Jansen,2019-11-05 This volume brings together many of South Africa s leading scholars of education and covers the full range of South African schooling from financing and policy reform to in depth discussions of literacy numeracy teacher development and curriculum change The book moves beyond a historical analysis and provides an inside view of the questions South African scholars are now grappling with Are there different and preferential equilibria we have not yet thought of or explored and if so what are they In practical terms how does one get to a more equitable distribution of teachers resources and learning outcomes While decidedly local these questions resonate throughout the developing world South Africa today is the most unequal country in the world The richest 10% of South Africans lay claim to 65% of national income and 90% of national wealth This is the largest 90 10 gap in the world and one that is reflected in the schooling system Two decades after apartheid it is still the case that the life chances of most South African children are determined not by their ability or the result of hard work and determination but instead by the colour of their skin the province of their birth and the wealth of their parents Looking back on almost three decades of democracy in South Africa it is this stubbornness of inequality and its patterns of persistence that demands explanation justification and analysis This is a landmark book on basic education in South Africa an essential volume for those interested in learning outcomes and their inequality in South Africa The various chapters present conceptually and empirically sophisticated analyses of learning outcomes across divisions of race class and place The book brings together the wealth of decades of research output from top quality researchers to explore what has improved what has not and why Prof Lant Pritchett Harvard University There is much wisdom in this collection from many of the best education analysts in South Africa No surprise that they conclude that without a large and sustained expansion in well trained teachers early childhood education and adequate school resources South Africa will continue to sacrifice its people s future to maintaining the privileges of the few Prof Martin Carnoy Stanford University Altogether one can derive from this very valuable volume if not an exact blueprint for the future then certainly at least a crucial and evidence based itinerary for the next few steps Dr Luis Crouch RTI

Predicaments of Knowledge Suren Pillay, 2024-09 Predicaments of Knowledge explores the difficult questions South African universities face after apartheid Is there a difference between Africanising a university and decolonising a university What about differences between deracialising and decolonising the curricula taught at universities across disciplines Through a range of reflections on race language colonial postcolonial and decolonial knowledge projects from Africa and Latin America this book explores the pitfalls and possibilities that face a post apartheid generation inventing the future of knowledge The distinctions between Africanisation decolonisation and deracialisation are often conflated in the political demands put to universities Suren Pillay emphasises all three as important but distinct imperatives If an intervention is undertaken with the aim of decolonising the university while actually addressing deracialisation it can undermine the effort to decolonise Similarly if an initiative to Africanise the university does not address decolonisation both processes can be undermined Drawing on more than two and a half decades of the author's participation in these debates these essays aim to intervene in and elucidate questions and predicaments rather than offering blue prints they are dialogical in spirit even when polemical in tone In conversation with existing continental African and Latin American experiences they offer incisive reflections on current South African debates

Decolonisation in Universities Jonathan Jansen, 2019-08-01 In this collection of case studies and stories from the field South African scholars come together to trade stories on how to decolonise the university Shortly after the giant bronze statue of Cecil John Rhodes came down at the University of Cape Town student protestors called for the decolonisation of universities It was a word hardly heard in South Africa s struggle lexicon and many asked What exactly is decolonisation This edited volume brings together the best minds in curriculum theory to address this important question In the process several critical questions are raised Is decolonisation simply a slogan for addressing other pressing concerns on campuses and in society What is the colonial legacy with respect to curriculum and can it be undone How is the project of curriculum decolonisation similar to or different from the quest for postcolonial knowledge indigenous knowledge or a critical theory of knowledge What does decolonisation mean in a digital age where relationships between knowledge and power are shifting The book combines strong conceptual analyses with novel case studies of attempts to do decolonisation in settings as diverse as South Africa Uganda Tanzania and Mauritius Such a comparative perspective enables reasonable judgements to be made about the prospects for institutional take up within the curriculum of century old universities
