Gender, Nutrition, and the Human Right to Adequate Food Anne C. Bellows, Flavio L.S. Valente, Stefanie Lemke, María Daniela Núñez Burbano de Lara, 2015-12-07 This book introduces the human right to adequate food and nutrition as evolving concept and identifies two structural disconnects fueling food insecurity for a billion people and disproportionately affecting women children and rural food producers the separation of women s rights from their right to adequate food and nutrition and the fragmented attention to food as commodity and the medicalization of nutritional health Three conditions arising from these disconnects are discussed structural violence and discrimination frustrating the realization of women s human rights as well as their private and public contributions to food and nutrition security for all many women s experience of their and their children s simultaneously independent and intertwined subjectivities during pregnancy and breastfeeding being poorly understood in human rights law and abused by poorly regulated food and nutrition industry marketing practices and the neoliberal economic system s interference both with the autonomy and self determination of women and their communities and with the strengthening of sustainable diets based on democratically governed local food systems The book calls for a social movement led reconceptualization of the right to adequate food toward incorporating gender women s rights and nutrition based on the food sovereignty framework

Congressional-Executive Commission on China Annual Report 2015 , Research in Education ,1970 The art journal London ,1879 Religion and Social Development in Post-apartheid South Africa Ignatius Swart, Hermann Rocher, Sulina Green, Johannes Erasmus, 2010-10-01 It reflects original research and contributes to new developments in the field of theology and religion with regard to its developmental role within a transformation context The book may easily stand out in future as seminal in the way that it promoted the social development debate of the church and its organisational structures from an interdisciplinary focus Prof Antoinette Lombard Department of Social Work and Criminology University of Pretoria

Survey of British and Commonwealth Affairs ,1970 Making Religion and Human Rights at the United Nations Helge Årsheim, 2018-07-23 This volume examines the different and sometimes contradictory approaches of four UN human rights committees to the concept of religion Drawing on critical perspectives from religious studies the book combines a genealogical assessment of the role of religion in international law with a detailed textual study of the reporting practice of the committees monitoring racial discrimination civil and political rights women s rights and children s rights Årsheim argues that the role of religion within the rights traditions monitored by the committees varies to the extent that their recommendations risk contradicting one another thereby undermining their credibility and potential to bring about real change on the ground Where some committees view religion singularly as a core individual right others see religion partly as an inherent threat to the realization of other rights but also as a potent social force to be reckoned with In order to remedy this situation rsheim proposes the publication of a joint general comment by all the committees spelling out their approach to the role of religion in the implementation of human rights Continuous-progress Education Maurie Hillson, Joseph Bongo,1971 Senate Journal Wisconsin.
