Artistic Truth Aesthetics Discourse And Imaginative Disclosure:

Artistic Truth Lambert Zuidervart, 2004-10-18 It is unfashionable to talk about artistic truth Yet the issues traditionally addressed under that term have not disappeared Indeed questions concerning the role of the artist in society the relationship between art and knowledge and the validity of cultural interpretation have intensified Lambert Zuidervart challenges intellectual fashions He proposes a new critical hermeneutics of artistic truth that engages with both analytic and continental philosophies and illuminates the contemporary cultural scene People turn to the arts as a way of finding orientation in their lives communities and institutions But philosophers hamstrung by their own theories of truth have been unsuccessful in accounting for this common feature in our lives This book portrays artistic truth as a process of imaginative disclosure in which expectations of authenticity significance and integrity prevail Understood in this way truth becomes central to the aesthetic and social value of the arts Seeking Stillness or The Sound of Wings Hector Acero Ferrer, Michael DeMoor, Peter Enneson, Matthew Klaassen, 2021-03-11 Seeking Stillness or The Sound of Wings pays tribute to Lambert Zuidervart one of the most productive Reformational philosophers of the present generation by picking up the central concerns of his philosophical work art truth and society and working with the legacy of his published concern to see what more can be understood about our world in light of that legacy Zuidervart is an internationally recognized expert in critical theory especially the work of Theodor Adorno and a leading systematic philosopher in the reformational tradition His research and teaching range across continental philosophy epistemology social philosophy and philosophy of art with an emphasis on Kant Hegel Marx Heidegger Gadamer and Habermas He is currently developing a new conception of truth for an allegedly post truth society At the Institute for Christian Studies 2002 2016 Zuidervart held the Herman Dooyeweerd Chair in Social and Political Philosophy and served as founding Director of the Centre for Philosophy Religion and Social Ethics He was also an Associate Member of the Graduate Faculty and Full Professor status only in the Department of Philosophy at the University of Toronto and a member of the Advanced Degree Faculty at the Toronto School of Theology Zuidervart is currently a Visiting Scholar in the Department of Philosophy at Calvin University in Grand Rapids Michigan Seeking Stillness or The Sound of Wings seeks to promote new scholarship emerging from the rich and dynamic tradition of reformational intellectual inquiry Believing that all scholarly endeavor is rooted in and oriented by deep spiritual commitments reformational scholarship seeks to add its unique Christian voice to discussions about leading questions of life and society From this source it seeks to contribute to the redemptive transformation and renewal of the various aspects of contemporary society developing currents of thought that open human imagination to alternative future possibilities that may helpfully address the damage we find in present reality As part of this work Currents in Reformational thought will bring to light the inter and multi disciplinary dimensions of this intellectual tradition and promote reformational scholarship that intentionally invites dialogue with other traditions or streams of thought After Thomas Kuhn: The Structure of Aesthetic Revolutions

Oana Șerban,2022-11-07 This book reflects the most recent research devoted to a systematized perspective and a critical reconstruction of previous theoretical attempts of explaining justifying and continuing Kuhn's ingenious hypothesis in arts Hofstadter Clignet and Habermas revealed to be the most engaged scholars in solving this aesthetic puzzled problem In this context the structural similarities between science and arts are attentively evaluated thus satisfying an older concern attributed to the historical Kuhn Kubler dispute extensively commented along the pages of this book How can we track the matter of rationality and truth in art and aesthetics inspired by scientific perspectives Are artistic styles similar to scientific paradigms Are we entitled to pursue paradigms and masterpieces as rational models in science respectively in arts On what possible grounds can we borrow from science notions such as progress and predictability in the study of the evolution of art and its aesthetic backgrounds Are the historical dynamics of science and art affected by political factors in the same manner This book will be of interest to philosophers but also to historians of science and historians of art alike in the reassessment it provides of recent debates on reshaping the art world using Kuhn's paradigm shift Music as Thought Mark Evan

Bonds,2015-07-28 Before the nineteenth century instrumental music was considered inferior to vocal music Kant described wordless music as more pleasure than culture and Rousseau dismissed it for its inability to convey concepts But by the early 1800s a dramatic shift was under way Purely instrumental music was now being hailed as a means to knowledge and embraced precisely because of its independence from the limits of language What had once been perceived as entertainment was heard increasingly as a vehicle of thought Listening had become a way of knowing Music as Thought traces the roots of this fundamental shift in attitudes toward listening in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries Focusing on responses to the symphony in the age of Beethoven Mark Evan Bonds draws on contemporary accounts and a range of sources philosophical literary political and musical to reveal how this music was experienced by those who heard it first Music as Thought is a fascinating reinterpretation of the causes and effects of a revolution in listening Architectural book investigates humanities social sciences and politics from the perspective of the concept of creation order It is the second volume in a series that provides a unique and topical overview of attempts to assess the current health of the concept of creation order within Reformational philosophy when it is compared with other perspectives Divided into a section on fundamental reflections and a section on normative practices it discusses issues such as redemption beauty nature love justice morality and ethics It concludes with discussions on a practice based theory to explain religion in international relations and a normative model for the practice of cooperation in development This series reflects the role that the branch of Christian philosophy called Reformational philosophy plays in the discussion on the status of laws of nature Ever since its inception almost a century ago the concepts of order and law principle structure have been at the heart of this philosophy One way to characterise this tradition is as a philosophy of creation order Firmly rejecting both scholastic metaphysics and Deism Reformational philosophers have maintained the notion of law as holding for reality Questions have arisen about the nature of such law is it a religious or philosophical concept does law just mean orderliness How does it relate to laws of nature Have they always existed or do they emerge during the process of evolution Eyes Wide Open William D. Romanowski, 2007-02-01 Grounded in Christian principles this accessible and engaging book offers an informed and fascinating approach to popular culture William D Romanowski provides affectionate yet astute analysis of familiar well loved movies and television characters from Indiana Jones to Homer Simpson and he speaks with historical depth and expertise on films from Casablanca to Crash and music from Bruce Springsteen to U2 Romanowski's confessional approach affirms a role for popular culture in faithful living Practical analytical approaches to content meaning and artistic style offer the tools to participate responsibly and imaginatively in popular cultural activities An engaging read this new edition introduces students and thoughtful readers to popular culture one of the most influential forces in contemporary society Introducing Radical Orthodoxy James K. A. Smith, 2004-12-01 Although God is making a comeback in our society popular culture still takes its orders from the Enlightenment a movement that denied faith a prominent role in society Today many are questioning this elevation of reason over faith How should Christians respond to a secular world that continues to push faith to the margins While there is still no consensus concerning what a postmodern society should look like James K A Smith suggests that the answer is a reaffirmation of the belief that Jesus is Lord over all Smith traces the trends and directions of Radical Orthodoxy proposing that it can provide an old but new theology for a new generation of Christians This book will challenge and encourage pastors and thoughtful laypeople interested in learning more about currents in contemporary theology Immanent Frames John Caruana, Mark Cauchi, 2018-05-31 For some time now thinkers across the humanities and social sciences have increasingly called into question the once dominant view of the relationship between modernity and secularism prompting some to speak of a postsecular turn Until now film studies has largely been silent about this development even though cinema itself has been a major vehicle for such reflection This fact became inescapable in 2011

when Terrence Malick's The Tree of Life and Lars von Trier's Melancholia were released within days of each other. While these two audacious and controversial films present seemingly opposite perspectives—the former a thoughtful meditation on faith, the latter a portrayal of nontriumphalist atheism—together they raise critical questions about transcendence and immanence in modern life. These films are however only the most conspicuous of a growing body of works that call forth similar and related questions. What this collection aptly calls postsecular cinema. Taking the nearly simultaneous release of The Tree of Life and Melancholia as its starting point and framing device, this pioneering collection sets out to establish the idea of postsecular cinema as a distinct body of films and a viable critical category. Adopting a film philosophy approach, one group of essays examines Malick's and von Trier's films, while another looks at works by Chantal Akerman, Denis Arcand, the Dardenne brothers, and John Michael McDonagh, among others. The volume closes with two important interviews with Luc Dardenne and Jean-Luc Nancy that invite us to reflect more deeply on some of the central concerns of postsecular cinema.

The Prophetic Call to Love and Justice Arnold H. De Graaff, 2025-06-20 Scripture's compelling message of love and justice is powerfully relevant for today. The implications of the Amsterdam way of interpreting Scripture are evident throughout the book. It is both a personal and timely way of speaking to our disintegrating society. The Prophetic Call to Love and Justice provides a meaningful and radical yet simple way of re-connecting with the Bible. As one of the founders of the Amsterdam way of interpretation, Karel Deurloo stated: "The opportunity to learn anew and understand the language of the Bible has been taken away. Often the focus is on the assumed origin and history of a text, a historical literary approach or a fundamentalist view creating a fragmented moralistic and doctrinaire emphasis which has alienated many from churches. Instead, Deurloo and others focused on the prophetic meaning that speaks to all of us as the living word of God today. This alternative is rooted in the Hebrew Scriptures. Its abiding prophetic message of love and justice is reiterated in the Gospels and apostolic letters. Hence the choice of subtitle: Rediscovering the Old Testament. It is a joyful journey of discovery finding new meaning in the Bible for our lives."

The Democratic Theory of Hans-Georg Gadamer Darren Walhof, 2016-11-29 This book examines the distinctive contribution that the writings of Hans-Georg Gadamer make to democratic theory. Walhof argues that Gadamer's hermeneutical philosophy enlarges our perspective by shifting our view away from individual citizens to what exists between citizens, thereby allowing us to envision political realities that are otherwise hard to see. These realities include the disclosure of truth in democratic politics achieving common ground in democratic dialogue even amidst significant disagreement and diversity the public and political nature of the religious traditions that make claims on and shape citizens and the solidarities that connect us to each other and enable democratic action The author argues that bringing these dimensions to awareness enriches our theories of democracy and is particularly crucial in an era of hyper partisanship accelerating inequality and social conflicts involving racial sexual and religious identities

Screening the Art World Temenuga Trifonova, 2025-10-01 Screening the Art World explores the ways in which artists and the art world more generally have been represented in cinema Contributors address a rarely explored subject art in cinema rather than the art of cinema by considering films across genres historical periods and national cinemas in order to reflect on cinema's fluctuating imaginary of art and the art world The book examines the intersection of art history with history in cinema cinema's simultaneous affirmation and denigration of the idea of art as truth the dominant often contradictory ways in which artists have been represented on screen and cinematic representations of the art world's tenuous position between commercial good and cultural capital
