

A sepia-toned photograph of a coastal scene. In the foreground, there is a body of water with gentle ripples. In the middle ground, a long wooden pier or dock extends from the left towards the center. To the right of the pier, there is a small, simple wooden building with a gabled roof. The background consists of a steep, grassy hill or cliff covered with dense trees. The overall tone is nostalgic and serene.

The Passage Vance Palmer, 1944 Companion to Vance Palmer The Passage Alick Robert Mitchell, 1965 Vance Palmer Harry P. Heseltine, 1970 Time, Tide and History Brigid Rooney, Fiona Morrison, 2024-06-01

Time Tide and History Eleanor Dark's Fiction is the first book length edited collection of scholarly essays to treat the full span of Eleanor Dark's fiction advancing a recent revival of critical and scholarly interest in Dark's writing This volume not only establishes a new view of Dark's fiction as a whole but also reflects on the ways in which her fiction speaks to our present moment in the context of a globally fraught post pandemic Anthropocene era Above all the revisiting of Dark's fiction is mandated by a desire to recognise the ways in which it anticipates vital debates in Australian literary and national culture today about settler colonialism and its legacies and with regard to the histories condition and status of Australia's First Nations people This volume interweaves varied topical themes from formal debates about modernism historical realism and melodrama to questions about modernity's time and space about gender and cultural difference and about the specifics of built and natural environments Time Tide and History intentionally loosens the conventions of literary scholarship by including other kinds of work alongside critical and scholarly readings a written dialogue between two contemporary historians about Dark's legacy and a biographical piece on the life and role of Eleanor Dark's husband Eric Payten Dark Bringing together the interwar fiction's feminist and modernist dimensions with the historical turn of The Timeless Land trilogy the essays in Time Tide and History collectively pursue ethical and political questions while teasing out the distinctive thematic formal and aesthetic features of Dark's fiction

Eccentric Visions Gaile McGregor, 1994-05-03 What this book represents is quite literally a slice of white Australian life By noting the patterns and parallels that emerge in a random sampling of social phenomena of widely varying types from soap operas to political behaviour Gaile McGregor has constructed a model that in its challenge to uniformitarianism is a test case in ethnographic theory Using methods ranging from the hermeneutic through the structuralist to the psychoanalytic McGregor deploys the self evidence of communal life and language to establish not only that all cultural phenomena are patterned but that this patterning is unique to and consistent across the entire system Further it not only influences but constrains the way the Australian conceptualizes codifies and expresses his her existential position Hence the Australian predilection for icons of intermediacy the verandah in architecture the bush in literature the beach in folk culture the middle ground in landscape painting the pub in everyday life This identification with buffer zones between inside and outside not only mimics the Australian's real bracketing between desert and ocean but embodies his her sense of disablement vis vis both culture and nature art and techne super ego and id all of which are coded as feminine

'A world-proof life' Marivic Wyndham, 2007-01-01 Eleanor Dark 1901 1985 is one of Australia's most celebrated writers of the inter war years Born with the twentieth century a Federation baby she published ten novels amongst them one of the best loved Australian stories of all time The Timeless Land Her life spanned successive global crises two world wars the economic depression of the 1930s the Cold War each issuing its own challenges to the artist and the people's writer she thought herself to be By far the most privileged writer of her generation her ultimate challenge was a personal one to unlock the gates of her world proof life to a society and a world in crisis The first cross cultural biography of this famous Australian writer Marivic Wyndham's rich and controversial portrait of Eleanor Dark is based on extensive research of the author's public and private lives A Career in Writing David John Carter,1993 This thesis examines the literary career of Judah Waten 1911-1985 in order to focus on a series of issues in Australian cultural history and theory The purpose is not to discover a single key to Waten's writing across the oeuvre but rather to plot the specific occasions of this writing in the context of the structure of a career and the cultural institutions within which it was formed Emperors in Lilliput Jim Davidson,2022-10-05 Lilliput in this dual biography is the world of literary magazines in Australia between the 1940s and the 1980s Here Clem Christesen and Stephen Murray Smith of the journals Meanjin and Overland were determined driven visionaries Both were very human and occasionally bruised believers in and workers for a better nation The book ranges from before the Menzies era and the Cold War through the Whitlam period and beyond to the challenges of the 1980s It shows how the editors constantly aimed for a culture more liberal diverse and developed than the one then prevailing Their publications may have lacked resources and economic return but they nonetheless possessed authority regularly providing stimulation for their readers and for the nation In finely wrought detail Jim Davidson the second editor of Meanjin traces the commitment of Christesen and Murray Smith to this ambitious cultural project and how it attracted many of the key writers and thinkers of those years There are pen portraits of many of them as the reader is taken behind the scenes Emperors in Lilliput exhibits the enlightened creative spirit animating these journals at their best It is at once captivating biography and rich social history By the Book Belinda McKay,Patrick Buckridge,2011-05-14 By the Book is an indispensable history of the literature of Queensland from its establishment as a separate colony in the mid nineteenth century through major economic political and cultural transformations to the beginning of the twenty first century Queensland figures in the Australian imagination as a frontier a place of wild landscapes and wilder politics but also as Australia's playground a soft tourist paradise of warm weather and golden beaches Based partly on real historical divergences from the rest of Australia these contradictory images have been questioned and scrutinised in Queensland literature for 150 years and writers today maintain that complicated imaginative relationship with the idea of Queensland as both different and paradoxical By the Book looks at Queensland literature in terms of its regional cultures while also devoting chapters to Indigenous writing writing for children and travel writing In the process it rediscovers lost literary traditions and forgotten writers to stir the imagination Re evaluations of early writers like Rosa Praed and George Essex Evans set contemporary writers like David Malouf Janette Turner Hospital and Venero Armanno in a new context Something Rich and Strange Sue Hosking,Susan Hosking,2009 Beaches are places of contact play confrontation and friction first comers always arrive on a beach After Europeans moved into the Antipodes the coast was the first frontier to be defined Flinders circumnavigation in 1802 had mapped Australia revealing the land as girt by sea as the national anthem continues to remind us All kinds of ideas about the coast beaches sea changes holiday places and islands swirl and eddy in this unique collection of writing Masterplots II Frank Northen Magill,1987 Includes more than 350 interpretative essays on the themes plots and techniques of works of twentieth century fiction published in England Ireland Canada India Nigeria and other areas of the British Commonwealth of Nations The Diaries of Miles Franklin Miles Franklin,2004 In the 50th anniversary year of Miles Franklin s death this book containing many of her diary entries and richly illustrated with photos and drawings will capture the hearts and minds of readers The Littoral Zone CA. Cranston,Robert Zeller,2007 In this the first collection of ecocritical essays devoted to Australian contexts and their writers Australian and USA scholars settlers invaders temporary visa holders comment on the transliteration of sea land and interior through the works of major and minor authors and through their own experience with the bioregion The littoral zone is the starting point in this fresh approach to reading literature and is organised around the natural environment rainforest desert mountains coast islands Antarctica There s the beach where sexual and spiritual crises occur the Wheatbelt area the most visible clearance line on the planet desert literature camel trekking and the transformation of a salt flat into an inland island New Age literature that appropriates Aborigines and their cultures as the healing poultice for an ailing and dispirited West a re examination of pastoralism and the feet of millions of sheep that have done unspeakable damage to soils an inquiry into whether Judith Wright s work can persuade us to rejoice in the world an investigation of the Limestone Plains home of the bush capital and the bogong moth of bananas cane toads and the Great Barrier Reef in tropic Queensland of national parks and guesthouses where the mountains meet the sea a discursive approach to temperate islands that covers sealing Soldier Settlement and sea country pastoral and finally to Antarctica where an initial utopian approach gives way to an emphasis on its stark timeless icescape as a minimalist backdrop for human dramas The author terrain is no less grand in its scope poets playwrights novelists and non fiction writers are discussed across the broad range of contexts that constitutes the littoral zone known as Australia The Enchantment of English Dale, Leigh,2012-11-28 The Enchantment of English is a study of the teaching of English in Australian universities from its beginnings in the second half of the 19th century through to the 1960s and 1970s a period in which universities proliferated and diversified Written from the belief that every discipline is enhanced by understanding the arguments made for its existence and the conditions in which it was established the author aims to help students and colleagues to think critically about the impact of institutional location in forming our habits of mind Amidst these stories of politics critical debates scrambling for appointments in specific areas and disputes about the need to satisfy the demands of students and the public for usefulness this history reveals something intangible but durable the power of the literary text over the imagination and the power of the idea of England and its writers as a basis and motive for reading and study hence The Enchantment of English The Cambridge History of Australian Literature Peter
