Beyond Gdp Measuring Welfare And Assessing Sustainability:

Beyond GDP Marc Fleurbaey,Didier Blanchet,2013-05-09 Is GDP a good proxy for social welfare Building on economic theory this book confirms that it is not but also that most alternatives to it share its basic flaw i e a focus on specific aspects of people s lives without sufficiently taking account of people s values and goals A better approach is possible For Good Measure Advancing Research on Well-being Metrics Beyond GDP OECD,2018-11-27 The 2009 Commission on the Measurement of Economic Performance and Social Progress Stiglitz Sen Fitoussi Commission concluded that we should move away from over reliance on GDP when assessing a country s health towards a broader dashboard of indicators

Towards Sustainable Well-Being Anders Hayden,Céofride Gaudet,Jeffrey Wilson,2022-08-03 Towards Sustainable Well Being examines existing efforts and emerging possibilities to improve upon gross domestic product as the dominant indicator of economic and social performance Contributions from leading international and Canadian researchers in the field of beyond GDP measurement offer a rich range of perspectives on alternative ways to measure well being and sustainability along with lessons from around the world on how to bring those metrics into the policy process Key topics include the policy and political impacts of major beyond GDP measurement initiatives the most promising possibilities and policy applications for beyond GDP measurement key barriers to introducing beyond GDP metrics and complementary measures to ensure new measurements are not merely calculated but taken into account in policymaking The book highlights a distinction between a reformist beyond GDP vision which seeks to improve policymaking and quality of life within existing political and economic institutions and a transformative vision aiming for more fundamental change including a move beyond economic growth Illustrating the many advances that have occurred in Canada and internationally Towards Sustainable Well Being proposes next steps for both the reformist and transformative visions as well as possible common ground between them in the pursuit of sustainable well being

Measuring and Accounting for Environmental Public Goods Nicholas Z. Muller,Eli P. Fenichel,Mary Bohman,2025-04-02 Provides strategies and approaches for integrating natural capital into environmental statistics While the importance of natural resources and the contributions of the environment to welfare are apparent traditional national income and wealth accounting practices do not measure or value environmental public goods This volume examines the conceptual and empirical basis for integrating natural capital forests oceans and air into the economic and environmental statistics that inform public policy It offers innovative approaches to valuing nonmarket environmental goods and services including strategies for capturing heterogeneity in measurement across types of capital geography and individuals The chapters focus on measuring productivity with adjustments for pollution damage developing a microdata infrastructure to advance our understanding of the distribution of environmental amenities and hazards and estimating long run sustainable development indicators Case studies consider coastal assets forests and marine ecosystems and develop strategies for implementing specific environmental economic accounts such as environmental activity accounts and natural capital accounts for forests and the marine economy As national income accounting standards are updated to incorporate expanded guidance on issues related to natural capital this timely book will help inform decisions on the measurement and treatment of climate air water and other public goods Prioritarianism in Practice Matthew D. Adler,Ole F. Norheim,2022-04-21

Prioritarianism is an ethical theory that gives extra weight to the well being of the worse off In contrast dominant policy evaluation methodologies such as benefit cost analysis cost effectiveness analysis and utilitarianism ignore or downplay issues of fair distribution Based on a research group founded by the editors this important book is the first to show how prioritarianism can be used to assess governmental policies and evaluate societal conditions This book uses prioritarianism as a methodology to evaluate governmental policy across a variety of policy domains taxation health policy risk regulation education climate policy and the COVID 19 pandemic It is also the first to demonstrate how prioritarianism improves on GDP as an indicator of a society s progress over time Edited by two senior figures in the field with contributions from some of the world s leading economists this volume bridges the gap from the theory of prioritarianism to its practical application A

Political Economy of Justice Danielle Allen,Yochai Benkler,Leah Downey,Rebecca Henderson,Josh Simons,2022-04-29 If we all agree that our current social political moment is tenuous and unsustainable and indeed that may be the only thing we can agree on right now then how do markets governments and people interact in this next era of capitalist societies In A Political Economy of Justice a team of luminary social scientists consider the strained state of our political economy in terms of where it can go from here We look squarely at how normative and positive questions about political economy interact with each other the editors write From that beginning we aspire to chart a way forward to a just economy Across 14 essays that blister with relevance to our moment as a society and polity A Political Economy of Justice sketches the boundaries of a new theory of justice the measures of a just political economy the role of firms the roles of institutions and governments The editors introduction makes clear that these are no half effort book chapters from busy luminaries they are wholly original works born of a set of guiding principles and deeply communally edited The result they hope is something greater than what is typically achieved by an academic volume The Solidarity Solution Kristi A. Foundations of Real-World Economics John Komlos, 2023-03-20 The 2008 financial crisis the rise of Trumpism and the other populist movements which have followed in their wake have grown out of the frustrations of those hurt by the economic policies advocated by conventional economists for generations Despite this textbooks remain frozen in time continuing to uphold traditional policies as though nothing has happened Foundations of Real World Economics demonstrates how misleading it can be to apply oversimplified models of perfect competition to the real world The math works well on college blackboards but not so well on the Main Streets of America This volume explores the realities of oligopolies the real impact of the minimum wage the double edged sword of free trade and other ways in which powerful institutions cause distortions in mainstream models Bringing together the work of key scholars like Kahneman Minsky and Schumpeter this textbook takes into consideration the inefficiencies that arise when the perfectly competitive model is applied to the real world dominated by multinational oligopolies The third edition has been updated throughout bringing in new material on the financial crises the rise of populism racism inequality climate change and the Covid 19 pandemic A must have for students studying the principles of economics as well as micro and macroeconomics this textbook redresses the existing imbalance in economic teaching as John Komlos focuses on the paradigm of humanistic economics

Sustainable Consumption and Care Aurianne Stroude, Laurence Godin, Barbara Smetschka, Gabriella Spinelli, 2025-03-31 Sustainable consumption is an essential element for the transition towards sustainable lifestyles In our daily lives care is intertwined with processes of looking after oneself family households and friends as well as distant others and the community as a whole As such it addresses all planes of human lives From a sustainability perspective care also relates to the living environment and the resources necessary for production and consumption Looking at sustainable consumption through the lens of care offers us conceptual tools to reframe how to safeguard the planet its biodiversity and the people living on it In a classic definition care is summarized as a species activity that includes everything that we do to maintain continue and repair our world so that we can live in it as well as possible Fisher and Tronto 1991 mention that world includes our bodies our selves and our environment all of which we seek to interweave in a complex life sustaining web Care highlights our vulnerability as living beings and the way a complex network of life sustaining relationships holds us responsible to each other Care is thus a significant thread that links together the ecological economic social and political systems we act within with important implications for sustainable consumption and building sustainable societies Scholarship on how care and sustainable practices interact is fragmented but the interest is growing Care originates in feminist scholarship first developed in relation to health In more recent years its uses have been also expanding to environmental and sustainability realms Today the work on sustainable consumption and care can be roughly divided into four categories The first area of work relates to whether ethical or political consumption can allow caring relations to flourish and develop The second area of research is concerned with sustainability in the context of motherhood mostly showing how gender relations and caring activities tend to send sustainability in the background in favor of a focus on health A third and growing body of work pertains to how inconspicuous consumption is intertwined with care activities for example in relation to food or energy consumption Such work also addresses gender and social inequalities in sustainable consumption as well as notions of communities built through consumption practices and caring relations Finally care as a dimension of geographical communities or communities of interest that supports sustainability and resilience is also gaining traction The goal of this Research Topic is to delineate and differentiate the interplay between sustainable consumption and care We are interested in care in the context of sustainable consumption including social economic and ecological sustainability Resource use and material energy and time demand differ widely amongst caring practices We want to identify and explore tensions common ground innovations and key issues in these areas We consider care as a useful concept to imagine and bring about societies oriented towards sustainable wellbeing and to define the pathways and practices necessary to achieve them As we wish to define a new research area this topic aims to discuss the interrelation between care and sustainability by addressing but not limited to the following themes from a variety of perspectives amongst others feminism gender studies and intersectional approaches socio technical systems social practice theories critical theory transformative approaches time use studies socio ecological transformation or Actor Network Theory An ethos of care as a pathway towards more sustainable forms of production and consumption Conceptualizing needs and wellbeing through the lens of care Analyzing caring practices from a perspective of climate change resource use and energy demands Methodological implications of care and an intersectional feminist approach to sustainable consumption Time for care in the unpaid and paid world of work incl commodification and outsourcing of care in the global economy Teleoaffectivities emotions the body and social norms Agency social and environmental justice inequalities and sustainable wellbeing Care for the community and the public good as a way towards a more sustainable society We are particularly interested in original research methodological and theoretical papers case studies as well as policy and practice reviews
