar's Fragmented Democracy: Transition Or Illusion? Felix Thiam Kim Tan, 2022-07-14 The recent military coup in Myanmar perpetrated by the Tatmadaw has set the country back to the days of political uncertainty and military authoritarianism This book examines how far the country has come since its nascent attempt at democratic reforms and democratisation in 2010 Each chapter considers some of the more prominent issues that have plagued Myanmar since political reforms started First there have been debates about the extent to which democratic reforms have been achieved since the Constitution was formalised in 2008 Second what has been the significance of the three elections in 2010 2015 and 2020 Third how has the National League for Democracy transformed in the past decade How far has the Union Solidarity and Development Party changed the political landscape What roles did the Tatmadaw play in the last decade Fourth questions surrounding how the ethnic crisis not least the Rohingya issue have continued to dominate the country s political landscape in the last decade thereby overshadowing its democratisation process Finally how far have these efforts at democracy demonstrated Myanmar s futile attempts at appeasing the domestic and international audience Myanmar s relations with the global and regional community vis vis the US China and the Association of Southeast Asian Nations have also taken a toll in the last decade There is already a shift in power politics especially with China determining the direction of Myanmar Myanmar has been locked in a perpetual cycle transitioning between military authoritarianism and democratisation These prevailing issues have led to a fragmented democracy and a lost opportunity to demonstrate its foray into a genuine democracy

The Microfoundations of Diaspora Politics Alexandra Délano Alonso, Harris Mylonas, 2021-09-21 The Microfoundations of Diaspora Politics examines the various actors within and beyond the state that participate in the design and implementation of diaspora policies as well as the mechanisms through which diasporas are constructed by governments political parties diaspora entrepreneurs or international organisations Extant theories are often hard pressed to capture the empirical variation and often end up identifying exceptions The multidisciplinary group of contributors in this book theorise these exceptions through three interrelated conceptual moves first by focusing on understudied aspects of the relationships between states as well as organised non state actors and their citizens or co ethnics abroad or at home in cases of return migration Second by examining dyads of origin states and specific diasporic communities differentiated by time of emigration place of residence socio economic status migratory status generation or skills Third by considering migration in its multiple spatial and temporal phases emigration immigration transit return and how they intersect to constitute diasporic identities and policies These conceptual moves facilitate comparative research and help scholars identify the mechanisms connecting structural variables with specific policies by states and other actors as well as responses by the relevant diasporic communities This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies The Ripple Effect Enze Han,2024 Many studies of China s relations with and influence on Southeast Asia tend to focus on how Beijing has used its power asymmetry to achieve regional influence Yet scholars and pundits often fail to appreciate the complexity of the contemporary Chinese state and society and just how fragmented decentralized and internationalized China is today In The Ripple Effect Enze Han argues that a focus on the Chinese state alone is not sufficient for a comprehensive understanding of China s influence in Southeast Asia Instead we must look beyond the Chinese state to non state actors from China such as private businesses and Chinese migrants These actors affect people s perception of China in a variety of ways and they often have wide ranging as well as long lasting effects on bilateral relations Looking beyond the Chinese state s intentional influence reveals many situations that result in unanticipated changes in Southeast Asia Han proposes that to understand this increasingly globalized China we need more conceptual flexibility regarding which Chinese actors are important to China s relations and how they wield this influence whether intentional or not The Ripple Effect makes the case that to understand China s relationship with Southeast Asia it is necessary to move beyond a narrow fixation on the Chinese state by scrutinizing the ordinary manifestations of China s presence in the region and recognizing the multifaceted web of actors and their effects on the dynamics between the two regions Routledge International Handbook of Diaspora Diplomacy Liam Kennedy,2022-01-05 The Routledge International Handbook of Diaspora Diplomacy is a multidisciplinary collection of writings by leading scholars and practitioners from around the world It reflects on the geopolitical and technological shifts that have led to the global emergence of this form of diplomacy and provides detailed examples of how governments intergovernmental organizations IGOs non governmental organizations NGOs and corporations are engaging diasporas as transnational agents of intervention and change The organization in six thematic parts provides for focused coverage of key issues sectors and practices while also building a comprehensive guide to the growing field Each section features an introduction authored by the Editor designed to provide useful contextual information and to highlight linkages between the chapters Cross disciplinary research and commentary is a key feature of the Handbook providing diverse yet overlapping perspectives on diaspora diplomacy Part 1 Mapping Diaspora Diplomacy Part 2 Diaspora Policies and Strategies Part 3

Diaspora Networks and Economic Development Part 4 Long Distance Politics Part 5 Digital Diasporas Media and Soft Power Part 6 Advancing Diaspora Diplomacy Studies The Routledge International Handbook of Diaspora Diplomacy is a key reference point for study and future scholarship in this nascent field Unhomely Life Xiaobo Su, 2024-04-29 How do China's mobile individuals create a sense of home in a rapidly changing world Unhomely life different from houselessness refers to a fluctuating condition between losing home feelings and the search for home a prevalent condition in post Mao China The faster that Chinese society modernizes the less individuals feel at home and the more they yearn for a sense of home This is the central paradox that Xiaobo Su explores how mobile individuals lifestyle migrants and retreat tourists from China's big cities displaced natives and rural migrants in peripheral China handle the loss of home and try to experience a homely way of life In Unhomely Life Xiaobo Su examines the subjective experiences of mobile individuals to better understand why they experience the loss of home feelings and how they search for home Integrating extensive empirical data and a robust theoretical framework the author presents a journey based critical analysis of home under constant making un making and re making in post Mao China Su argues that the making of home is not a solely economic or rational calculation for maximum return but rather a synthesis of resistance and compromise under the disappointing conditions of modernity Offering rich insights into the continuity and disruption of China's great transformation Unhomely Life Develops an original theory of unhomely life that incorporates contemporary research and traditional Chinese ideas of home Explores the process of homemaking and its implications for understanding the costs of high speed economic growth in China Analyzes mobile individuals across different genders ages ethnicities social classes and economic backgrounds to address the balance between meaning and money in everyday life Containing in depth and sophisticated empirical data collected from 2002 to 2020 Unhomely Life Modernity Mobilities and the Making of Home in China is an invaluable resource for advanced

 Song, Tianyang Liu, 2023-11-03 This book explores how Chinese border provinces have become actors in international relations Through an analysis of the international actorness the inherent characteristics of a subnational entity as an international player of Yunnan and two other geographically peripheral provinces Guangdong and Guangxi the domestic economic and legislative circumstances that motivated these provinces to conduct transboundary engagements are determined The book is based on an extensive field study including interviews with those involved in the implementation of Yunnan's foreign agenda representatives from province owned enterprises universities and think tanks and officials and experts from the countries neighboring Yunnan Acknowledging the role of external geopolitics the authors analyze the efforts of these border provinces to incentivize neighboring countries to cooperate with them on areas of trade investment and nontraditional security Yao Song and Tianyang Liu also observe how border provinces have leveraged their paradiplomatic strengths to affect China's foreign relations with neighboring countries. This volume will appeal to researchers, academics and postgraduates in political science, international relations and diplomacy as well as geography, Southeast Asian politics, political economy, Chinese periphery diplomacy and nonfederal paradiplomacy.

Imperial Borderlands Marie de Rugy, 2021-10-18. This book presents a connected history of South East Asian borderlands drawing on late nineteenth century British and French geographical policies and practice. It focuses on the scramble in Asia when in 1885 the British Raj incorporated Upper Burma and the French created a Protectorate in Annam (Tonkin, the Northern part of present day Vietnam). Fought over by the imperial states and neighbouring nations, the frontier zones were fashioned and represented not only by the two European powers but also by the Chinese Empire, the Kingdom of Siam and the local populations. The counterpoint between the discourses produced and the cartographical practices on the ground in the longue durée reveals the interacting processes of territory building in all their unpredictability. This book is the updated version of the author's Aux confins des empires. Cartes et constructions territoriales dans le nord de la péninsule indochinoise 1885-1914 (Paris: Éditions de la Sorbonne, 2018). It is translated by Saskia Brown, an experienced academic translator from French in the humanities and social sciences. With a foreword by Matthew Edney.

Asymmetrical Neighbors Enze Han, 2019-08-12. Is the process of state building a unilateral national venture or is it something more collaborative taking place in the interstices between adjoining countries? To answer this question, Asymmetrical Neighbors takes a comparative look at the state building process along China, Myanmar and Thailand's common borderland area. It shows that the variations in state building among these neighboring countries are the result of an interactive process that occurs across national boundaries. Departing from existing approaches that look at such processes from the angle of singular bounded territorial states, the book argues that a more fruitful method is to examine how state and nation building in one country can influence and be influenced by the same processes across borders. It argues that the success or failure of one country's state building is a process that extends beyond domestic factors such as war preparation, political institutions and geographic and demographic variables. Rather, it shows that we should conceptualize state building as an interactive process heavily influenced by a neighborhood effect. Furthermore, the book moves beyond the academic boundaries that divide arbitrarily China studies and Southeast Asian studies by providing an analysis that ties the state and nation building processes in China with those of Southeast Asia.
