Joseph Fracchia,2021-12-20 In a seemingly offhand often overlooked comment Karl Marx deemed human corporeal organisation the first fact of human history Following Marx s corporeal turn and pursuing the radical implications of his corporeal insight this book undertakes a reconstruction of the corporeal foundations of historical materialism Part I exposes the corporeal roots of Marx s materialist conception of history and historical materialist Wissenschaft Part II attempts a historical materialist mapping of human corporeal organisation Suggesting how to approach human histories up from their corporeal foundations Part III elaborates historical materialism as corporeal semiotics Part IV a case study of Marx s critique of capitalist socio economic and cultural forms reveals the corporeal foundations of that critique and the corporeal depth of his vision of human freedom and dignity Authoring the Past Jaume Aurell,2024-05-31

Authoring the Past surveys medieval Catalan historiography shedding light on the emergence and evolution of historical writing and autobiography in the Middle Ages on questions of authority and authorship and on the links between history and politics during the period Jaume Aurell examines texts from the late twelfth to the late fourteenth century including the Latin Gesta comitum Barcinonensium and four texts in medieval Catalan James I s Llibre dels fets the Crònica of Bernat Desclot the Crònica of Ramon Muntaner and the Crònica of Peter the Ceremonious and outlines the different motivations for the writing of each For Aurell these chronicles are not mere archaeological artifacts but rather documents that speak to their writers specific contemporary social and political purposes He argues that these Catalan counts and Aragonese kings were attempting to use their role as authors to legitimize their monarchical status their growing political and economic power and their aggressive expansionist policies in the Mediterranean By analyzing these texts alongside one another Aurell demonstrates the shifting contexts in which chronicles were conceived written and read throughout the Middle Ages The first study of its kind to make medieval Catalan writings available to English speaking audiences Authoring the Past will be of interest to scholars of history and comparative literature students of Hispanic and Romance medieval studies and medievalists who study the chronicle tradition in other languages Written on the Water Samuel Baker, 2010-07-08 The very word culture has traditionally evoked the land But when such writers as William Wordsworth Samuel Taylor Coleridge Lord Byron and later Matthew Arnold developed what would become the idea of modern culture they modeled that idea on Britain's imperial command of the sea Instead of locating the culture idea's beginnings in the dynamic between the country and the city Samuel Baker insists on taking into account the significance of water for that idea's development For the Romantics figures of the island the deluge and the sundering tide often convey the insularity of cultures understood to stand apart from the whole yet Baker writes the sea also stands in their poetry of culture as a reminder of the broader sphere of circulation in which the poet's work if not the poet's subject inheres Although other books treat the history of the idea of culture none synthesizes that history with the literary history of maritime empire Written on the Water tracks an uncanny interrelationship between ocean imagery and culturalist rhetoric of culture forward from the late Augustans to the mid Victorians In so doing it analyzes Wordsworth's pronounced ambivalence toward the sea Coleridge's sojourn as an imperial functionary in Malta Byron's cosmopolitan seafaring tales and Arnold's dual identity as poet of water and prose arbiter of culture It also considers Romanticism's classical inheritance arguing that the Lake Poets dissolved into the idea of culture the Virgilian system of pastoral georgic and epic modes of literature and life This compelling new study will engage any reader interested in the intellectual and literary history of Britain and the lived experience of British Romanticism
