Beyond The Dream Bandon Dunes:

Beyond the Dream Bruce Johnson, 1914-07-31 This is a story behind how difficult it was to get development approval for the Bandon Dunes Golf Resort concept what and how the necessary infrastructure was put in place to support the golf activity what distinguishes this golf resort from other golf resorts especially community oriented golf resorts and how the vision of Dream Golf was augmented to include a regional approach to coastal conservation To turn a vision into a permitted development meant confronting a complex land planning and public review process prescribed by state law After obtaining an initial development approval the team proceeded to design and oversee construction of the destination golf resort Over the years the resort grew and expanded beyond its original design program When most of the pieces of the master plan were in place the owner came up with a surprise He wasn't finished with his dream he wanted to build one more golf course something special but it wasn't allowed in the master plan As the story unfolded resulting changes produced an unforeseen outcome that took the initial dream golf vision beyond the dream present golfers with a more rugged untamed version of the game This new approach to the sport is in fact a return to the game's origins with a very deep bow to Charles Blair Macdonald 1856-1939 the father of American golf course architecture and one of the founders of the U S Golf Association This highly anticipated fourth course designed by renowned golf course architect Tom Doak along with Jim Urbina as detailed in Dream Golf will further enhance Bandon Dunes reputation as a place where golf really does seem to capture the ancient magic of the game
