The XX Factor Alison Wolf, 2013-04-25 For most of history being female defined the limits of a woman's achievements But now women are successful careerists equal to men In Norway women legally must constitute a third of all boards in America women have gone from 3% of practising lawyers in 1970 to 40% today and over half of all law students These changes are revolutionary but not universal the sisterhood of working women is deeply divided Making enormous strides in the workplace are young educated full time professionals who have put children on hold But for a second group of women this is unattainable instead they work part time earn less are concentrated in heavily feminised occupations like cleaning and gain income and self worth from having children young As these two groups move ever further apart shared gender no longer automatically creates interests in common with other women The XX Factor lifts the curtain on these social cultural and economic schisms
