either think our lives are so special that everyone should be interested in what's happened to us or so ordinary that we can't imagine anyone would care. The truth lies somewhere in between: yes, we are all special, and no, people will not care unless we write with them in mind. Joanne Fedler, a beloved writing teacher and mentor, has written Your Story to help all people, even those who don't necessarily identify as writers, value their life stories and write them in such a way that they transcend the personal and speak into a universal story. She shows how to write from your life but for the benefit of others. Filled with practical wisdom and tools, this book tackles mind-set issues that prevent us from writing ways to develop trust in yourself, the process, the mystery, triggers or prompts to elicit our own stories. Joanne's original techniques for lifewriting, developed over a decade of teaching and mentoring, and much more. Joanne understands the writer's loneliness, says one such writer whose life she's touched: the award-winning author Nava Semel. In this book, she has created a menu of encouraging possibilities on how to overcome our fears and dig deep into our souls so that our true voice can emerge. Seeking

Heidebrecht, 2024-04-26 2020. Yeah, that! Everything stopped except Marg Heidebrecht's habit of writing for ninety minutes a day. Four years, forty essays later, the author of In the Shade, Friendship Loss, and the Bruce Trail provides us with this new collection. Intended as a legacy for family and friends, her insights and humour will be appreciated by others trying to make sense of their own lives in a world that's constantly changing. The World in Books Kenneth C. Davis, 2024-10-08

From ancient times to the present day, The World in Books offers a wide-ranging historical education through pleasure reading and a fantastic introduction to some of the most thought-provoking, profound, and interesting nonfiction works of all time. From Sun Tzu's The Art of War to bell hooks's All About Love, as well as such recent classics as Barbara Ehrenreich's Nickel and Dimed and Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie's We Should All Be Feminists, Davis's guide suggests a world of nonfiction books and explains just why they're so historically meaningful and culturally relevant today. The Women's Guide to Successful

Investing Nancy Tengler, 2023-09-07. It is no secret that women are increasingly controlling wealth. Estimates suggest that women control more than 50% of all wealth and are growing. Importantly, 95% of women will be their family's primary financial decision maker at some point in their lives. Yet recent studies show that Millennial women are deferring financial and investing decisions at a greater pace than Baby Boomer women. Targeted to all women with a clear recognition that though the objectives and needs of this vast segment may not necessarily be homogeneous, women share common challenges when it comes to investing. This book provides clear instruction and a series of Intelligent Investing Rules for women to live by, especially in these times with sticky and persistent inflation and rising interest rates. The Women's Guide to Successful Investing demonstrates how women can develop the knowledge and skills required to accumulate wealth and build an investment portfolio for the long term Providing proven wealth accumulation strategies tailored advice and a comprehensive market analysis this second edition is a must read for female investors who want to master volatile markets with long term success Written by a female CEO CIO and investment manager whose career has spanned 38 years the book offers a much needed blueprint for investments for women

Writing Lives is the Devil Gale E. Christianson,1993 Rather than offer a how to guide or art of biography Christianson delves anecdotally into what does not get into the finished biography He makes the reader a partner to the creative struggle to the gathering of the mounds of information to the sifting and the winnowing to the writing and the rewriting to the small triumphs and the nagging doubts when commitment fails to imitate art as seems inevitable nothing more and nothing less than the personal reflections of a biographer at work

Soul Friends Stephen Cope, 2017-04-04 Most of us will have many friends throughout our lifetimes friends of all shapes sizes and callings Many of these are wonderful meaningful friendships Some are difficult But some magic few of these are connections that have gone right to our soul These five or seven or ten friendships have been powerful keys to determining who we have become and who we will become These are the people I call Soul Friends As the Senior Scholar in Residence for over 25 years at the renowned Kripalu Center Stephen Cope has spent decades investigating and writing about the integration of body mind and spirit and the rich complexity of our relationships with others and with ourselves Perhaps the central truth that arises from his work is this human beings are universally wired for one thing vital connection with one another Soul Friends invites us on a compelling journey into the connectivity of the human psyche the study of which has fascinated scholars philosophers and thinkers for centuries Cope seamlessly blends science scholarship and storytelling drawing on his own life as well as the histories of famous figures from Eleanor Roosevelt to Charles Darwin to Queen Victoria whose formative relationships shed light on the nature of friendship itself In his exploration he distills human connection into six distinct yet interconnected mechanisms containment twinship adversity mirroring identification and conscious partnership Then he invites us to reflect on how these forms of connection appear in our own lives helping us work toward a fuller understanding of who we have become and who we will become Without a doubt the journey to our most fulfilled selves requires us to look within But in order to truly thrive we must make the most of who we are in relation to one another as well Unsparingly honest deeply wise and irresistibly readable Soul Friends gives us a map to find our way
