Beyond Networked City Infrastructure Reconfigurations:

Beyond the Networked City Olivier Coutard, Jonathan Rutherford, 2015-12-14 Cities around the world are undergoing profound changes In this global era we live in a world of rising knowledge economies digital technologies and awareness of environmental issues The so called modern infrastructural ideal of spatially and socially ubiquitous centrally governed infrastructures providing exclusive homogeneous services over extensive areas has been the standard of reference for the provision of basic essential services such as water and energy supply This book argues that after decades of undisputed domination this ideal is being increasingly questioned and that the network ideology that supports it may be waning In order to begin exploring the highly diverse fluid and unstable landscapes emerging beyond the networked city this book identifies dynamics through which a break with previous configurations has been operated and new brittle zones of socio technical controversy through which urban infrastructure and its wider meaning are being negotiated and fought over It uncovers across a diverse set of urban contexts new ways in which processes of urbanization and infrastructure production are being combined with crucial sociopolitical implications through shifting political economies of infrastructure which rework resource distribution and value creation through new infrastructural spaces and territorialities which rebundle socio technical systems for particular interests and claims and through changing offsets between individual and collective appropriation experience and mobilization of infrastructure With contributions from leading authorities in the field and drawing on theoretical advances and original empirical material this book is a major contribution to an ongoing infrastructural turn in urban studies and will be of interest to all those concerned by the diverse forms and contested outcomes of contemporary urban change across North and South

Rethinking Smart Urbanism Prince K. Guma, 2021-01-03 Rethinking

Smart Urbanism is an empirical exploration of the multiple ways in which cities and infrastructures are constructed and reconstructed through ICT innovation and appropriation Drawing on the case of Kenya s capital Nairobi the study explains existing infrastructure constellations through countervailing processes and rationalities in the context of splintered urbanism In doing so the study examines the relationship between urban plans and digital infrastructure development place based contexts that shape digital infrastructures and the extent to which these infrastructures facilitate utility companies ambitions of extending centralized networks to new territories It draws on the theoretical and empirical base of urban and infrastructure studies particularly in the fields of smart urbanism postcolonial urbanism and Science and Technology Studies Methodologically the study adopts a qualitative research design and presents in depth case studies that combine ethnographic methods with a thorough investigation of written sources Ultimately it is hoped to enhance our understanding of urban and digital possibilities and add new insights to debates on technology and urbanity in Africa and beyond

Handbook of Infrastructures and Cities Olivier Coutard, Daniel Florentin, 2024-04-12 Contributing towards a thriving research area this comprehensive Handbook presents a broad discussion of infrastructure as social phenomena It compiles diverse perspectives to delineate the current infrastructural turn and assess policy and research challenges relating to contemporary forms of infrastructural development Urban Infrastructure Remo Dalla Longa, 2023-03-01 The book deals with the concept of urban infrastructure and the strong evolution of globalization in particular the driving force taken by global cities Urban infrastructure is a constituent part of the global cities both have a synergistic evolution The main reference is to western global cities in the intertwining of financialization settling and brownfield which is a little different from the urbanization of other global cities of other non developed countries or emerging countries There is therefore a significant link between globalization and urban infrastructure The occurrence of slowbalization can have consequences on urban areas infrastructures and more generally on the different dichotomy between global city and nation With the pandemic infectious and the post COVID there is already a different configuration between the global city and the rest of the national territory A driving element of the urban infrastructure and the global city has been the financialization and identification of assets within global cities Urban infrastructure as an asset has grown considerably in the last two decades in the wake of what has already been highlighted previously for real estate There are contiguous issues that affect the concept of urban infrastructures and they are the enormous growth of finance and the landings of this in the great cities of the world with investments that first involved Real Estate and then urban infrastructures There has also been a technological revolution that has merged the ubiquitous technological infrastructure with other more traditional components of the infrastructure even apparently recent themes such as smart cities come from this evolutionary trend and merge with urban infrastructures The theme of smart cities if properly interpreted gives strength to the concept of urban infrastructure Fragments of the City Colin McFarlane, 2021-10-05 Pursuing fragments Pulling together falling apart Knowing fragments Writing in fragments

Political framings Walking cities In completion Making Spaces through Infrastructure Marian Burchardt,Dirk Laak,2023-07-04 Infrastructures are fundamental means through which societies create spaces but little is known about the precise ways in which this occurs How have infrastructures animated certain understandings of space How do infrastructures stabilize or undermine the spatial formats in which we live which shape our everyday practices and which regulate access to services and resources And conversely how do spaces frame the ways infrastructural provision is organized How do existing spaces shape infrastructural development and the scope and forms of access to vital services such as transport and water In this volume historians and sociologists draw on a range of fascinating case studies and provide compelling answers to these questions Exploring among others the provision of irrigation water in nineteenth century Los Angeles the invention of airport transit zones and the infrastructural practices of homeless people in Berlin the book demonstrates how the making of spaces through infrastructure is deeply political Intent on revealing uneven geographies of provision and hierarchies of access the contributors highlight how infrastructures are products of global entanglements
